Bald, Taggart Speak Vows Saturday Nite

At a 7 p.m. candlelight service at the Redford Presbyterian Church Saturday, October 11, Catherine Alice Bald of 2002 Kinloch, Redford, became the bride of James H. Taggart of 21725 Colgate, Farmington. The wedding ceremony was performed by Dr. Harry Rina DeYoung of that church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Bald and the bridegroom the son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Taggart. The bride wore a gown of lace and net over tulle featuring a scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. A crown of pearls and sequins held a drooping veil in place.

She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and Amazon lilies.

Sharon Spicknell, a cousin of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a turquoise gown and carried yellow lilies.

Thomas Taggart, brother of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Douglas Bald and Tim Spicknell.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bald chose a pink lace dress with matching accessories. Mrs. Taggart wore a beige lace dress with accessories to match. Both wore Amazon lilies corsages.

Following the church service, a reception was held at Huck's Redford Inn.

Out-of-town guests came from Midland, Ontario and Cleveland, Ohio.

The newlyweds are now on a wedding trip in northern Michigan. They will make their home in Farmington upon their return. For traveling the bride chose a green wool dress with a white belt.

A 1955 graduate of Redford High, the new Mrs. Taggart is employed at Franklin Products. Taggart is employed with the A. E. Pierce Construction Company. A 1953 graduate of Farmington High, he served in the Army until 1956.

Says Detroit Polio Epidemic Could Hit Here

The current polio epidemic in Detroit is a vivid reminder that paralytic polio will remain a threat to every community in the nation as long as millions of Americans neglect vaccination, the Rev. G. Burton Hodgson, chairman of the Oakland County Chapter of the National P. H. S. declared this week.

"What is happening in Detroit could happen here," Mr. Hodgson said. "There are far too many unvaccinated individuals in our county and many others who have had only one or two shots. While expanding our program to include persons with birth defects, we must not lose sight of the third face of crippling-polio. It is still with us."

By the end of September more than 100 persons had been stricken with polio in Wayne County, half of them paralytic, and more cases were being reported each day, the chapter chairman stated.

"While in Oakland County there has been a substantial increase in the number of polio cases, we have been fortunate that the polio rate has not approached the proportions of the Detroit epidemic," Mr. Hodgson said. "However, we want many of our children and young adults unvaccinated, we are probably as susceptible to an outbreak as Detroit."

The Wayne County Chapter of the National Foundation is now spending almost $50,000 per week on care of the victims of the epidemic.

The subdivision square dance last Saturday night was held at the home of Don and Irene Barth instead of at the Morgan's home due to the illness of Pat Morgan. Nine couples were present. Dessert and coffee was provided by Jean Radatz, Betty Gavrova and Irene Barth. The next dance is to be held on November 1. More details will be announced later.

Mrs. John Duss, mother of Dolly Grebliek, spent the week-end with the Greblieks.

The subdivision social committee has scheduled a card party for Wednesday, November 5, with the dual purpose of raising some capital for the committee and getting acquainted with the new residents.

Scenery for Coming Players' Presentation to Go Up Sunday

Scenery for the Farmington Players fall presentation, "The Hidden River," is now being readied to be moved onto the stage of the Farmington Junior High auditorium this Sunday, October 19, officials disclosed this week.

Designed, built and decorated to accurately picture the interior of a prosperous French manor house, the setting represents approximately 400 man (and woman) hours of effort by members of the Players' staging committee.

Don Briggs, Players president said, "The Hidden River" is a serious drama adapted from a successful novel, has been presented on Broadway and has enjoyed a stellar presentation at Network television. We feel fortunate to be the first amateur theatre group in the metropolitan area to present this new play. We think it is one of the few stories that can carry the Players' reputation forward from the staging of "Present Laughter" last May and "My Three Angels" last winter.

"Because 'The Hidden River' is good literature, free from suggestive and doubtful innuendoes, we want to encourage young people to attend," Briggs went on. Therefore, the Players' Board of directors have authorized half-price admission for youth.

N. E. Women's Family Night Set

The fifth annual Family Night Party at the Redford Farmington Colony of New England Women will be held on October 25th at Sorenson House on Spinoza Drive at Warren Avenue.

Pictures of points of interest in New England will be shown by James Taylor at 7 p.m. followed by the serving of dessert and coffee.

As a follow-up to the party, a business meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wesley G. Britton on Winthrop Avenue on November 1. Preceding this will be a talk by Walter A. Sahli, District Director of Immigration and Naturalization Service. A dessert tea will follow adjournment.

Dinner, Dance For James Lawson Set

James P. Lawson of Farmington, Democratic candidate for prosecuting attorney of Oakland County, and his family will be honored at a dinner and dance to be held at Carpenter Hall, 22511 Grand River, Redford, on Thursday, October 23, at 7 p.m.

Music will be provided by a live orchestra and a floor show presented by the Valpe's Dance Group.

Tickets can be obtained by calling James Ginn at Elgin 7-1344.
