The sound more at the chance of come and make their home like. And yet, in spite of the great headings of a market their home highes, in spite of the great benefits they have brought to generations of Americans, they can be destroyed. History shows the street principles and standards do not survive just because they are interested, unless they are appreciated, unless they are considered to the school. The street principles and standards of the school of

Gov. Williams replaced the state labor commissioner. John Reid, with a UAW official from Landsing, Russell White. Reid immediately charged the UAW forced his resignation.

He charged that the union wanted to use the department to harrass employers. Two weeks after replacing Reid and a week after Reid made his charges, will whole heartedly from our Asian heighbor.

Still another controversy involves a letter written by Alfred Fitt, the governor's legal advisor, to the state parole board asking that Pete Mahoney, prison immate be released.

The letter argued that Mahoney, sentenced for armed robbery, was given a stiff term — 25 to 40 years—because officials felt he knew something labout the murder of former State Senator Warren G. Hooper.
