Garage Destroyed In Farmington Fire

Farmington City firemen fought an early morning blaze Sunday, March 24, in the garage of Harold Webb's home at 23200 Power Road. Two cars parked in the garage were heavily damaged along with the building itself, but firemen kept the inferno from reaching the house. The fire apparently resulted from an electrical short in one of the Webb cars.

GAA Presents Area 'Play Day'

The Girls' Athletic Association of North Farmington, sponsored by Miss Mary Feller, phys. ed. instructor, held their annual "Play Day" last Wednesday with many G.A.A. members from Country Day, Cherry Hill, Riverside, Southgate and Groves High Schools of the Tri-River League as guests.

Entertainment for the occasion was provided by the Raider gymnastics team which presented a demonstration of the abilities that won them seventh place in the State Tournament under coach Richard Schilling.

After the demonstration the girls played volleyball and basketball and were ably coached by the Raider team in the various techniques of regular tumbling and rebound tumbling on the trampoline. The hungry group needed no coaching in the enjoyment of refreshments served at the close of the afternoon.

Otherwise, nothing is being changed.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

This is Kimberley

JUDY BRUNS, GR. 4-3112

The welcome mat is aired this week for several of our newer families, Joan and Ed Hayes, native Detroiters from the city of Clawson, who moved into their Barville Provincetown model some months ago with their family, Pamela, 8, Sam, 7, Michael, 6, Kathleen, 3, and Brian, 16 months. Ed is regional sales manager for Magnavox here.

Welcome, too, to Barbara and Donald Kirtman of Westmeath, native Detroiters who moved to Kimberley from nearby Stamen Acres. The Kirtmans are in the new home for Lee, 11, Jimmy, 7, Sharon, 5, and Ricky, 3. Donald by the way, is an engineer for Ford Motor Company.

BARBARA HAS BEEN busy since moving day four months ago, and on March 19 entertained her bridge club from Stamen Acres. Barb's friends and friends who attended were: Joanne Smith, June Taylor, Margaret Sivy, Millie Unks, Allen Turner, Frank Smith, Marian Beck, Kay Jackson, Bernice Weyher, Margaret Wheeler and Mary Heilman.

Speaking of new residents, welcome to Miss Jane Gertrude Macotlak, son of Frank and Irene Macotlak of Eleven Mile Road, born on February 8 at the Dearborn Medical Hospital. Little Jimmy, who weighed in at 7 pounds, 2 1/2 ounces, is preceded by Frankie, 11, Terese, 8, Toni Ann, 8, Judy, 6, and Edna, 2. The Macotlaks pronounced Muh-chel-ick family is particularly delighted that their new bundle of joy is a boy joy - easy on the diaper, the odds of having a boy after four consecutive girls are very slim!

Population explosions are also due by Sid and Betty Afsch of Greythorne in October, by Nancy and Leonard Elias of Westmeath in September, and by Dick and Barbara Klason of Wicklow in June. The Klasons are new Kimberleyites who moved here from Nashville, Tennessee, although they are originally of Livonia. Dick, a Ford engineer, and Barbara have two children - Kurt, 6, and Lisa, 3. Buff, the family cat, completes the household.

ON THE SUBJECT of new residents, let's return to the column of 2 weeks ago and re-introduce Bob and Anita Cromption of Fiddlers Green. The Cromptions are not native Detroiters as I stated, but are originally from Canada. They're proud of being "Americans by choice" and have been Detroiters for only the past ten years. Anita is NOT Ogdan Nash, as was printed, an obvious certainty to anyone who knows her! The error results from some clever poems written by Anita for the column last week, which inspired me to draw a comparison between Anita and Mr. Nash. The poems were omitted, but the nick-name lingers on!

The Enterprise, by the way, treated its columnist to a tour of the paper's printing processes 2 weeks ago, followed by coffee, cake, and questions. It was a most interesting morning, and the undreamed-of complexities of printing a newspaper were revealed to the uninitiated like me. Errors such as happened in reporting the Cromptions are quite understandable now that I have seen the long trek from pen to press, and it is surprising only that more mistakes don't result in the complicated process!

BIRTHDAY BOUQUETS are accorded this week to Ben Hacker, 21 on March 24, to Len Tangd, not telling on March 20, to Carol Ann Love, one on March 25, and to Matthew Gully, 7, on March 3. Matthew shared birthday cake and ice cream with Danny Day, Paul Bloomburg, Steve Smith, Pat Robinson, Paul Millarch, Blaise Blaszczek, and Cynthia Hughes.

Anniversary greetings to Neil and Jacques Burnside on March 22, and to John and Bill Clark of Middlebelt on the same date.

Condolences are extended to our many recently or currently hospitalized residents. Frances Bertha of Greythorne has returned from Holy Cross, where she underwent surgery on March 12. Lee Lance of Fiddlers Green had a similar operation at Crittenton General during the last week of February, and its good news to be able to report both Teresa and Lee are home and doing fine.

Virginia Gould of Greythorne underwent a gall bladder operation recently, and after returning home has been hospitalized with pneumonia. Virginia will be in Martin Place Annex at least until this column is printed, and would doubtless enjoy some cheerful cards.

GARY AND KAY OLSON of Pipers Lane both had an overnight stay in the hospital recently, Gary for a stomach virus and Kay for stitching and observation following a fall. Little Miss Olson required 24 stitches to close a deep gash in her temple. Bud and Jo were grateful to Hugh and Ricky McClesney, on the scene and of great help when the accident occurred.

Judge's Wife Honored Here

Mrs. Donald E. Holbrook of Clare, Michigan was honored at a coffee at the home of Mrs. Thomas S. McMillan of Old Bedford Road, Farmington, Thursday morning, March 28.

Mrs. Holbrook is the wife of Circuit Judge Donald Holbrook of the 21st Judicial Circuit.

MRS. CURTIS HALL, Mrs. Delos Hamlin, and Mrs. Frank Downs poured for the occasion. Assisting with the serving were Mrs. Kenneth Gillette, Mrs. Thomas Hoover, Mrs. Nelson McCormick and Mrs. Fred Ready, Jr.
