SECTION B

LIFE MEMBERS of the Farmington Masonic Lodge were honored last week at special ceremonies conducted in the Farmington Masonic Temple. Shown above receiving recognition for their long service in the Masonic Lodge are (L. to R.) Fred Brockmiller, William Carpenter, Stanley

Honor Farmington's Masonic Life Members

Farmington Masonic Lodge members were honored with a special dinner and presented with award pins at "Old Times" night held on Friday, March 22, at the Farmington Masonic Temple.

Mr. Al Ross, P.M., well known to Farmington Masons, presented the awards to the brothers. Mr. Carl Ohrman, who has served the Masonic Order for sixty years and who is still very active in Farmington Masonic work, is ninety-one years of age. Receiving 50 year pins were Forrest Dickerson, William Eckler and Albert Roederger.

Mr. Fred Brockmiller, William Carpenter, Stanley Drake, Erskine Evans, Art Geistler, Arthur Lamb, Charles Werschin, Sid Kennard, Spencer Heeney, and Abe Johnson were recipients of 40 year awards.

EACH MEMBER was congratulated and received greetings from Ivan Addis, Grand Lodge Senior Deacon, on behalf of the Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Michigan.

Richard Steele, Dad Advisor of the Chapter of DeMolay, served as Master of Ceremonies and introduced Dr. Harvey M. Merker, retired director of scientific relations for Parke, Davis and Company. Dr. Merker spoke on "Advances in Medicine from Witchcraft to World Health."

Dr. Merker presented many interesting facts dealing in the field of medicine with relation to vaccines and related many facts of the research progress made in recent years.

His ready wit and personality as well as the program presented made it understandable why the Detroit City Council chose him to be "First Citizen of Detroit." He served many years in all worthwhile activities and devoted his life to helping those less fortunate.

THIS OUTSTANDING program was further highlighted by the presentation of a Tyler's Desk and Tool Set given by Ma-

Name Chairman For Blood Bank

At a meeting held March 20 in the home of Mrs. DeWitt Goodrich plans were made for the next Farmington Blood Bank. The date is set for Tuesday, May 21, at the American Legion Hall on Grand River.

Because of illness, Mrs. Fred Lenz, former chairman, has turned her duties over to Mrs. Goodrich. On the committee are Mrs. Earl Lahr, co-chairman, and Mrs. Ralph Yoder, Mrs. Frank Cline, Mrs. Eugene Wulfman, Mrs. Donald Wingard, Mrs. Mel Stevens and Mrs. Sylvester Pheny.

Every person capable of donating blood is urgently requested to do so, as our Blood Bank is in dire need of replenishing. At a later date prospective donors will be informed as to where they may register in advance, either in person or by telephone.

Farmington School Lunches on Slides

Colored slides of school lunches served Farmington school children were a feature of the Convention program of the Michigan School Food Service Association in Detroit on March 22 and 23.

Mrs. Ella Plichta, school lunch supervisor of the Farmington schools participated in a session called "Eat With Your Eyes."

She used color photos of lunch trays served here and in other Oakland County schools to demonstrate that a school lunch can be as appetizing as it is nutritious.

Other features of the Food Service convention included an address by Howard J. Davis, director of food distribution section, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.

A mesh of woven, galvanized steel wire is now being tested as backing for carpets subjected to heavy wear. The mesh is affixed to the carpet in layers of liquid latex, to control distortion.

Humorous Talk On Traveling

Guest speaker for the March Lecture Series at Northville was Emily Kimbrough. On a dark, cool, dreary day, Emily Kimbrough took her listeners into a world of humorous travels. "Listen While You Look" was well illustrated with the sounds of her travels.

A born raconteuse as well as a brilliant writer, she is an accomplished editor, screen writer, radio commentator, world traveler, and author of a number of hilarious best sellers. With never failing good humor and enormous gusto, she shared her many experiences which could be most humiliating, but instead were used to the benefit of laughter.

MRS. KIMBROUGH went to great length in illustrating the need for our children to learn foreign language, really well. Her own family experiences with her two daughters studying French for some 12 years, when really confronted in the native land could not master together one reasonable facsimile of the language. Mrs. Kimbrough highly recommends we work toward goals of introducing languages into the first grade, when language can be fun. However, frustrating it was to her and those she encountered with her language barrier, it did provide much fun for a lecture.
