Miss Betty Lou Ports Speaks Wedding Vows

Miss Betty Lou Ports, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Vesley Ports of Farmington, became the bride of Glenn Richard Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Stevens, of North Toadesside Park, Detroit, at a candlelight ceremony at Covenant Baptist Church, Saturday evening, August 3.

The bride wore a Sophie gown, of satin for her wedding. The fitted bodice was a fashioner with a V neckline, and the full skirt extended into a chape train. Her veil was an heirloom nantilla of Belgium applique. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and geranias.

MISS JUDY ANN PORTS attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Susan Ports, and Mrs. Jack K. Evert, Torrance, California, also sisters of the bride, Mrs. Vinfield L. Copper II, of Port Huron, former college roommate, and Mrs. David M. Baldwin of Saginaw, sister of the groom. They were gownned alike in floor-length white crepe sheath gowns, white hats and gloves and carried cascade bouquets of orchid Fuji mums.

The bride's sister, Theresa Evert, served her aunt as flower girl. Wearing a white A-line dress, she carried a miniature bouquet of orchid Fuji mums.

DR. LANNY L. JOHNSON of St. Louis, Missouri, served as best man. Ushers were Dr. Bruce A. Kyburz, New Orleans, Louisiana; Mr. Preston W. Ports, Jr., brother of the bride; Mr. Donald G. Stevens, brother of the groom; Mr. M. Bruce Maxian of Mannheim Long Island, New York, and Mr. Peter I. Eckol, Jr., of East Lansing, Michigan.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ports chose a blue linen sheath dress overlaid with white lace. The matching accessories were complemented by an arrangement of yellow roses.

A PURE SILK sheath dress of sapphire blue and matching accessories were worn by the room's mother. She carried an arrangement of pink, beautiful roses.

Mr. Charles Heard, assistant director of the University of Michigan Radcliff Choir and choir friend of the bride, sang two solos during the ceremony. "Why Do I Love Thee?" by the bride with words by Elizabeth Barrett Browning and "The Lord's Prayer."

Among others, out of town guests included Mrs. Nellie Weisberg of Rantoul, Illinois, maternal grandmother of the bride; Mrs. Omar K. Hellerich of Danville, California, sister of the bride; Major and Mrs. Raymond H. Hobson, Rantoul, Illinois, aunt and uncle of the bride; Dr. Thomas Schell of St. Louis, Missouri; Mr. Craig Jameson of Chicago, Illinois; and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hunter of Lambert, Ontario.

For her wedding trip, the new Mrs. Stevens chose a three piece knit suit of teal blue. Her accessories were beige.

Following an ocean cruise and wedding trip through Northern Europe, the couple will reside in Frankfurt, Germany, where the bridegroom is employed.

Senior Girl Scouts Attend 3-Day Cruisette at Whitehall, Mich.

Members of Senior Girl Scout Troop 258 spent last weekend in Whitehall, Michigan, taking part in the fourth annual Sea Scout Cruisette.

Over 300 Sea Scouts, Mariners and Senior Girl Scouts from Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois took part in the three-day event.

Attending from Farmington were: Janet Ruelle, Mary Lichwala, Linda Campbell, Gayle Hamilton, Nancy Spittle, Sandra Savage, Debra Halperin, Jan Short, Linda Holtz, Marilyn Conner, Rochelle Halperin and Merry Sue MacIvaine.

Attending with them were their leaders, Mrs. F. Reagan, Mrs. B. Papke, and Mrs. D. Lezech.

THE WEEKEND of fun and fellowship included competitive scouting events in land and water skills, and entertainment such as a dance, banquet, parade and campfire.

The boys camped in the park overlooking White Lake, where most of the activity took place. Girls were housed in the high school gymnasium.

The event was sponsored by the Timber Trails Council, Boy Scouts of America, with headquarters in Muskegon, Michigan, and the Whitehall Chamber of Commerce.

Foods of the future will come with built-in-glance. Difficult French sauces and mile-high souffles will come to you powdered in small envelopes. The hard-to-make complicated dishes will be easy to make. Pancakes may have the sausage built in, and the gravy may ooze out the Swiss steak while it heats for you.

Marcia Marsh Now A Nurse

Miss Marcia Judy Marsh of 2170 Middlebrook Rd., Farmington, received her diploma for completion of the three-year nursing program at the 18th annual commencement of West Suburban Hospital School of Nursing, Oak Park, Illinois.

The ceremony was held in the First Congregational Church, Lake and Kenilworth streets, Oak Park, at 8 p.m. on August 1.

Fifty-seven young women graduated and became registered as professional nurses (R.N.) on successfully passing the State Board examination.

DR. V. RAYMOND EDMAN, president of Wheaton College (Illinois), was the commencement speaker and addressed the nurses on "Not Somehow, But Triumphantly."

Ellis H. Denney, president of the hospital board of trustees, awarded the candidates their diplomas.

While Miss Mary Mitchell, director of nursing, presented the young women their pins.

The West Suburban Hospital School of Nursing was organized in 1914 and graduated its first class of four young women in 1915. Wheaton College and the hospital entered into a co-operative arrangement in 1936, combining a college course with the professional nursing program. Qualified graduates from the School of Nursing may elect to attend the College for two years for the bachelor of science degree with a major in nursing.

Wheaton College is a liberal arts college of high academic standards. It is on the approved list of the Association of American Universities and is a member of the North Central Association of Colleges and Universities.

distinctive Christian emphasis in all of its activities. Annual enrollment exceeds 1,800 men and women.

Couple Speak Wedding Vows In Christ Episcopal Church

Christ Episcopal Church, East Tawas, was the setting for the ceremony Saturday afternoon, in which Liana Rigg and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Honig of Farmington.

The Rev. Robert E. Morrison read the rites for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph H. West, East Tawas, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Honig of Farmington.

THE BRIDE wore a floor-length gown of ivory satin featuring bustle type bows in the back. Her matching ivory satin train held the veil of French illusion and she carried a traditional bouquet of white roses and ivy.

Wearing identically styled vest or organza dresses with controlled bell-shaped skirts were Mrs. David Fulcher of Davison, sister of the bride and matron of honor, and Miss Linda Nipman of Flint, bridesmaid. They carried crescent bouquets of bronze chrysanthemums.

SERVING AS best man for the bridegroom was J. A. S. Steckley of Detroit. Guests were seated by Dennis Spalla of Detroit, and William Western, brother of the bride. A 14
