

Mercy College Dialogue Day Program Is Slated for March 4

Four prominent activists in the ecumenical area will speak at Mercy College of Detroit during the Jewish-Catholic Dialogue Day March 4.

The first conference of its kind to be held in Michigan is sponsored by a Catholic College and a Jewish organization; Mercy College and the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith will present a dialogue that will concentrate on areas where the two religions share responsibilities and goals, but not necessarily the same points of view.

The Rev. William G. Connors, D.D., of Greensburg, Pa., and Rabbi Morris Adler, spiritual leader of Congregation Shalom Zedek, will speak on "Commitment to the Future" at 8 p.m. in McAuley Auditorium on the Mercy campus at W. Outer Drive and Southfield. The public is invited. There is no admission charge.

SPRING FASHION CLOSE-UPS

KNIFE-PLEATED SKIRTS, tilt-style, are fluttering everywhere with suits... Also great is the flounce on dress, suit or coat. Sashes and smocks have caught on like fire, and are wonderful for Spring because of their young, airy look. They are a further expression of softness, of the non-constricting tendency in clothes. Women are getting used to this freedom which also allows for softer, more feminine underlinings. The smock is worn washed or not, in prints with long Tom Jones sleeves.

To maintain high fashion and style for Spring the New Economy Color is here. It is "COLORELLE" from the French formulas of Paris, the birthplace of high fashion and style.

COLORELLE... the perfect Jean's Bel Aire Salon introduction to hair coloring for economy minded patrons for "just-starting-to-grey" persons who want to keep their youthful, natural color and for the many women who want new color vitality added to their dull, drab, tired-looking hair.

Miss Maureen Dailey Speaks Wedding Vows

Miss Maureen T. Dailey, daughter of Mr. Milton J. Dailey of 21330 Hamilton in Farmington and Mrs. Bud Thomas of 21304 Rockwell in Farmington, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, February 1, in the First Methodist Church of Birmingham with Mr. Charles Stanley Neal, son of Mr. Donald Neal of Pontiac and Mrs. Catherine Neal of St. Petersburg, Florida.

The double ring candlelight wedding ceremony was presided over by the Rev. Lovejoy of the First Methodist Church of Birmingham.

THE BRIDE wore a white velvet, two-piece, floor length gown with a bell-shaped skirt and a white velvet train flowing from the shoulders. The dress was made by the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Catherine Neal.

The bride's headress was a floral tiara crown securing a fingertip veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and stephanotis.

Donna Palmer served the bride as the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nadia Hanna and Phyllis Smith. The bride's attendants were dressed in gowns of aqua velvet styled in the same design of the bride's gown. They wore headresses of aqua velvet securing short, long length veils and carried bouquets of white daisies in cascades.

Serving as the bridegroom's best man was his brother, Richard Neal. Groomsmen were Frank Bromley and Jim Brown. "Oh, Lord Most Holy" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Mr. Palmer, accompanied by Mr. Peterson.

A RECEPTION was held following the church ceremony in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Farmington. A dinner was served to the 250 guests and a band provided dance music throughout the evening. Marguerite Scholz presided at the guest register.

The newlyweds honeymooned in northern Michigan and plan a trip to the Bahamas in May. They are making their home in Pontiac. The bride is a graduate student at Wayne State University majoring in child psychiatry nursing. The bridegroom attended General Motors Institute and Florida State College.

Each scored highest in her school in a written homemaker examination given senior students throughout the country Dec. 3, and is now eligible for one of 102 scholarships totaling $10,000.

TEXAS PAPERS of all school winners in the state will be judged comparatively in coming weeks, and a State Homemaker award will be given. She will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills, Inc., sponsor of the annual program.

Kiwanis Club To Host College Singing Group

The Farmington Kiwanis Club has planned a large and receptive audience to welcome the Grand Rapids Junior College Collegiate Singers when they perform at Botsford Inn next Tuesday evening, March 3.

The Singers, who have a varied and entertaining repertoire before the regularly scheduled Ladies Night audience plus the many visiting Kiwanians and guests.

RONALD TAYLOR, program chairman, indicated that interest is high in the Collegiate Singers, since they have performed admirably at many Kiwanis International Conventions across the nation. Thirty-one Kiwanis Clubs in the area have been invited to attend, as well as interested local singers and music students.

The Collegiate Singers are famed for their clever arrangements of well-known melodies plus their original staging and formation stances. Prior to their appearance at Botsford Inn, they will perform before the students of the Cloverdale Elementary School, and the East Junior High School, during the afternoon.

LLOYD SMITH, chairman of arrangements, said that plans are now complete for the house of the Singers. Tuesday night, and providing for their meals while they are in the area. The cooperation of the Cloverdale and East Junior High schools, and students in making their stay in Farmington comfortable is most appreciated.

She Graham, 1963 graduate of Farmington High School, is a singer with the group, and traveled with them when they sang at the International Kiwanis Convention in Atlantic City, New Jersey, in July. The group has performed in Miami Beach, Toronto, Denver, as well as before many clubs and organizations in Michigan. They are planning an overseas tour this summer to sing for service men in the United States armed forces.

On Wednesday morning, they will sing before the student body at Northville High School. Before returning to Grand Rapids, Program Chairman Taylor extended an invitation to all interested persons to come to Botsford Inn Tuesday evening at 7:30 and hear the group perform.

A yellow truck from Goodwill Industries will be collecting household discards in the Farmington and West Point Park area every Tuesday. Arrangements have been made for your door by calling Miss Lora Ault, GR. 4-3294.

THE PURPOSE of the reading party was to acquaint the parents with some of the methods used in the teaching of reading in the first grade in the Farmington Schools.

THOSE PARENTS who were in attendance at the first reading party on October 16 of last year were better able to see the progress made by the children since that date than those who were not present.

THE PROCESS of learning to read requires two groups of skills—the mechanics of reading and comprehension skills. Because all children do not learn at the same rate of speed, it is necessary to place children where they are most comfortable and relaxed if real learning is to take place. This difference in the rate of learning accounts for the grouping of children for reading classes. The parents were soon able to make note of the differences in their first grade children.

It is the teacher's opinion that parents were able to get a fair overall view of the methods used for teaching of reading in the first grade. Therefore, there will be no more such parties unless the need for one arises.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Angelo DiGiugno of Livonia announce the engagement of their daughter, Angela Marie, to W. J. Jody, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Jody of Farmington. An October 17 wedding is planned.

Eventide Residents Enjoy N. Farmington Band Program

The North Farmington High School Band, 60 strong, dressed in their new regalia and looking every bit like a professional outfit entertained the residents of Eventide Thursday evening and won many plaudits from their audience.

THEIR NEW uniforms of brown and gold were very attractively decorated. A sort of panel in front which hung to below the waist line was decorated with a "Raider" emblem. A gold braid. The girls of whom there were twenty or more wore sleek and otherwise uniform very different numbers. They all had gold stripes on their trousers. The band has a decorated lyre above the view.

Lead by Lawrence Haver, their director, who has developed the band through its entire five years, they played several very difficult numbers very efficiently. These included extracts from George Gershwin's "Rhapsody in Blue," the "Barber of Seville" and several other selections.

A group of ten members presented a specialty which was a

Mrs. Harold McVicar of Shady Side Ave. reports that her father, Marvin Addis, who has been seriously ill in Pontiac General Hospital, is now much better and returned to his home near Pontiac. Mr. Addis will be remembered as having resided many years on Shady Side Ave.

Mrs. Merrill Johnson, Park Ave., has recovered from an attack of flu.

THE BAND WON the competitive prize in last year's high school band contest. They will complete this year when "Sequoia," composed by Homer LaGassey, retired Director of Music Education in the Detroit Schools, will be a required number for "A" Class High School bands throughout Michigan.

Mr. LaGassey was present Thursday evening to give his moral support to the band. Mr. Warren McKenzie, assistant principal of the high school, was also present.
