Nine Raider Football Players Given All-Conference Honors

North Farmington football earned All-Conference honors this season, during the nine-game campaign which saw six victories go to the Raiders.

Jim Prucha was a popular choice for an All-Conference second team berth. Prucha, who shared co-captaincy duties for the Raiders this season along with Acitelli and Voss, was converted from an end position to a guard this year and turned in consistently fine play as a key blocker.

Quarterback Lee Marttila, and Lindsay Letcher and tackle Dan McCutcheon earned berths along with Prucha on the All-Conference second team.

MARTTILA proved himself a masterful field general for the Raiders and Letcher turned in a steady performance at his flanker position. McCutcheon, along with Murray Switzer who earned Honorable Mention, provided Coach Holland with two of the most aggressive tackles in the league.

Rounding out the All-Conference honors for North Farmington's grid team were Honorable Mention winners Bob "Benny" Huth and Lynn Patrick.

Huth logged the pigskin from his halfback position with considerable effectiveness and also provided the Raiders with great speed at their defensive safety post.

Patrick held down a guard position with authority for the Raiders and turned in outstanding play as a linebacker on defense.

COACH HOLLAND praised several other members of the team.

Cross Country Team at NFHS Posts 4-3 Mark

Last Saturday, November 2, concluded the 1963 Cross Country season with the running of the State finals at Washtenaw County Club.

Doug Wood was North Farmington's lone starter in the running final. Doug placed high to end a fine season of running. Birmingham's Sean O'Malley was crowned class "A" champ.

The Raiders finished dual competition with a winning season of four victories against three defeats. Along with finishing third in the conference, the Raiders finished high in the Clarencoville Invitational and the Oakland County meet.

Doug Wood posted the best time of the season with a blistering 10:12 for the two-mile course. Larry Muzzarelli had the next best time of 30:25.

Y-Teens at N.F. Plan Nut Sale

Girls of the North Farmington Y-Teens Club have been very busy in the past few weeks. Their annual nut sale received a good "kick-off" at open house, November 12. This year's chairman of the event is Diane Valenti. Serving on a four-committee are Lynn Swindall, Wendy Worthing, Lisa Packnitz and Linda Newman.

Next in the line of money raising activities is a neighborhood bake sale. A committee of five members was chosen to plan where and when the bake is to be held.

Y-Teens are also engaged in two service projects for this month. Their annual canned-goods drive begins November 22, and lasts through Thanksgiving vacation. These canned goods will be distributed to needy families throughout the community for Thanksgiving.

Secondly on their agenda for this month's service project is collecting money and names for the yearbook's patron. In light of the answer, they are helping the yearbook add sixteen more pages to this year's book.

If you have on hand usable or repairable household discards you no longer need, please call Miss Lora Ault, GR. 4-4224 and arrange to have them picked up by Goodwill Industries.

Kimberley Has Many Bowlers Competing in Various Leagues

Kimberley's Jim Martin, president; Don over-200 games are Neal Trom-

Raider Cagers Appear Strong

November 4 marked the beginning of Varsity Basketball at North Farmington. November 27 will open the 1963-64 campaign for Northern Raiders when they meet arch-rival South Farmington, on the Raiders' hardwood. Although the Falcons beat NF last year, North Farmington will be looking for revenge as well as a good start for their season.

Although NF has not been rated as a basketball power, the entire starting lineup will be returning, along with a force of potential players. Singled out for praise were Rex Lentz, who bounced back from a severe knee injury suffered early in the season to hold down the offensive center position.

Bob Thomas and Keith Hite, who shared the fullback slot for the Raiders, both proved themselves hard-running backs who ground out many first downs in tough third down situations.

Coach Holland and his staff, Ken Dean and Tom Wallis, will have to look to next season with an eye for new talent as 24 varsity lettermen will be lost through graduation. Juniors returning to the squad numbering 11 and one sophomore will have to provide the nucleus for next year's team with the balance of Raider talent coming from a fine reserve football team which posted a 6-1 record this fall.

Scores: Hole-In-One

Another Farmington Jukman has registered a hole-in-one this season that could earn him a trip to Scotland for two and $1,000.

While playing at the Farmington Country Club recently, Robert B. Johnson of 32361 Heartstone recorded only one swipe at the ball to zero in on a cup.
