

Clappison & Conroy Ins.

Meet Your Merchants

John M. Clappison and William J. Conroy of the Farmington Insurance Agency, were born and raised in Farmington and both are married to Farmington girls.

John is a seasoned insurance man having over 20 years experience in the field before coming over the reins of the Farmington agency in 1952. The agency, one of the oldest in Oakland County, was established in 1908 by a couple of gentlemen named Cobb and Turner. In its ninety two year history it has changed ownership only four times. The agency offices are located in a Business Center Building, CLAPPISON went to Farmington schools and also attended Michigan State University well as taking many special courses in insurance. He is married to the former Helen Twem and the couple has five children, all boys.

The oldest boy, Frank will go to his sophomore year at the University of Michigan next year. He was a football star at Farmington High School a few years back winning all-league county and all-suburban honors as well as being named one all-state team. This fact is undoubtedly a welcome addition to the U-M campus.

John is a sports enthusiast himself. He enjoys golf, bowling and hunting but claims no talent in any of these activities. This wife also enjoys bowling and golf but keeps pretty busy taking care of the men and the house and has limited time for these sports.

JOHN HAS been extremely active in community and church activities. He is president of a member of the board of directors of the United Church of Christ and is a former president of the board. He is a member of the Exchange Club, The Farmington Chamber of Commerce, the Downtown Businessmen's Association and is a former Kiwanian.

In addition he served a two year term as president of the U-M League and as a term as president of the Farmington Baseball for Boys. He is also a member of the City Planning and Board of Review.

The Clappison family lives at 644 Fleming in the City of Farmington.

Like his associate, Bill Conroy is also an active man. He has been a member of the Farmington Jay-Cees for 11 years and is a past president. He has directed six annual "Dance and Dinner" minstrel shows presented by the Jay-Cees. He was presented a plaque of appreciation for his efforts on behalf of the group.

CONROY'S musical savvy takes him back to his high school days when he formed his own orchestra which played for the various dances in this area for several years. Bill plays the trumpet himself.

The Conroy family lives at 569 Oakland in the City. Mrs. Conroy, the former Sally Stuntz, graduate of Farmington High, maintains a busy schedule taking care of the four little Conroys, Bruce, Tom and John. Bruce will be going into second grade in September and Bruce will be entering kindergarten then. Little Tommy, 4, and baby Beth, 18 months, have a long wait for their school days to start.

Bill finished his stay at Farmington High in 1946. While here he played baseball and basketball. He then entered Michigan State where he spent several years in the Journalism program before deciding the newspaper game was not for him. He then stepped into the Appoint Marylou Seldon as Secretary of U. of M. Assn.

Marylou Seldon, 30102 W. 10 Mile, was appointed secretary of The University of Michigan Assembly Association for the coming school year.

The Assembly Association serves the independent women of the campus and represents them in all-campus affairs. Assembly student committees work closely with the administration in the operation of the residence halls.

As secretary, Marylou takes the minutes of the Assembly Board and Assembly Director's Council meetings, and prepares summary reports of conferences and workshops attended by or sponsored by Assembly. She is also responsible for the organization and functioning of the Assembly secretariat.

Marylou is a Junior in the Speech Therapy program at the University of Michigan.

Pre-Plan Your Vacation To Keep Children Happy

If you are going on vacation this summer and you're taking small children with you, here are some tips which may help make your trip more fun for all.

Try to keep the children occupied when you are on the road. Pre-planning is the trick. Take along an assortment of spelling, counting, judging or memory games for the eight-to-twelve-year-old set. And bring toys for the younger kids. Remember, not the kind that requires lots of movement.

You might assign one of the children the duty of seeing that the car doors are locked at all times. You'll be protecting the kids, educating all of them about safety, and giving one of them a chore that will increase his interest in the trip.

FOR SMALL children, you can make a larger play space in the rear seat of the car by stacking your luggage so it's level with the back seat. Cover it with pillows and a blanket and you'll have a level play area.

There's an old stand-by treatment for car sickness. At the first sign of car sickness, move the child up to the front seat and let him suck on a lemon. It will help.

Take along clothing made from wash-and-wear fabrics. They don't soil as much, and they are usually easier to launder.

For baby, keep a travel kit handy including powder, lotions, soap, tissues, pins, washcloths, and bibs.

Eat your main meal after the day's traveling is over. Follow a regular eating schedule, and stay away from hard-to-digest foods. One family says that you can assume that the animals may be rabid.

According to preliminary estimates, more than $2.5 billion of $1.75-of all advertising dollars invested in 1959 went to newspapers. This made newspapers again the number one advertising medium.
