Farmington JA Delegate Named Janet Ruelle's Christmas vacation will be highlighted this year by a trip to Cincinnati, Ohio, where she will represent her Junior Achievement Company, Jarco, at the annual J.A. Conference, December 28-29.

USED CARS
Janet is the Personnel Manager of the Grand River branch, which is sponsored by Smith, Hinchman, and Grylls Architects Company. It was her idea to produce net poolies, as featured in the office, for their major product. The response, according to Janet, has been so successful that they were swamped with orders.

USED CARS
Representatives from Junior Achievement Companies all over the U.S.A. will be present at the annual Jamec Conference. The purpose is to get ideas from other companies, to discuss company operations, and to obtain a better understanding of Junior Achievement. It will not be all work, however, as dances and dinners will take place.

USED CARS
Janet will be going on a bus tour of the southwestern Michigan students. She is to relate back to her branch all that she learns at this conference. She hopes that the tour will inspire some ideas into the annual Snowball, the annual J.A. dance at Cobb Hall.
