Kiwanis Club to Spearhead Timely Program for Area Youth

The Kiwanis Club of Farmington, in cooperation with local Citizens Committee - an affiliate of the National Council on Crime and Delinquency - is sponsoring a series of programs for area youth. As a result of the program, and other practical steps in prevention, youthful delinquency was substantially reduced there and the project was widely acclaimed.

The program, called "You and the Law," is a series of educational devices designed to teach youngsters from the seventh through high school grades the basic fundamentals and protection of the law, according to Walter Gale, President of the Kiwanis Club.

THE PROGRAM'S AIM is stated as "to help adolescents recognize the sometimes fine line between high spirits and a serious breach of the law. No one crowns on high spirits," it says, "but fun simply cannot overtake upon your neighbor's person or property without serious consequences."

In a booklet which the Kiwanis club is making available, through the cooperation of Mr. Gerald Rudolph, Farmington School Superintendent, and school officials, to youngsters of the community, the questions are posed: "This is a free country, isn't it? So why can't we do anything we feel like doing?" The booklet answers, itself, by saying "Here are the answers: We could if each of us lived entirely alone, but this is not possible. America is a land of freedom; freedom to do as we wish, but only if we do not trespass on the rights of others. At this point freedom ends."

The booklet will be supplemented by school group meetings devoted to the subject; discussions on the law, on delinquency, and on rights and responsibilities, moderated by teachers. Kiwanis sponsors "you and the Law."

THE BOOKLETS were written by the National Council on Crime and Delinquency in consultation with nationally prominent educators and police officials.

The idea of the program, "You and the Law," was originally conceived and developed

There Really Is An Easter Bunny

Scott's 5 and 10 in the Downtown Farmington Center presented all their unsoft Easter bunnies and flowers to the Children's Hospital in Detroit Saturday night, April 13, after the store was closed for the week-end.

Scott's manager, Don Sapp, gave the nearly $200 worth of merchandise to Farmington City police officers to deliver at the hospital. Sgt. Richard Walker of the City Public Safety Department reported the gesture was greatly appreciated by youngsters confined at the hospital.

Opportunity is hard to recognize because it usually goes around wearing work clothes.

The University of Michigan was the first large state institute to be governed directly by the people of the state, in 1817.

At Home in Old Homestead

JACQUELINE DAVIS
GR. 4-1230

In Spring the birds return to the north, but a number of Old Homesteaders were not here to greet them. Pat and Bill Morgan, Larry, Patty, Lou, and Charlie on a ten-day spring vacation to St. Petersburg Beach, Florida. They swam, loaded, and did some sunbathing. But neither Pat nor Bill were among the vacationers who spent their time being spoiled by the sun. They also went deep sea fishing, which was most enjoyable. However Bill did not catch a sailfish to decorate the recreation room.

Dorcas Weidman, Mark and Janie traveled to Minnesota by train for a ten-day visit with relatives. Most of the time was spent in Duluth with Doris' parents, but on the way there the three "Weeds" stopped in St. Paul and on the way back in Minneapolis to visit other members of the family.

The youngsters were very impressed by being able to ride in the Vista-Dome car during part of the trip.

Florence and Edmund Ziegler did not take such an extended vacation when they flew to New Orleans to join friends recently. However they were still able to visit all the well known spots as well as get in a little antique shopping.

BOB AND JEAN RADDATZ, former Old Homesteaders now residing in Bethany, Connecticut, were greeted warmly by many old friends when they joined the Pinocchio Club's pot luck supper Saturday night. The girls and their husbands had a wonderful evening at the home of Ed and Thelma Macheske.

Pinocchio Club members are reminded that very few members played cards Saturday night although everyone ate well. The April meeting was not canceled, merely postponed to Tuesday, April 30. The girls will meet at the home of Betty Gazvoda.

LEE AND ISABEL NORTH'S youngest daughter, Barbara, was hostess to nine members of her kindergarten class last Wednesday for lunch. The most important item on the menu was a birthday cake holding six candles. Present at the party were Robin Brack, Ricky Boufard, Paul and Phil Hukalla, Patrick Latimer, Kim Odde, Brad Shot, Johnny Switzer, and Johnny Vivier.

Other Old Homesteaders who were celebrating this past week are Tom Quaine, who became 18 last Friday, Elaine Coult, who arrived at 15 on Saturday, and Less and Harriett Everett who celebrated their twenty-eighth wedding anniversary on Saturday.

Those of you who have not as yet made your reservations for the American Field Service Dance on May 4 may do so by calling Chris Harris, GR. 4-8665. Although the name of this group may sound as though it had something to do with the Army, assure you that it is concerned with the student exchange program.

Through the efforts of the AFS Farmington Senior High School has had the privilege of having foreign students attend classes here and Farmington students attend overseas schools.

This dance is for a most worthwhile purpose. It is a community-wide dance so you will see your friends, residing in other parts of Farmington also enjoying themselves at the Meadowbrook Country Club on May 4.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Niehsen of 22419 Lilac, told of a harrowing hour they spent Sunday afternoon, April 21. Their thoroughbred Brittany Spaniel, unused to city streets, panicked to get out and gave them quite a chase. He crossed Grand River and Nine Mile several times, having narrow escapes with the Sunday traffic. They intend, now that the dog has reached the required age, to leave him for professional training in Nov.
