FASHIONS FROM THE PAST will be on display at Farmington's high school today. Volunteers from Goodwill Industries will be doing the modeling as part of Heritage Day festivities.

Goodwill Industries To Parade Old Styles

Goodwill Industries' "Fads and Fancies," a light fantasy which takes its audience through the past century of women's fashions, will be presented Friday, May 24, at luncheon at Borsford Inn, appropriately honoring Heritage Day in celebration of Michigan Week in Oakland County.

Robert J. Huber, Mayor of the City of Troy, is Oakland County Chairman of Michigan Week, with Mrs. Audrey Martin, 1510 Buckingham, Birmingham, as his assistant.

THE SHOW, which opened its current season with a performance at Michigan State Fair, boasts what is probably the longest run in Detroit's theatrical history, with eight years of packed audiences behind it and bookings into 1965.

In 1954, Mrs. Helen M. Kopch, 513 Mt. Vernon, Royal Oak, promotion director of Goodwill Industries, got the idea that the beautiful old-time costumes that occasionally come in the Goodwill bag could be used to best advantage if they were modeled in a fashion show. She wrote the script, produced the show, and narrates every performance. It has proved to be the most interesting promotional activity in the Goodwill program... and the greatest in demand.

LADIES STEP FORWARD

Ladies, most of you are aware of what beach excursions can do to your hair. This week let's concentrate on beach protection—the least troublesome of hair—the so-called normal hair.

The hot sun not only dries it, but sometimes tends to lift the color a shade or two. It might be prudent to have a wide beach hat or a scarf on hand for protection. After swimming it is wise to rinse the hair, or time and facilities permitting, to have a full shampoo.

Which reminds us—whether it be a shampoo, a permanent, or a fresh, chic new hair style, your hair will be treated to expert, loving care at JEAN'S BEL-AIRE BEAUTY SHOP. Make that appointment for a fresh new outlook at JEAN'S BEL-AIRE BEAUTY SHOP, 24109 Orchard Lake Rd. Phone GR. 4-7810.

THIS WEEK'S HELPFUL HINT: Fading sunbans often have a grayish cast. Avoid this by massaging with a mixture of olive oil and salt.
