Cubs Lead Babe Ruth N. Farmington League

The North Farmington Babe Ruth League opened play this week after a considerable amount of maneuvering to overcome obstacles. The league was organized by a new field on the Le Road just east of North Street but legal complications delayed work on the preparation of the playing fields which "not ready yet. In addition, managers and coaches enough for four teams are all that could be persuaded to come out and work with the boys. Consequently, the six team league was reorganized to a four team league and play will get under way June 15.
