Chicken Fancier.

A prominent doctor of this place met with a serious disappointment with his dog recently. Having taken a liking for his fine buff cochins, the doctor thinking to control the dog's appetite in the chick en line, reinforced the dog with corn flakes and milk and all the delicacies in that line, but no use; back went the dog to his natural instinct, making a second attack on the chickens, and received in consequence a little dressing down by the owner. Then the canine laid in wait for one of his choice Christmas turkeys. The doctor two sons, survive him. He was Christmas turkeys. The doctor was heard to exclaim: "That dog: is certainly no good in the chicken

The Home.

There is a vast difference be tween a house and a home. The house is but the building and furniture, the outward shelter and eathering place of the household. The home includes the kindly family affection, the thoughtful care and ready sympathy and mutual confidence and trust of the members. A true home breathes the $79.62. atmosphere of love.

A child should be made to feel that his home is indeed a home the happiest place in the world to him, not merely an outward shelter and a resting place, but a center of enjoyment, sancififed and purified by love, the thought and to. Death of Mr. Gilbert C. Nichols It was with feelings of the deep est regret that the residents of Far-mington and district heard of the death of Mr. Gilbert C. Nichols, who, since his birth in 1848, has resided on the home farm at Nichols Corner. On the 22nd March, 1871, he was united in marriage to Nellie Johnson, who died Feb. 20, 1902. To them were born two sons, Floyd H., of Farmington, and Clyde A., of Detroit interred in the North Farmington Cemetery on Monday at which a large number of mourners were
