AAUW Group to Support Bill

The Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women is mailing to Farmington organizations a letter and resolution from Arthur E. Moore, Probate Judge of Oakland County, concerning care in Michigan for mentally ill and emotionally disturbed children. Judge Moore, speaking on behalf of the Michigan Probate Judges Association which was AAUW is supporting the "Lodge-Nichols Bill," Senate Bill No. 2203.

Assistance is urged toward supporting this bill to provide adequate hospital and medical facilities for all mentally ill and emotionally disturbed children of Michigan. Speakers are available to explain facts to groups.

Mrs. Robert Schaefer is Chairman of the Social and Economic Committee. Mrs. Marvin Schaefer is Chairman of the Legislative Committee and Mrs. Ernest Loe is Chairman of the Status of Women Committee. Committee members are organizing this appeal for the local branch of the American Association of University Women.

Group of 184 Is Rehearsing For 'Cantata'

Father Gabalski, director of music and Dean of High School boys at St. Mary's High School, Orchard Lake, is rehearsing the 184 boys and girls from Farmington High School to bring the Cantata, the Holy City, to Farmington people on Tuesday, March 22, at 8:00 p.m. at the Farmington High School Auditorium.

The "Holy City" by A.R. Lennox was last given here in 1957 by Mr. Feucht and his vocal groups. This year a double chorus will be added in the number "Let the Heavens Rejoice." This difficult number was omitted in the 1957 production. The famous Cantata is the composer's impression of Heaven, mainly taken from the Scriptures with a few passages from the works of the poet Milton.

William Feucht, director of the yearly project expects an unusually large audience for this year's production. He feels the boys and girls are exhibiting their devotion to the work of bringing this famous musical program to the Farmington audience. Singers are selling tickets and are reporting excellent results. Proceeds go for vocal department equipment. Tickets may also be obtained by calling GR 4-6155.

Cotton to Join Teacher Group Meeting Feb. 24

Jack Cotton, director of physical education at Farmington High School, and chairman of convention demonstrations, will attend the annual convention of the Michigan Association for Health, which will attend the annual convention of the Michigan Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation (MAHER) at the University of Detroit, Detroit, on Feb. 24-25. Cotton is a member of the Michigan Education Association, and is a member of the Michigan Education Association.

SCHEDULED for the Detroit-Michigan Hotel, the three-day conference will be centered around the theme, "Balance in the Space Age." Keynote speaker will be William Van Til, Chairman, Department of Secondary Education, University of Michigan. Miss Laurette Collins, assistant for school community relations, Detroit Board of Education, will speak at general sessions on Feb. 24 and 25. Through the day of topics and section meetings, the group will discuss such problems as attitude of gifted children toward sports and recreation, leadership, recruitment and the high school teacher, current trends in teacher education, administration of athletics, and health and safety.

The conference will be supplemented by demonstrations of free skiing, Swedish gymnastics, tumbling in the elementary school and activities for large classes. Also participating in the meeting will be the Michigan Coaches Association, which will conduct a baseball, basketball, football and track clinic. President of the association is Jane Fink, Wayne State University, Detroit. Chairman of the convention is Howard E. Thompson, Jackson.

CHS Student Council Meets

The 16th regular meeting of the Clarenceville Student Council was held on Wednesday, Feb. 17.

The main order of business was to vote on the W.O.C.L. for the Sportsmanship trophy. Since it wasn't discussed in record books, the Council decided it would only be fair to get the students' reaction to this issue. Therefore the Council took a preliminary voting only. A final vote will be made at the next meeting as the area to be changed. The motion was carried unanimously.

Creases should never be ironed into linen since the fibers are brittle and may eventually break. Linen economists at Michigan State University suggest you roll the linen tablecloth for storage. If it must be folded, change the position of the creases frequently.

Industrial Re-Zoning

To the Editor: Your February 19 front page editorial on re-zoning the Star Outter property cannot be left unchallenged. You report that, when fully developed, this property would mean as much as $500,000 a year to the school district in taxes. This is rather optimistic because such taxes would require over $30 million worth of plants. In other words, twenty-four Star Outter plants and equipment would have to be built on an area less than twice the present plant site. This wouldn't make quite as beautiful an industrial park as Mr. Lawton and the Zoning Board would like to see.

I had the dubious honor of attending the public hearing called by the Zoning Board relative to re-zoning the Lawton property to industrial. Rather than just listen to arguments for and against, the Board took a definite stand defending this re-zoning. The Zoning Board did make one point quite clear, however. They said the developer of the proposed industrial project would not be required to provide any green belt other than the normal setback specified in the zoning ordinance. The only people at the hearing who spoke in favor of the re-zoning this highly desirable residential area to industrial were a townsmen's committee and members of the Industrial Development Committee.

It might be interesting to note that Mr. Lawton whose property is under consideration is also a member of the Industrial Development Committee. In this connection, we wonder is it the purpose of this Committee to encourage industry to develop in the vacant 700 acre plot already zoned industrial or is it their purpose to continue promoting their shot industrial re-zoning.

R.W. Burton Dear Sir: In your issue of February 19, 1960 in reporting the Zoning Board action in approving the re-zoning of the Lawton property you reported an item to the effect that this re-zoning could mean an increase in tax revenue of $500,000. A simple calculation and a little reflection will readily demonstrate that this figure is patently absurd. A $500,000 increase in tax revenue from this property would amount to a market value of the improved property of $10,000,000. The interests of our current tax rate. Clearly, development of the property could not be done at this level if the property is to be used in the manner suggested by Mr. Lawton. Indeed, it is extremely doubtful if this figure could ever be reached on that property and its character and its place in our community maintained.

I certainly hope that our Zoning Board in its deliberation was not swayed by such alleged facts. The interests of our community are certainly not served by offering an irresponsible fact that which is only fancy.

Very truly yours, Martin E. Gluckstein EDITOR'S NOTE - We feel that a couple of points should be made clear at the same time that these two letters are published. The statement made in the paper "that the light industrial area and the residential tract, when fully developed, might mean as much as $500,000 a year to the school district in taxes" was not a figure which we came up with through research. This was only

At Home in 'Old Homestead'

Thirty couples took part in "South of the Border" dinner party last Saturday night. The hostesses, Mrs. E. Moore and Mrs. E. Moore, were catered by the Garcia Co., which specializes in preparing these dishes. Those who attended had the pleasant opportunity to eat foods that are unusual in this area.

After the meal Dorothy and Frank Furlong showed the color slides which they had taken on their trip to Mexico at Christmas time. The remainder of the evening was taken up in dancing. The Latin American dances were demonstrated by a group of eight couples, then everyone was encouraged to join in.

Birthday congratulations this week to Kevin Pearson who became two years old on Friday, and to David Gibbons who became seven on Sunday.

Dick and Jean Latimer persuaded their guests, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth White, to remain in Michigan to attend the subdivision "South of the Border" party on Saturday. They had originally intended to leave for their home in New Castle, Pennsylvania last Tuesday, but did not do so until Sunday morning.

The Davis home was the scene of a birthday party of Jackie's mother, Mrs. Edith A. Davis, on Sunday. In addition to eight adults, her sixteen grandchildren and twelve cousins from one to seventeen, were present for cake and ice cream.

The Old Homestead Association's Annual meeting will be held on Monday, March 7, at 8:00 P.M. at the home of Pat and Bill Morgan, 3605 Riddleford. Those attending are asked to bring their own folding chairs. One of the important reasons for this meeting is the election of officers to serve for the coming year.

Lee North, Chairman of the Nominating Committee has presented the following nominees for office. President, Al Spooner; Vice-President, Bill Simmons; and Bob Riddgatt; Secretary, Jean Latimer; and Carol Outter; Treasurer, Mary Toffoli and Bill Morgan; Plan Approval and Restriction Committee, Ken Humm and Shell Salyards; Maintenance Committee, Ken Russell and Jack Garvoda; Social Committee, Dorothy Furlong and Yvette Riebe. Additional nominations from the floor will be accepted. Elections of officers to be presented on proposals to be presented.
