MARIE RUYLE

This week in Farmington Oaks saw quite a number of birthdays. One, especially, deserves mention, since it was a "beginning" birthday.

Donna Plisko gave birth to a 7 pound, 11 ounce boy at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia on Feb. 15.

DONNA and BILL brought little John Patrick home Sunday, and when they added him to their other six, they found they have the most children in the subdivision. Congratulations!

The Bergins went out to dinner on the 15th to observe Al's birthday. There were two birthday parties on the 15th. The May family gathered to help Pam celebrate her third birthday.

Willie Kineale, his grandmother and great-grandmother, and family celebrated his fourth birthday on the 15th. Ralph Chittwood also observed a birthday on the same day.

CYNTHIA CLINE was hostess to seven young ladies on the 15th in observance of her ninth birthday, which falls on Valentine's Day. She took her guests to the movies: Jayne Tomney, Susan Kineale, Mary Anne Buyle, Patty Mascoe, Linda Abid, and friends Gayle Napolitano, and Pat Crowley from her old neighborhood.

Wedding anniversaries were celebrated on the 15th. Jack and Peggy Toomey spent last weekend in Chicago to celebrate their 20th.

Harold and Madeline Rinz had a family party on the 15th to celebrate their anniversary.

FARMINGTON OAKS took on a slightly international flavor over the past weekend in connection with Brotherhood Week. Two our families entertained exchange students from distant lands. The Mosleys hosted James Gamara, a 17-year-old high school junior from La Paz, Bolivia, who has been attending school and living in Livonia since the first of the year.

Ray Biggs and his family had as a guest Cemel Lalacek, a 16-year-old senior from Sampson, Turkey.

The sympathy of all of us is extended to Yvonne Smith and her family. Yvonne's father passed away Feb. 13, in Detroit.

Peg Cline's mother, Mrs. Elsie Crowley, spent the week with the Cline's while recovering from a broken wrist suffered during a fall.

PAUL TESORERO combined business with pleasure during a trip to the east. He visited Washington and New York City.

My parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lokinski, came Sunday with one of my sisters, Mrs. George Kappinger, and friends Bill and Catherine Thompson, all of Saginaw. They were in and out so fast we weren't really sure we had company, but it was nice to see them.

When they go to department stores, some wives are like General Custer—the only word they know is "Charge."

Ron Wellbaum was passing out blue-banded cigars last week. Ron's wife Donna gave birth on Feb. 5 to their third son. Douglas Robert, a plump 9 lbs. 3 ozs., was born at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

Douglas was welcomed home by his big brothers David and Danny. Donna's mother, Mrs. McDonnell, flew down from Canton, Ohio to cuddle Douglas.

A big welcome grandmotherly assistance.

Pat Clouse and Lou Lombardi entertained neighborhood friends in honor of Mary Beaske and her future heir. Gifted baby to be were Fran Murray, Arline Strane, Bev Babick, Betty Dorsch and Pat and Lou.

Mrs. and Mr. Mark Hester were among those who hosted a family party on the 15th. Active families who hosted an exchange student last weekend. Michael Messler, a Junior at Farmington High, entertained Georgi Langley from Germany.

MRS. and MRS. RUSS STARK of Robinsonville entertained at a cocktail party recently in honor of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Russ Stark Jr., who traveled from Pennsylvania to visit his folks for the weekend. Old friends and new neighbors joined in the celebration.

Shirley Smith's mother and dad, Mr. and Mrs. Ray White, drove down from Milwaukee with their daughter-in-law and three grandchildren to spend the weekend with the Robert family.

Irene and Bob Walker were pleased to have Mary Anne and Phil Orin, and daughter Steffie spend last Sunday with them. The Orins reside in Midland but at one time were neighbors of the Walkers in Flint.

John Washburn headed the list of fathers who "guided" the Indian Guides to Kensington. Mark last week Jerry Bogosko took his newly formed Boy Scout troop to Lake Orion.

Lynn Stock returned to her studies at Eastern Michigan after a mid-term vacation with her parents, Glenn and Marge Stock of Laurelwood.
