Kendallwood Komments

By KATHY (I'll Write If You Call) ZISKA GR. 4-7261

Many of our Kendallwood families spent the Thanksgiving holiday with relatives out of town. The John Pehr family of Farmington Road spent Thanksgiving Day and the weekend following with relatives in Pittsburgh. The Joe Pietro family spent their Thanksgiving holiday at a family reunion in Akron, Ohio, at which both sides of the family were present.

The weekend before Thanksgiving, Dick and Bernice Lotz of Baintree went to Alexandria, Virginia (a suburb of Washington, D.C.) to attend a niece's wedding.

The Steve Sandbothe family of Peppermint, just returned from a weekend up North at Central Lake in Ball Lake, Mich.

FOR THE second year, Kendallwood IV residents chartered a bus to take the youngsters and parents to see the Annual Christmas Parade on Thanksgiving Day in downtown Detroit. Pastor Kallreider of the Antioch Lutheran Church and his family took the trip and the pastor led the children and parents in song during the trip and from downtown Detroit.

A moving-in party was given by Pat and Dave Clyde of Bonnet Hill, who recently moved from Kendallwood I to Kendallwood III and had much help from friends and neighbors so, Pat and Dave decided to give a dinner for those that helped them move. Among those present enjoying the fun were Dick and Bernice Lotz, Jack and Nancy Passfield, and a number of other couples not from the Kendallwood area.

Ann White of Baintree recovered from a bad back (caused by a fall) just in time for her young daughter, Julie White to come down with the mumps.

Mary Watson's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight M. Watson, who live in New York for the Thanksgiving holiday and the weekend following.

Edith Watson's brother and sister-in-law, the late Mr. and Mrs. East, and daughter Linda from Detroit, came out to be with the Watsons and Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell for Thanksgiving dinner.

I had a chance this weekend to converse with your former Kendallwood Komments Reporter, Janice Haydel. Her husband and family were houseguests of Mickey and Gerry Williams on Brandwine, Wayne, Janice, Randy and Walter, and Janice's mother, Mrs. W. Hirschi of New Orleans, motored here for the weekend from Mt. Prospect, Illinois to attend a wedding on Sunday, which Amy Beth, daughter of Mickey and Gerry Williams had at her home.

Friday evening, Mickey and Gerry Williams had open house so that Janice and Wayne could visit with former friends and neighbors.

On Sunday, Dec. 1, a surprise bridal shower was given for Nanelle Graczyk by Rose Marie Levitan and Vanessa Graczyk. Nanelle, who resides in New York, came in for the Thanksgiving holiday to be with her parents who reside at 2828 Willow. Forty-two ladies had a very lovely time at the shower.

The Red Tree Bridge Club met on Saturday, November 31, at the home of Bob and Cross on Farmersville. An Italian Buffet Supper was served and since Jack Fleishman and Maury Watson were celebrating their birthdays, candles topped their spumoni ice cream.

Fathers and sons of St. Fabian's Parish got together on Sunday, Dec. 1, to receive Holy Communion in a Body at the 8 o'clock Mass and then went to breakfast at the Glen Oaks Country Club. Paul Feytack, former Tiger pitcher now with Los Angeles, was guest speaker.
