Schafer, Oldfield Married at Sorrows

Rita Ann Schafer and George L. Oldfield were united in marriage at a Saturday Morning ceremony in Our Lady of Sorrows Church recently.

The Rev. Thomas P. Beahan officiated and extended a Papal Blessing to the couple.

Rita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Schafer of Drake Road.

CHANTILLY lace and white silk organza fashioned on princess lines, was Miss Schafer's choice of a bridal gown.

The empire waist was accented by contour folds of silk. The lace, a Sabrina neckline was embroidered with seed pearls and sequins as were the cascade down the bodice.

The full length of the chapel train, Herioton lace edged her veil of silk illusion held by a cup of jeweled lilies. She carried a bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. Alfred W. Dittich, Jr. was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Joyce Urban and Sharon O'Rourke. Flower girl was Patricia Lee Donovan, sister of the bride.

The attendants were attired alike in street length white silk organza over Madonna blue taffeta. Puffed re-embroidered necklines, full length skirts and accented the streamers of the large tailored bows fastened to the deep V. Neckline in back. Their accessories were white in harmony with their frocks. They carried blue figu mistle and wheat.

THE BRIDEGROOM son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Donovan, and the late Leonard Oldfield, was attended by Robert J. Wegener of Traverse City, as best man. The guests were Alvin Oldfield, brother of the groom. Gary Hamlin, Thomas Spero and Charles Snyder.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Schafer chose smoke pearl silk organza over taffeta. White accents completed her costume. Mrs. Donovan chose a pink embroidered sheath and white accessories.

The Schafer's terrace was the scene of the reception after the ceremony.

For traveling to Canada and Minnesota, the new Mrs. Oldfield wore a beige silk sheath with accents of white and tan.

The newbrides will make their home in Farmington.

Looking for Old Fair Programs

The 110th annual Michigan State Fair, slated to run from Sept. 4-13 at the fairgrounds in Detroit, should include a unique exhibit, hope officials.

They've put out a call for any old—prior to 1950—programs, premium books and photographs of past fairs. The officials want to offer guests a glimpse of how the State Fair has developed over the years.

After being exhibited, the old publications and photos will then be placed in the State Fair's archives.

If you've got any such items up in the attic, State Fair general manager Donald Swanson asked that they be mailed to the Michigan State Fair grounds, Woodward Avenue, Detroit.

The services of the Visiting Nurse Association are available to all who need them, regardless of ability to pay. The fee is $5 for a professional visit. The amount charged, however, is regulated to the patient's ability to pay. Last year, for instance, patients paid directly for 30 per cent of the visits. Half of these were at the full fee.

Say Enough Fluoride in Several Areas

Fifty Michigan communities have enough natural fluoride in their public water supplies so that they don't have to add supplementary fluorides to prevent tooth decay.

The state health department announced today that these 50 communities, with a combined population of 169,699, have at least seven-tenths of one part of fluoride per every million parts of water. This is the minimum amount that will cause a significant reduction in tooth decay.

The department said the most desirable fluoride concentration for Michigan is 1 ppm (part per million). Children who drink water with either a natural or adjusted fluoride content of 1 ppm have only one-third as many tooth decay during their lives as do children who drink water with little or no fluoride.

Several of the Michigan 50 communities whose water supplies have sufficient quantities of the decay-preventing ingredient have fluoride levels of 1 ppm. The levels among the 50 communities, several hundred are Michigan towns and cities are served by water with a natural fluoride content ranging from a trace up to 0.7 ppm. These communities, as well as those with no fluoride in their water, must add fluoride to achieve the 66 per cent reduction to tooth decay.

In the process of testing all public water supplies in Michigan for fluoride content. These tests are being run as a part of the department's routine tests on water supplies.

Visiting Nurses Aided Over 300 Here Last Year

The United Community Service reported last week that the Visiting Nurse Association, a Torch Drive agency, provided nursing services to 78 residents of Farmington and 230 living in Farmington Township last year.

The Association is made up of 162 persons who devote their time and efforts to providing professional services to persons in need through accident, childbirth, illness or old age. Last year, they made a total of 116,855 visits to 15,698 patients, which included 3,984 new-born babies.

These services are extended to residents of south Macomb County, all of Wayne County, south Oakland County and currently to the western townships of Oakland County.

Each morning, informed nurses take off from their bases at 4421 Woodbridge, 14807 Grand River and 8202 Mack, Detroit; 3042 First St., Wyandotte; 23207 Gratiot, East Detroit; 307 W. Sixth St., Royal Oak; and 18101 Oakwood, Dearborn on missions of mercy.

More than half the members of the Association, or 84, are professional nurses. Their work is always done under the direction of the physician in attendance. They are assisted in cases where needed by 19 practical nurses, one occupational therapist, two nutritionists, one casework consultant, 29 home aides and one part-time physician.

Their services are spread over more than 50 towns and cities with a total population of well over three million. In each community, they work in close cooperation with the medical profession, local health departments, community agencies, and educational institutions.

Any patient in need of the services offered by the Visiting Nurse Association is eligible under medical direction and living within the area served. Most cases are referred to the Association by friends, family, physicians, social workers or government agencies.

Almost half of the patients covered by the latest VNA report were new mothers, babies and health supervision cases who were served primarily for the purpose of preventing disease and promoting health. The other half were sick persons who received almost 80 per cent of the visits. Most of the sick patients had long term illness.

Services of the Visiting Nurse Association are available to all who need them, regardless of ability to pay. The fee is $5 for a professional visit. The amount charged, however, is regulated to the patient's ability to pay. Last year, for instance, patients paid directly for 30 per cent of the visits. Half of these were at the full fee.

The services of the Visiting Nurse Association are made available to the public through the generosity of contributions to the Torch Drive. Last year, for instance, the Association operated on a budget totaling $807,472.30, of which $111,912.54 came from patients' fees and $537,124 from the United Foundation and the public, coming from public and private funds.

Hill and Dale Gardeners Hold Floral Display

Featuring floral arrangements for every room of the home, the Hill and Dale Garden Club will present a Home Flower Show for its members and guests at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lentz, 32312 Farmerville road, today, August 13.

Various floral entries for each of the rooms of a home will be judged in the morning and by the time club members arrive in the afternoon, only the winning entries will be on display.

The officials set up two divisions in the show, one an artistic division and the other pertaining to horticulture. In the artistic portion of the show, entries must complement the respective room's decor as to colors, carpeting and furniture. The rooms include living room, dinette, bedrooms, dressing room and patio.

In the horticulture division, the club members will complete in various classes, including annuals, perennials, roses and others.

This will be the regular monthly meeting of the Hill and Dale Gardeners.

Rainy Day Fun For Youth Tips Given Parents

Save those old shoeboxes for a rainy day. They make a fine train when young minds are busy indoors, says Emily Hobbs, instructor in child development at Michigan State University.

Miss Hobbs offers other rainy day ideas designed to keep youngsters busy and interested. These require few materials and little clean-up. Once the child has an idea of how to use the materials, he can carry on by himself.

Plain or colored toothpicks are fun if you arrange them in fancy designs on the table. Or they can be stuck into a dry sponge, scouring pad, potato, lemon or apple.

Pipe cleaners team with big balloons and toothpicks for shaping figures. Cleaners allow twist into eyeglasses or dolls. Colored chalk can be used on paper as well as the blackboard. To keep chalk from rubbing off on arms and elbows, be sure the paper is wet, or the chalk is first dipped into water. Use paper plates with chalk or crayons for something different.

Modeling clay for poking and punching relieves boredom—but keep the clay in one place.

A SEPT. 15 wedding date has been set for the marriage of Miss Judith L. Clappison to Gerald Willacker. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clappison of Novi, formerly of Farmington. Her fiancé is the son of Martin Willacker of Southfield.

Speech Pupils Give Program

The 17th District Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its annual picnic at Cass-Park in Southfield Tuesday.

Several students from the Lancaster School of Expression, Farmington, assisted with the entertainment.

Having charge of the program was Miss Anne Sonnsmit. Pupils taking part were Judy Hennessy, Raul Wolf, Christine Koski, Vickie Wolf, Patty Jones, Philip Santo, Mary Jo, Mike McIntyre, Marilyn Hennessy and Stephen Jones.

U.S. colleges and universities spent nearly $1 billion on buildings and equipment last year.
