

Kendallarks Choral Group Plans Activities

The "Kendallarks" Choral Group opened the first meeting of the new 1959-60 season with a rehearsal at the home of Mrs. Paul L. Cosper, under the direction of the O. E. Ellegood, director of the O. E. Dundek Junior High choral department. Great enthusiasm was shown as the group selected several new choral selections as well as old favorites sung at their many guest appearances during the past two years.

New officers appointed to fill vacancies were Mr. E. A. Savely of Bel-Aire as treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Katter as publicity chairman, Mrs. P. L. Cosper, Mrs. R. E. Belanger and Mrs. R. E. Coffman will comprise the "Little Acts" Committee.

New members welcomed to the group were Mrs. F. J. Wright of Heathstone, Mrs. D. Little of Ridgebrook, Mrs. R. Kraft of Old Forge Lane, Mrs. C. J. Martin of Ridgebrook Manor, Mrs. E. K. Kawa of Farmington Hills, and Mrs. E. A. Bylski of Stamen Acres.

For those who are new to Farmington, the Kendallarks is a choral group composed of Farmington-area women having a "mutual love" for music and expression. At the present time, President Mrs. D. A. Berdeau announced new membership is yet open to the group. Any one desiring information may phone GR 4-7036. The Club Charter is limited to 25 active members.

The Kendallarks are again accepting commitments to present singing and variety-type acts for any women's group, PTA groups or other social functions.

UNLOADING BOOKS for the seventh annual AAUW book sale in Farmington, Sept. 30 are four of the women who will be working. They are, left to right, Mrs. Richard V. Armstrong, Mrs. Robert Schaff, Mrs. Gertrude Graham, and Mrs. Robert Bacon, Jr. This year the annual sale will be inside, at the building on Grand River, east of National Bank of Detroit. In the past the sale has been under a tent on the township hall grounds. Everyone among the books.

Famous Book, Art at AAUW Sale of Books

Some desirable features have been added to the seventh annual AAUW book sale which starts Wednesday, Sept. 30, and runs until Saturday, Oct. 3, at the township hall grounds. The sale will be inside, at the building on Grand River, east of National Bank of Detroit. In the past the sale has been under a tent on the township hall grounds. Everyone among the books.

THE FAMOUS Michigan book, "Anatomy of a Murder," will be sold to the highest bidder, at the close of the sale. This copy is not only autographed by its author, State Supreme Court Justice Voelker, but by all the movie stars who participated in its filming in the upper peninsula. Bills will be taken through the four days of the sale.

Still another new feature has been added, this year to attract visitors. AN ART SHOW will be held during the sale. Several well known area artists will exhibit oils and water colors, and the pictures will be for sale. The AAUW girls hope to have 30 or 40 paintings, with at least one Farmington artist represented.

The usual popular book sale isn't expected to take a back seat to all this, however. The organization is asking donations of books, particularly fiction. The books may be left at the Farmington library, which acts as a first choice of the books. The donor may phone Mrs. Jerome Graham at GR 6-0235.

BOOKS WILL be reasonably priced, and will attract all kinds of readers. Money earned goes to the Educational Foundation of the American Ass'n of University Women, to be used for college fellowships for advanced study by women.

The group hopes the fact the sale is inside won't keep anyone from coming in and browsing around. Hours the first three days are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., and to noon Saturday, Oct. 3.

Gray Ladies from this area, who are currently volunteering at the Northville State Hospital, Mrs. Ida Desmarques, 22318 Shawassaw, Mrs. Mary Lou Hoek, 22810 Lakeway, Mrs. Elsie Gain, 23322 Longacre, Mrs. Olive Lathrup, 23077 Longacre.

Gozmanian New Kenbrook PTA President. New President Sharon Gozmanian of the Kenbrook Parent-Teacher group last week presided over his association's first general meeting of this season. More than 120 parents and teachers were present.

The Kenbrook school now has 567 children enrolled. Volunteer members of the Citizens Advisory committee are: Rudy Sell, Glen Huber, Calvin Oppenheuser, William Carlson, and Joseph Morrow. Mrs. Edwards Smalley, 23469 Baytree, will be chairman of the newly-formed Mother Patrol, which will help school children cross streets on the way to and from school.

The next general meeting will be held on Oct. 19 at 8 p.m. at the school.

KNOLLS WOMEN—8 WOMEN. The Franklin Knolls Women's Club will open their new season Thursday, October 1, with a luncheon and hat show at the Shepherd King Lutheran Church, Middlebelt and Maple roads.

Martha S. Elder Funeral Friday. Martha S. Elder of Farmington passed away Monday, September 4.

White or very light lining is the rule for a lampshade—unless it's purely for decoration, caution home by the Farmington Chapter of OES. The funeral service was at 11 a.m. Friday with Rev. Sim officiating. Interment was in Woodlawn cemetery.

Star Mothers Planning 17th Birthday Party

The Blue Star Mothers held their September business meeting in the Windsor Street first floor on Thursday Sept. 17 with second Vice President Catherine Byrnes presiding while President Mary Morris was on vacation.

Irene Krueger was reported somewhat improved from her recent illness and back at her home in Milford. Jay Williams, husband of member Gladys Williams, was reported recovering from his serious heart attack sometime ago. He is still in the V. A. Hospital at Dearborn.

Final plans were completed for the Chapter's seventeenth anniversary luncheon and party to be held in the Clarenceville Methodist Church on Grand River Wednesday, October 7, at 12:30 p.m.

Reservations will be taken by Ethel Lint, GR 4-4451, and Mae Jariett, KE 4-5868. All reservations must be in by October 3.

Mrs. Etta Vanderburgh will be dinner chairman; Mrs. Fern Ramage is chairman of dining room and tables, Mrs. Lettie McIntyre, program—tastemistress; Mrs. Ethel Lint and Mrs. Mae Jariett are in charge of tickets.

Mrs. Clyda Tringmar, Dept. of Michigan president; Mrs. Catherine Woodworth, Southeast Vice President of Detroit; and the members of several local chapters will be guests of Farmington Chapter for their anniversary.

There will be no October luncheon and card party but a party will be at the home of Mrs. Etta Vanderburgh on Wednesday, October 7.

Next business meeting will be in the Wheeler Street Fire Hall on Thursday, October 15, at 1 p.m.

Teen Town Dance Slated. The Novi Community Teen Town, offering all types of recreational activities for teenagers in this area, will hold its first dance this Saturday, September 26, at 7:30 p.m.

The dance will be held at the old AMVET Hall at the northwest corner of Meadowbrook and Ten Mile roads.

Teen Town is designed to provide a variety of recreational activities for young boys and girls throughout the area. The dance is not restricted to Novi residents, it was emphasized.

For additional information about the dance and other activities contact either Florence Harris, FI 9-2999, or Sandra Richardson, FI 9-2988.

Laud All Polio Drive Workers. The emergency polo fund raising drive conducted recently was made a success through the hard work of a lot of volunteers.

Extending a "thank you" to these many workers this week was Polly Schan, township drive chairman, and Mrs. John Paul, city chairman.

A special thanks was extended to Edward Hoher, proprietor of the Civic Theatre, for audio collections to be made there.

Loud Noises Maybe Made by Airplanes. Farmington township and other northwest Detroit police received numerous phone calls last Thursday about loud noise, thought to be an explosion. It was checked out here, and with other nearby police. No damage could be found anywhere, so it had to be assumed it was a jet plane breaking the sound barrier.

The same thing happened in the Wayne City area on Friday, causing many phone calls.

Accidents can and do happen to our friends, neighbors and relatives. Jim Stevenson, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Stevenson, 31760 Leelanau, is presently in Redford Community Hospital suffering from a broken leg received in an accident Friday evening, September 18. Jim, while riding on the back of a friend's motor scooter, was hit by a car. He is recovering from his injuries with no more serious. Jim will return home from the hospital soon but will require considerable time for recuperation. Just a card would immensely help brighten his long days.

A PLEASANT stop Sunday morning, Sept. 20, was made at the home of Norman Martin, 32324 Marlehead. An open house and bake sale (contributions on a voluntary basis) will last throughout the morning. All proceeds from the bake sale will go to the Daughters of Isabella. Norman's invitation to everyone, "stop by."

If you are interested in bowling with a league and have not already signed up, there are a few openings on the women's teams now bowling at Bel-Aire. For further information call Helga Zuchinski, MA 6-3487.

A wonderful visit from her aunt, Mrs. Charles Beilfield, was a thrill since she and family of Lamar, Mrs. Beilfield from Port Hill, Stoke-on-Trent, England, was the Kowalski's Wednesday evening dinner guests. Their only regret was that the visit was such a short one.

"A LITTLE" angel who doesn't even cry is how Mrs. Beilfield refers to her youngest daughter, Sherrie Lee, who weighed 15 lbs., 11 1/2 oz. when she was born at St. Mary's Hospital, Sept. 26, was gladly admitted to the family by Kendall, 6, and Terry-Lynn, 3.

The McKie Family of Leelanau (Bernie, Gary, Linda, 4 1/2, Jeffrey, 20 mos. and Jimmy, 7 mos.) have just returned from a very enjoyable visit with Berne's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McKie, of Bedford, Indiana.

The Sisters (Catherine and Virginia) of Leelanau celebrated their 13th anniversary Saturday, September 13, with a dinner at Saratoga Farms and an evening on the town. The celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Vincent from Detroit.

Many friends of Marge Kowalski's honored her with a baby shower Tuesday, September 15. Lovely gifts have now been put into place awaiting the arrival of the Kowalski's 4th child due in November. Those from Bel-Aire who were guests for the evening included Virginia Belcher, Lisa Drapinski, Kay Ockerman and Hede Reinstein.

FOUR GLORIOUS days were recently spent at Niagara Falls by Shirley Lindberg, of Leelanau, her cousin, Colleen Cogan, and sister, Jerry Skog. Particularly fascinating for the trio was the home of Norman Martin, 32324 Marlehead. An open house and bake sale (contributions on a voluntary basis) will last throughout the morning. All proceeds from the bake sale will go to the Daughters of Isabella. Norman's invitation to everyone, "stop by."

Joanne Stowe of Northbrook entertained her neighborhood Pinocchio club Tuesday evening, Sept. 15. Bidding and trumping were Dallas Butler, Lois Cort, Marion Dale, Edna Grainer and Audrey Jenkins, Shirley Jordan, Pat Keith, Betty Pala (who won baby prize), Agnes Ratka, and Edna Grainer 2nd prize. The champion of every one John Seibert, who substituted, walked away with first prize, a fast June performs most every time she joins the group!
