At Home in Old Homestead

MARY CHECKRETS

474-5705

Old Homestead's residents were quite busy over the weekend. Joe and Irene and their young offspring spent a month full summer vacation season. Many were in the last days of their vacations and others were visiting friends and relatives or entertaining them at home. For most it was a hectic finale to summer.

The first social event for the fall season in our subdivision, the Men's Stag Party, Sept. 7, turned out the men in force with an attendance of 28 — the largest number ever to attend this function to date. From all the reports from the fellows that were at the dinner the party was a big smash! Cards, pool, swimming (even though the night was cool some took a dip in the pool), and music too were all provided by experts — the men themselves.

I'D LIKE to take my columnist's bat off for a moment and don my Social Committee Chairman's sombrero if I may. I would personally like to express my thanks and sincere appreciation to both Pat Morgan and Phyllis Borst for taking over the preparations and planning of the Stag Party. They did a beautiful job of feeding all those hungry men and I learned a great deal just from watching them. I really won't be able to thank them enough for all they did to make the party the success that it was. The fellows really enjoyed themselves.

This month the Pinocchio Club will hold their meeting at Al and Thula Siegel's home at 30299 Hardinburg Road, Tuesday evening, 8 p.m., September 24.

THE BIRTHDAY CORNER, along with the Anniversary Corner, is pretty darned this entire month, however, a few were celebrated this past week. On Tuesday, Sept. 3, Mike Preston accompanied his parents and sister to his grandparents' cabin on Lake St. Clair where a family birthday party was held in honor of his 14th birthday.

Al and Marguerite Dale's oldest son, Brian, celebrated his 15th birthday also this past week. On Sept. 7 Brian's family helped him celebrate his birthday and then he and a couple of friends attended the Bookend-Any at Our Lady of Sorrows Church.

Congratulations go this week to Al and Phyllis Borst of Lyman Road on their 26th wedding anniversary which was on Sept. 3.

CONGRATULATIONS and best wishes are extended from their many friends and neighbors in the subdivision to Al and Phyllis Borst's son, Charles, and his new bride, Jane Wolfe, on their recent marriage. The bride is a graduate of biochemist from Wayne University and is working in Ann Arbor. Charles is attending Wayne University majoring in business administration. The newweds are presently residing in Ann Arbor.

Several youngsters from our sub started Longacre Elementary School for the very first time this past week. Among those who will have a whole new world opening up before them by starting kindergarten this year are Kathi Angle, Robbie Bohme, Beth Bouffard, Brad Craig, Craig Nankervis, Jennifer Ross, John Rowe and Suzzy Ziegen.

While you're sorting through your children's clothing the next few weeks, if you haven't already done so, seeing which are still useable and which are to be discarded, it would be greatly appreciated if you would remember the young patients who need clothing at the Northville State Hospital. All sizes can be used from layettes up to sizes 36. If you DO have any clothing (boys, girls or baby) you would like to give please call Velma Kaufman at 476-5430 and she will make arrangements with you for her to pick them up at your home.

A FEW OPENINGS are still available on the Thursday morning women's bowling teams at Bel-Aire. If you are interested please call Irene Barth for the particulars on joining a team at GR. 4-8463. Regular team bowling is scheduled to start this week.

Many Old Homestead residents enjoyed a late summer vacation during August. Ed and Flo Ziegen and their four children spent an extremely enjoyable week at a cottage on Lake Ann which is 12 miles west of Traverse City. A side trip to the Sleeping Bear State Dunes area among other activities such as swimming, loafing, fishing (Flo caught her very first fish at Lake Ann) filled out the week's schedule before returning to spend Labor Day weekend at home.

A ten-day vacation in Ocean-side, Florida was thoroughly enjoyed recently by Leo and Doris Lorenz. They visited Doris' brother, Robert Pelletier, who resides in Ocean-side.

Also returned just lately from their vacation is Joe and Irene

Larson and their three daughters, Karen, Mary Jo and Linda. Joe and Irene and their young offspring spent a month full summer vacation season. Many were in the last days of their vacations and others were visiting friends and relatives or entertaining them at home. For most it was a hectic finale to summer.

AL AND PHYLLIS Borst also spent a short vacation on the shores of Lake Michigan. They and their two daughters, Judy and Marilyn, visited a week prior to the Labor Day weekend. While on vacation the new-layeds, Chuck and Jane Borst, took care of the Borst home on Lyman Road.

Don't forget that this coming Saturday, Sept. 14, is the first square dance of the fall. It's to be at the Morgan residence on Paddelford Road.

The first fall monthly get-together of the Arkites, the young married couples of the First Presbyterian Church of Farmington, will be on Friday, Oct. 4. Reservations for the dinner should be made by the prior Tuesday by members and anyone interested in attending. The square dance has been planned for the October meeting while in November a minstrel show will be put on and in December there will be a smorgas-borg.

RECENTLY SOME reports of a peeping tom have been passed on to me. I would like to suggest to our residents that they keep their shades drawn, drapes pulled shut and doors locked during the night for safety's sake. Incidents of this nature should be reported to the police immediately so they might apprehend the person who is guilty.

Useless, but interesting information dept.: There are more than 32 different kinds of bread that the world's population consumes according to the Encyclopedia International. The two major groupings are yeast breads and the quick breads which has 14 varieties including crumpets, muffins and popovers.

One of the most dramatic changes in foods in the past half-century has been the increase in processing. Processing food adds to its dollar value because a useful function has been performed. Often the form of a food is changed. In order to cut costs of marketing our food, retailers are turning to more efficient methods of operation. Some of these methods include greater use of mechanical handling of data and records... centralized handling of perishable foods... and more highly skilled and responsible personnel.

The food processing plant of today does not resemble the plant of 10 years ago. Product research and equipment development groups constantly work on new methods to make plants more efficient. In 1952 one large processor reported approximately 500 changes in formulas and procedures in the food processing plants. Each change meant a better formulation, an improved ingredient.
