THE INSUFFERABLY dull evening so many found excuses to stay away from proved brilliant, as the five gentlemen (and that they were!) of the quintet put the embarrassed 40 in Beechview's gym at ease. They explained their instruments with pride and honor and displayed and played ancient counterparts to illustrate the origins of the modern woodwinds. A question and answer period provided many further interesting facts, and the quintet's renditions of various classical numbers won't warm anyone. Vic Stockell, Al and Lois Varnoski and Barbara Klasen. They deserve public disclosure for exposing themselves so fearlessly to the danger of actually enjoying a cultural evening. The remainder of Kimberley should be embarrassed that March 18 spoke so poorly of us, although it is a safe bet there's a repeat performance next time we're threatened by a high level PTA program.

According to Oil Facts, published by the American Petroleum Institute, total domestic demand last year reached an estimated 3.7 billion barrels—a 1.1 percent increase over 1961.

JUDY BURNS GR. 4-3112

The March 18 PTA meeting, featuring the woodwind quintet from the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, proved to be one of the most outstanding programs ever offered parents in the Beechview School district—a fact substantiated by an survey of each of the other 39 of us present to be in the audience that night.

The quintet performed during the afternoon in a children's assembly at the school, but neither the delighted enthusiasm of our youngsters at the dinner table that night nor the several previous avenues of publicity concerning the program proved sufficient to remove complacent parents from the fascination of television.

It is appalling that an area of the supposed culture of Kimberley could be so overwhelmingly apathetic when confronted with a cultural evening, and equally appalling to realize that the room probably would have been filled had the program been a quintet of disordered grade-schoolers rather than the finest of musicians.

During a brief business meeting preceding the program the PTA nominating committee presented their proposed slate of officers for election in April for president Ed Klein (Springfield), father vice-president, Phil Odom, mother vice-president, Norma Morris, treasurer, Betty Rankin, corresponding secretary, Marlene Anderson, and recording secretary, Nancy Lenzen.

KIMBERLEYITES present on March 18 included John and Marion Tournaud; Betty and Paul Rankin, Marion Kilka, Betty Heinzen, Marlene Anderson.
