It is apparent that there will be a fight if the measure comes out of the committee, as the corporation in question is well fortified for a battle and has considerable jobilical strencts. In all probability lit will be necessary for the supporters of the uniform text book. bill and the free text book bill to compromise on a measure before it is possible to get any sort of a measure through the present legislature. This is the result of a hearing when arguments were advanced in favor of the free text book haw. Senators say that the rural glistricts are strongly in favor of the uniform text book scheme while the cities and communities having graded schools are equally firm in their advocacy of the free text book bill. In view of this situation it has been suggested that perhaps a compromise may be arranged under width those communities desiring to maintain or establish a free text book of such confidence in the co ing to maintain or establish a free text book system, could be exempted from the provisions of a uniform text book posal for new legislation direct to the people, the plan is to direct a refer-ence of the subject to the legislature for consideration, and that body if it does not enact a law, will submit the matter to the people for decision as to whether such legislation should be placed on the statute books.

News that Clarian Castro, former dictator of venezuela, sailed from New York for Cuba recalled the reports that have been reaching Washington with increasing frequency recently, that plans for a revolution in Venezuela are pleng formed in the island republic.

Ever since Castro arrived in New York and began list sight for admission to the Upited States, the state department has been hearing rumors of slibustering expeditions being prepared in Cuba against Venezuela.

Havana is the place of residence of a number of Venezuelan exiles who were formerly associated with Castro when the latter was dictator and it has been repeatedly said that Castro would eventually join his friends there for a movement against Venezuela. placed on the statute books. No one acems to doubt the approval and enactment of the Initiative and referendum pluns, by the legislature, but there has been no test of sentiment relative to the propaganda, and the intention of those backing the measure is to get the bills out and secure a treat of strength on them within a few days.
