

Bits Of News from Kendallwood MRS. EDWARD COVE. GR. 4-0769

A patch of silver appeared last week on the dark cloud that began to cover the Norman DiLoreto household January 17, 1959, with the birth of their daughter, Debra. Doctors gave the baby no more than eighteen months to live because she was born with absence of bile ducts and gall bladder, resulting in a jaundice condition. However, Mr. and Mrs. DiLoreto happily announce that the future looks brighter upon receiving word from well-known Dr. Julian Sterling of Philadelphia that he has accepted Debra's case for surgery after careful consideration and tentatively has set the date of operation for the first week in November at the Albert Einstein Hospital in Philadelphia. Needless to say, the DiLoretos are thrilled with the prospect of the operation being successful and enabling Debra, now nine months old, to live a normal life despite the disease which will be involved. Mr. and Mrs. Norman DiLoreto, Debra, and their 7 1/2 year old son, Kirk, live at 32259 Old Forge Lane, Kendallwood III.

TWO COMMUNITY blood banks will be held in the month of November. Since this area is using more blood than it is donating, blood donors are urgently needed. On November 5 a clinic will be held at the social hall of St. Fabian Church. On November 3 blood can be given at the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church.

A reminder that the November meeting of the Wooddale School PTA will be held at the school this Tuesday evening.

The four couples, all members of Red Run Country Club here, carefully planned the fun filled vacation which began with a train trip to the resort in North Carolina where the gals golfed every morning, joined by their spouses afternoons for tournament golf set up among the group - which - even included trophy prizes. The party returned home by plane.

Highlight of the A. Campbell's trip to Ohio was attending a minstrel show. Mrs. Floyd Best, of Des Moines, Iowa, visited her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Phil Rabideau, Michael and Sandy, on Thorny Brae Road, early this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Heesley of Peppermill announce the arrival of a nine pound five ounce baby boy, Thomas Michael, on Sunday, October 18. The Heesleys also have a three year old daughter, Mary Colleen.
