

Travelers Enjoy Roadside Facilities

Michigan's roadside parks and picnic tables are a big hit with motorists.

Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has reportedly received hundreds of letters from Michigan and outside motorists complimenting the state for its parks and tables.

David A. Turner Takes Bride In AuGres, Mich.

The couple will live in East Lansing, where they are both seniors at Michigan State University.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of AuGres-Sims high school. The bridegroom graduated from Farmington High in 1951 and served four years in the U.S. Navy. He attended Findlay College, Findlay, Ohio, for one year before entering MSU.

For their wedding trip to Rogers City and Northern Michigan Mrs. Turner chose a black and green suit with gold and beige accessories. She wore the yellow orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple spoke their vows before a background of evergreen trees and a white lattice arch. Baskets of yellow and coral glads stood at the sides. The grandmothers of the bride, the Rev. Mary E. House, of Rosebush, performed the double ring ceremony.

FOR THEIR WEDDING the bride wore a gown of ivory brocade, fashioned with a princess line bodice and a full skirt. The V neck of the bodice was filled in with silk organza and tiny bridal buttons covered the bodice back and wrist-length pointed sleeves.

The dropped waistline dipped to a V in the back, where pleats in the skirt formed a bustle. The floor length skirt was pleated softly at the sides and front.

The bride carried a bouquet of white and yellow mums, asters and carnations. Her scalloped crown held the short veil in place and she wore a single pearl on a gold chain.

Miss Sue Thurow, maid of honor for her sister, wore a royal blue dress of silk organza over taffeta. Bridesmaids, the Misses June and Peggy Turner, sisters of the bridegroom, wore matching dresses of tan quaker. An open V neck, short sleeves and steeple length skirts were featured on the dresses made from the same pattern as the bride's.

ELBOW LENGTH gloves, matching shoes and headresses and bouquets of yellow and rust asters and mums completed their costumes. Miss Tammy Lee Green, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a long white dress with a sash of royal blue and turquoise and carried a basket of yellow asters and mums.

Ronald Weaver, Grand Rapids, was best man. Ushers were Douglas Weaver, brother of the bridegroom, and John Thurow, brother of the bride.

The "Bridal Chorus," "Because," and "Lohengrin's Wedding March" were played on the organ by Miss Carol Martin, of Standish.

The mother of the bride wore a blue and turquoise printed chiffon coat dress over identical printed taffeta. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of royal blue lace. Both had corsages of yellow roses.

The reception on the lawn immediately followed the ceremony. Assisting were Mrs. Robert Green, Comins; Mrs. Gary Kurtz, Lansing; Mrs. Michael Ballew, Jr., AuGres; Miss Carolyn Olson, Lansing; and Mrs. Norman Olson, Lansing.

Natl. Business Women's Week Begins October 2

National Business Women's Week—October 2-8—is set aside yearly to pay tribute to women in business and the professions and to the contribution they make to the nation, state, and local community.

In the business and professional worlds and in the worlds of civic and public affairs, at all levels, local through international, women have achieved far more than our most advanced-thinking grandmothers ever dreamed of. Millions of women are now at work in offices, schools, factories and on the farm. Millions are now learning new professions, exploring new fields, creating new ideas. In truth, women workers number more than a third of the work force in the United States.

Young women choose from some 500 different career fields in which to make reservations for luncheon and meeting of District 1 of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan. The meeting will be held at Glen Oaks Country Club on October 5, starting at 9:30 a.m. with luncheon at 12:30.

The speaker for the afternoon session will be Mrs. Albert P. Atkinson of Detroit and her subject will be "Cultivating Creativity."

Mrs. James P. Henry who is general chairman for the day, will carry out the theme of "Tall Oaks from Little Acorns Grow" in planning and decorating. Mrs. Arthur F. Grosop is taking reservations for the luncheon and may be called at MA. 63492.

Each year at the October meeting of the Farmington Business and Professional Women's Club, Inc., a "Business Women's Club of the Year" is named in recognition of merit and ability in various business activities and professions and on Monday evening, October 17, 1960, again this recognition will be awarded one of the "Women at Work" in Farmington.

Garden Club Luncheon Wed.

There is still time for members of the Farmington Garden Club to make reservations for luncheon and meeting of District 1 of the Federated Garden Clubs of Michigan. The meeting will be held at Glen Oaks Country Club on October 5, starting at 9:30 a.m. with luncheon at 12:30.

The speaker for the afternoon session will be Mrs. Albert P. Atkinson of Detroit and her subject will be "Cultivating Creativity."

WSCS Group To Hear Talk By Missionary

Miss Marie Adams, retired missionary from China and Japan, will speak at the conference of the W.S.C.S. on Tuesday, October 4 at First Methodist Church, Farmington.

Miss Adams spent thirty-five years in missionary educational work in China. Because she could not return to China because of the communists, she was sent to Japan where for five years she was a teacher in Tokyo Woman's Christian College. Being a photography fan, she has sets of colored slides on Tokyo Woman's College, and views of Tokyo and the royal city of Peking.

The business meeting will begin at 11:00 a.m. Luncheon, ending by the Anna Cook Circle, will begin at 12:15. Please bring a sack lunch for the children. A special crib and baby nursery will be opened along with our regular pre-school nursery. We urged all mothers with young children to take advantage of this special service. Program at 1:15 will open with devotions, led by Mrs. Myron Meyers.

Deafness in mind the forth coming fall district meeting on Friday, Sept. 20th from 10:00 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. at Central Methodist Church, Adams and Grand Circus Park. At W.S.C.S. members are welcome. Contact Mrs. Wm. Higgins for further information.

On October 4th at 8:00 p.m. the Wesleyan Service Guild will meet at the home of Mrs. Ottile Butler, 22969 Farmington Road.

Players Group Remodels Barn

The Farmington Players are engaged in an enormous remodeling project at their unique barn theater on Twelve Mile Road at Powers Road.

Because of the ambitious efforts of many of its players, the barn is undergoing a complete face lifting.

For the past few years the Players have presented their twice yearly play productions in the lower level of the barn. Playing to overflow crowds has convinced the board of directors that a larger theater is needed. It was decided to make over the upper level or loft of the barn into the major theater area and to use the lower level for dressing rooms and costume storage. Work was begun this past summer on the change over and is now progressing to the point where the full production of "The Grass Harp" may be presented in the new upper level theater.

The majority of the work is being accomplished at all day Saturday work sessions. The most recent on September 28th found many of the husbands and wives present. A potluck lunch and dinner was enjoyed by all and in the evening the regular monthly meeting of the group was held. At this time plans for the coming year's workshop plays were presented along with a progress report on the remodeling of the barn.

Nothing can bring you peace but yourself; nothing can bring you peace but the triumph of principles.

COMPLEXION CARE
Pardon me, madam, but your skin is showing signs of wear and tear over during this season of the year. Complexion beauty doesn't stop at the neckline. Attention must also be paid to arms, legs, back and shoulders. If they are to attract admiring glances: Your feet, too, are showing. The impression left by them on beach and boardwalk can be attractive if they are as carefully cared for as your hands. Foot beauty depends on cleanliness, a little daily care and a weekly pedicure.

Why not place all of your beauty-care in our capable hands. We are expert in the field and invite you to keep regular appointments with us.

Local Cancer Foundation in Need of Pads

White goods are again needed by the members of the Farmington branch of the Michigan Cancer Foundation with sheets, pillowcases, towels, and bath towels. The sheets and towels can be used for bed pads.

The Farmington branch has a constant demand for pads for patients in the area. White goods may be donated at the Farmington depot located at the home of Mrs. Allen Nelson, 2718 Warner (GR. 4-5333) or at the home of Mrs. C. Yovanovitch, 28139 Thorny Brae Rd. (GR. 4-1175).

Some of the services available to the Farmington community through the Michigan Cancer Foundation are free dressings, all sizes, for cancer patients being cared for at home. Loan closets stocked with wheel chairs, hospital beds, bed tables and other items to fill the needs of cancer patients. The Visiting Nurse Association cooperates with and receives support from the Michigan Cancer Foundation to provide skilled nursing care to the indigent cancer patient.

Educational films are available on loan for 16mm projectors. These may be used before clubs and organizations, schools, business and industrial groups, and similar assemblies. Pamphlets for professional and public use are available in all quantities. Qualified professional and lay speakers may be engaged through the foundation's speakers bureau. Tours through the Detroit Cancer Center, 4811 John R., which houses the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research, the Michigan Cancer Foundation office, the Michigan Tumor Registry and the Yates Cancer Detection Clinic may be arranged by appointment.

Volunteers are needed. Anyone interested in helping, call the Farmington branch chairman, Mrs. John Gebben, GR. 4-1033.

Hold 'Coffee Cup' Sessions

Mrs. James Scofield, chairman of "Operation Coffee Cup" sponsored by the Republican Women's Organization of Farmington, held scheduled coffee sessions on Tuesday, September 20.

The first coffee of the day was held at the home of Mr. Wendell Brown, 29221 Ardmore at 10 a.m. Raymond L. Baker, candidate for Republican State Representative from District 10, was the speaker. He stressed the need for men from the business world at state level.

Mrs. Floyd J. 28150 Lonsdale was hostess for coffee number two at 1 p.m. Baker and Daniel Murphy, Jr., candidate for Republican Clerk-Register of Oakland County, were the speakers. Murphy discussed the national and international situation.

At 2:30 p.m. Mrs. Arthur Grosop, 23227 Thurnston, 13th Road opened her home for coffee number three, with Baker and Murphy as the speakers.

125 at C'ville PTA Meeting

Approximately one hundred twenty-five people attended the first meeting of the Clarenceville Jr. and Sr. High Schools PTA on September 20th, which featured the annual reception for teachers.

Mrs. Wm. Prisk, president, introduced the PTA officers, and in turn, Max Miller and Art Mann, principals, introduced the teachers of the schools.

An evening of visiting ensued over coffee and cake.
