Summer has arrived no matter what the calendar on the wall shows. Memorial Day weekend saw folks in swimming for the first time and all types of outdoor activities in full force. Barbecue grills were all in use and all the summer duds have been hauled out of their winter hiding places.

Chuch and Phyllis Nolte held an outdoor Saturday night barbecue in honor of Paul's brother and his wife, Leo Lore Light and their children Linda, Lee and Layton from St. Louis, Missouri who are the Noltes house guests this week. Alice and Bill Seigler, Arlene and Bill Robinson, Pat and John Lukina and their respective children also attended the pork barbecue with all the trimmings.

THE McCOUGHS and the Hopkins family held a roast for the children in the surrounding block Saturday evening at the pump house lot. The Himman, Palarchio, Stephan, Lupia and

The holiday weekend was spent by the majority of families in Bel-Aire right at home! Planting, mowing, raking, seeding, etc., were undertaken with vigorous enthusiasm. By Sunday evening many hard-working homeowners were contemplating cementing the whole yard and painting it green. Then too, the thought of just roughing it with all weeds and no grass seemed like an exceptionally good idea!

And then there were our more fortunate residents who enjoyed short excursions and even three-day jaunts.

AN EXCITING day at the races was enjoyed by Ken and Kay Ockerman of Lamar, the Ockermans left Farmington Friday and stayed in Muncie, Indiana. Friday evening they took in the "Little 500" roadster race. The winner was racing the hardtop previously owned by Ken, a racing enthusiast. Ken is right at home at the Indianapolis Speedway Saturday, May 30, and were able to watch a tremendous amount of activity!

A trip to the Indianapolis races also proved to be a thrilling weekend for Carl and Marlene Brodie of Marblehead and Carl's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. A. Kelsey. The Brodies left Friday night at 11:00 on the Kirby Special and arrived in Indianapolis Saturday morning. Saturday was spent in the company of the Ockermans of Lamar. Guests for the month were Kay's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dunham of Avon Park, Florida. Special event of the month was the May 16 wedding of Kay's brother, Charles Dunham to Margaret Rhind, both of Detroit. The new wedded pair are presently residing in Kansas where Charles is at the races, a new and exciting experience for him!

All meals were enjoyed by the children and a bon lunch was provided for them while at the track. Arrival in Detroit was Saturday evening. They reported the full day of racing and they'd like to repeat next year!

SWIMMING, boating and fishing at Waterloo State Park provided a wonderful weekend for two Bel-Aire families. The Pappas (Frank, Barbara, Vicki, 11, Lorelei, 7, and Nadine, 3) of Marblehead, and the Trombleys (Ken, Ruth, Pam, 12, Barbara, Lorelei, 7, and Nadine, 3) of Leelanau.

The Engstroms of Beacon (Bill, Doris, Sherrie, 10, Jimmy, 8, and Connie, 2) and Bill's mother, Mrs. Evelyn Engstrom, spent the weekend visiting Bill's sister, Marilyn, her husband, Dick, and their three month old daughter, Heidi, who are living in Hastings. Marilyn and Dick own a driving range in Hastings which greatly added to the enjoyment of the visit.

PROUDLY announcing the arrival of Darlene Bell and Audrey Merna of Leelanau. Darlene tipped the scale at 6 pounds, 5 ounces, at birth (May 27). Enjoying a new lifestyle recently proved to be "near-fatal" for Jack Moss of Leelanau. Jack discovered when sliding into the bag that when one foot goes one way and the other foot goes the other way something has to give... and give they did... three toes! A reminder of the game the shape of a cast will be with Jack for six or eight weeks!

The entire month of May was a busy one for the Ockerman family on Lamar. Guests for the month were Kay's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dunham of Avon Park, Florida. Special event of the month was the May 16 wedding of Kay's brother, Charles Dunham to Margaret Rhind, both of Detroit. The new

Rites Held For W. R. Gobeille

William Gobeille, 3226 Farmington Road, Farmington Township passes away suddenly, May 29th at the residence.

He was born in Chicago, Illinois April 9, 1881, the son of William P. and Catherine (O'Leary) Gobeille and had resided in Farmington four months, coming here from Wauwatosa, Wisconsin.

Besides his parents, he leaves two brothers and two sisters, Richard, Nancy, Paul and Betty Jane, all at home and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gobeille of Wauwatosa, Wisconsin and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. O'Leary of Riverdale, Illinois.

He was a senior of Farmington High School and had passed the entrance examinations for Purdue University. He was a member of the Farmington Senior Band, a member of the Wauwatosa, Wisconsin, and a member of the First Congregational Church of Wauwatosa.

Funeral services were held from the Spencer J. Honeyman Home at 2:00 p.m. Monday with Rev. Frank A. Copzad of the Orchard Methodist Church, Farmington, officiating.

Interment was in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens, Novi.

The walleye pike is a confirmed carnivore and its food consists chiefly of smaller fish, including other walleyes. Carp are bottom feeders. They root up the bottom of a lake or pond when they feed and keep the water roily so that plants can't grow. Brook trout feed mainly on insects, insect larvae, and small fish.

Cancer accounts for one in every six deaths from all causes in the United States. Every two minutes someone dies of this disease. Earlier detection and treatment by physicians could result in a much higher cure rate, according to the American Cancer Society.

It is located at Power Road. The bridge is scheduled for completion this fall.

State Forest Lands Recovering From Early 1900's Fire, Rage

Forest lands in Michigan have experienced an impressive recovery since the early 1900's when fires and axes leveled an alarming portion of the state. Several factors have been responsible for this recovery and among them is the Conservation Department's reforestation program.

More than 249,853,000 nursery trees have been planted in state forests since the Conservation Department's reforestation program. The first nursery was founded at Higgins Lake in 1903. These plantings have been made on more than 310,000 acres — of which 75 percent are considered successfully established — in 23 state forests.

In addition to this phase of reforestation, the Department offers young planting stock to private landowners at approximate production costs for such purposes as forest plantings, erosion control and farm windbreaks. Roughly 90 per cent of the stock placed on sale is pine.

Approximately 15-20 millions placed on sale each year from Department's three "tree factories" at Higgins Lake, Boyne Falls and Manistique. The Department also hopes to begin shipping young trees from its new nursery at Brighton next fall to satisfy the public demand for reforestation stock in the southern lower peninsula.

Michigan recently became the first state to reach the million acre mark for tree plantings on private, state and federal lands. State nurseries, including those of the Department and MSU, provided most of this planting stock. Commercial, federal and industrial nurseries contributed the remainder.

Reforestation, as part of the Department's entire forestry system, was initially designed to re-establish Michigan's pine forests for the production of wood and the creation of local economic stability.

More recently, the pendulum of public interest has swung heavily toward the use of forests for recreational and wildlife purposes.

As an index of this growth, Michigan leads all other states in hunting and fishing licenses sales — some 2,851,238 were sold during the 1957-58 fiscal year. The popularity of camping, hiking, picnicking and bird watching in forests has likewise soared in recent years.

Thus, today much of the Department's planting approach has been shifted to meet the needs of recreation and wildlife. With the state's population predicted to double in the next 25 years and the trend in the multiple use of forests firmly established, the Department's reforestation program will take on added significance in the years ahead.

HOW DOES YOUR TOWN MEASURE UP?

An industry always takes the measure of a town by thinking seriously of locating a plant there.

Make your own check list and measure your town for yourself.

You might start by marking yes or no on each of the following questions: Does your town have good industrial sites? Financing available for plant construction? Modern and adequate schools? Attractive shopping facilities? Pleasant residential sections? Well supported churches? Good streets and highways?

Progressive municipal government? Adequate public services? Widespread community spirit? Strong civic leadership? Wise zoning provisions? Good community planning?

If your check list shows much room for improvement, it indicates the job to be done.

Join hands with your local industrial development organization and the Michigan Economic Development Department to help your community prosper.
