Scouts Prepare For Greatest Exposition

It's true! Even real live Indians will be there to see De-troit-area Boy Scout Indian dancers put on one of the most colorful Indian shows ever seen in Michigan, at the Jubilee Scouting Exposition scheduled for June 10, 11, 12 at the State Fairgrounds.

Called the Greatest Scouting Show in All America, the Exposition will include an authentic Indian village, with teepees, joggans, gaily dressed squaws, and will feature spectacular Indian dancing to the rhythm of pounding tom-toms. Color camera fans should be sure to bring along extra film to capture the colorful costumes and scenery. Over 600 Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Posts, with a total of more than 10,000 boys and leaders are now in final stage preparations for their part in the Exposition. In addition to the Indian village, there will be a real Western Wagon Train with authentic covered wagons, a huge ox being roasted over an open fire, with samples for all to come up in tasty sandwiches.

A Family Celebration honored the Birthday of Kenneth Skow, 57, Mayfield Ave., last Sunday. Albert Owen, Mayfield Ave., is reported under the weather with a rhumatic infection.

Our local Civic Association held another exciting meeting in Tyler School. This section is strongly opposed to the city's zoning plans.

[Police] were called Monday night to search out a prowler who was making a disturbing element of himself on the Shady-side near Norfolk section. During the last few months this neighborhood has been greatly aggravated by windowpeepers and prowlers. Residents have become so incensed that traps are being laid and weapons brought out and placed within convenient reach. The general belief is that, "Someone is going to get hurt."

A NUMBER of our local people were in attendance last Sunday at funeral services for Mrs. Belle Mae Stange, which were held in the Harris Funeral Home, on Six Mile Rd., at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Burial services at Glenn Eden on Monday were private.
