Libraries Are Key to Culture

"Good libraries are as essential to an educated and informed people as the school system itself. The library is not only the custodian of our cultural heritage but the key to progress and the advancement of knowledge. With increasing leisure its resources can enrich the quality of American life."

"Libraries like all other institutions must grow and adapt to changing requirements and conditions. The rate of change in the world today and in our knowledge of it is incredibly fast."

"We cannot afford to let our libraries slip behind. Nearly a million people in this country have no access to a public library and over 100 million have only inadequate service. It is particularly shocking that over 40,000 schools attended by more than 10 million young Americans have no library at all."

Flanders Concert Staged for Public

The fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Flanders Elementary School presented a music concert on Wednesday evening, April 24.

This was the first such concert held at Flanders and a variety of vocal and instrumental numbers were performed.

"We, in Farmington, believe music is an important part of the school curriculum and the performance experience is an integral part of the music program," said Frank Dalewski, Flanders principal.

Among the songs were: "Bell Samba" which was accompanied by resonator bells and Latin-American instruments; "Sing Everyone," a round sung in English and German; "Dry Bones," a negro spiritual; "When the Chestnut Leaves Were Falling" accompanied by autoharps; and Partner Songs "Home on the Range" and "My Home in Montana."

Some developments in food packaging have reduced food costs. They have done so by reducing loss from breakage, damage, and spoilage; by lowering weight; by decreasing volume through compression; and by developing methods, materials, and machinery that reduce packaging costs.
