Now Is Time To Plan For School

If you are a parent of a child who will be "trading" off to school for the first time this September, you've got a task to take care of, and the sooner it is done the better. This task involves taking your prospective kindergarten to the doctor and having him immunized against smallpox, diphtheria, polio, tetanus and whooping cough, if the child hasn't already had these protective shots.

"Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, urges parents to get now. 'If you wait until school is ready to open, you not only will tax your doctor to the limit with crowded offices of parents and pre-schoolers waiting for examinations and immunization, but it may also tax your patience, at a time when there are many other things to be done for the child ready for school.' THESE protective immunizations are required under a law passed by the Michigan legislature in April. The law states in part: 'All children enrolling in any public, private, parochial or denominational school for the first time, shall submit a statement signed by a physician that they have been immunized against these diseases; a statement signed by one parent or guardian to the effect that the child has not been immunized because of religious convictions or other objection, or a request for the child to be vaccinated by the health department.' MOST HEALTH departments have immunization schedules. Check with one in your area.

and plan to take the children during the summer. Don't wait until a few days before school or you're very apt to run into a line as long or longer than the usual automobile line during the summer. Doctor Heustis is pointed out.

If your preschool child has already had the necessary immunizations, all that will be needed is his physical examination and a statement from the doctor that he has been immunized as required.

In addition to their primary duties of protecting Michigan's children and eradicating diseases, cooperative with other divisions of the Conservation Department in making game laws and eradicating poisons, and law changes and various policies to local residents.
