In Our Opinion

Benefiting Property Owners Should Pay

A lot has been heard in recent weeks about the problem of a safe walking route for boys and girls who travel along the Grand River Road to get to and from the East Junior High School and Middlebell grade school.
There is no question about that a serious problem does exist but some of the proposed solutions we have heard just don't sound too reasonable to us.
One of these is that the school district or township should stand the expense of constructing a necessary amount of concrete sidewalk along the major roadway to serve the children walking to the schools. After all, the concerned content, it would only cost a few thousand dollars and the safety of the children should be worth this much. What the people who suggest such action just can't seem to understand is that it would set a precedent and prompt similar demands from many other areas where similar situations exist, not only presently but for a number of years to come. The couple of thousand dollars in cost to the school district or township which might result initially would thus trigger a necessity for the expenditure of many thousands of dollars worth of taxpayers' money in the school district in the years ahead.
Even in cities where substantially higher tax rates for city services are levied than in townships, sidewalks are not paid for by the city-at-large but by benefiting property owners in the form of special assessment made against them.
We are sure the people living on the east side of Farmington Road or those on either side of Grand River Avenue east of the downtown Farmington business section would have liked very much for the city or school district to finance the cost of the sidewalks they were required to put in a while back. But, such was not the case and the benefiting property owners were required to stand the cost through special assessment.
If the people on Grand River and Farmington Road in the areas we mentioned must pay for their walks then we can't see how the people can feel that the property owners along Middlebell Road shouldn't be expected to do the same.
No governmental bodies can be expected to provide all of these kinds of facilities for their citizenry and shouldn't have to at the expense of the general taxpayer, in our opinion.

Unwanted Home 'Callers' Can Be Curtailed

Throughout the year, but particularly during the spring and summer months it seems, the door to door salesmen and peddlers come out in force with nearly every imaginable kind of product or service that you "just shouldn't be without."
It has been something that has been disturbing to us and even more so to our better half for some time back now and we are sure equally as disturbing to many of you. Not all door to door sales people are objectionable but it does annoy us to see that the number who are so far out-weights the number who are not.
There are a couple of other unwanted sales pitches which have come our way quite frequently in the past which have also been quite disturbing. These are the phone calls from firms urging the purchase of the product or that the advertising pieces which get hung on the door knob-at our home or stuck under the windshield wiper of the car.
It seems that the only way to beat the unwanted sales pitches over the phone is to get your telephone number unlisted. The City of Farmington with legislation against advertising handbills being hung on doors but from the number we have been seeing still fastened on doors it doesn't appear that it is a regulation being too rigidly enforced. Of course, you can't expect enforcement unless you can get the public relations department don't care the public that you're receiving such in a manner other than that prescribed by city code.
The City of Farmington has had a solicitors and peddlers ordinance on its books for almost two years now requiring nearly all engaged in such work to be thoroughly cleared, authorized, and to pay a license fee to go door to door. It is up until the end of January of next year Farmington Township had no legislation to govern door to door solicitors and peddlers, but it has such legislation now, and with some real teeth in it. It is now mandatory, therefore, that door-to-door salesmen anywhere in the community be properly licensed. If township officials still have no regulations against sticking advertising pieces on your door or in your mailbox but it is very likely that they will have in the not too distant future.
Ordinances and regulations of this kind are in no sense of the word easy to enforce. The only way they can be enforced well is with each and every citizen's full cooperation.
When a peddler or salesman calls at your door, insist on seeing his bona fide license from the city or township before dealing with him. If he refuses to show the same or says that he has no such license, call the police department immediately and report the solicitor. If you do tell them all you know, including the area he is working in.
You are never going to be able to completely eliminate door to door salesmen calling on you, but through the licensing now required you will at least be able to get rid of nearly all of those who are trying to sell inferior products or services. It will take only your cooperation in reporting any unlicensed salesmen who call at your house or business place.

Looking Back in the Files

5 Years Ago
MARCH 12, 1939
Regional Title
The Farmington High School wrestling team took top honors at the Regional tournament with three Falcons capturing the first place points. Winning Regional championships in their weight divisions for Farmington were Tom Postema, Jerry Cassell and Dan Bessler.
Spring Election
A large field of candidates will be on the April 6 ballot voting for three city council seats up for reelection. The Town election will pit Democratic and Republican candidates against one another in a fight that is getting pretty warm.

Annual Speech Assembly at NF Set March 12

North Farmington High School speech students will present their annual Speech Assembly on Thursday evening, March 12, at 7:30 p.m. at North Farmington High School, 13 Mile and Farmington roads.
Ninety speech students making up four advanced speech classes will present a program of skits, entitled "A Time To Live And A Time To Die" created and directed by Judith A. Hoch, speech director. Other interested persons are invited to attend. There is no charge.
The impishness and imagination of the skits is expected to draw immediately in the introduction which brings the participants into the auditorium in a solemn procession. In the program, Terry Kaplan on the drum, and Mr. Lloyd Smith at the piano. This dramatic opening is followed by various skits and skits of the following, which is primarily an interpretative and choral reading, entitled "The Rainy Day," and Pat Frecha who reads "With '33' Wind" is read by Laurie Cairns, and "How Far To The Grave" by Cathy Gesler. Billie Davidge reads "Our Town".
Three recited pantomimes are soloed by Phyllis Sedar, Bob Thomas and Linda Andridge. The skit reading group performs interestingly as the role of interpreting the various scenes of life's span. The entire group of thirty voices in this skit is directed by Mrs. Sedar. The two dramatic skits flanking the choral readers are in costumes depicting the various scenes of the program. The skit dancers grace the upper stage area. Stage crewmen, light and sound technicians bring the total cast to nearly 100. The program has been termed a unique and sophisticated experience in the realm of speech arts.
Miss Sedar will cordially extend a warm invitation for all interested community persons to attend the performance on Thursday evening next week.

Meeting Held By Quakertown Questers Here

The Quakertown Chapter of the Questers held their February meeting at the home of Mrs. P. Devlin, Mrs. G. Newman, which is on Power Rd., Farmington.
Mrs. Newman not only presided but for the occasion also presented an excellent and most interesting study paper on "Victorian Furniture".
This fascinating subject was a made more interesting with three charming chairs of this particular period, which grace the lovely Newman home.
Mr. W. Shafoe assisted at the table.
IT WAS REPORTED that the Farmington Library graciously acknowledged the annual donation made to them. It is a custom of this group to annually hold a sale of antiques which is held at the Newman home. The proceeds of which are turned over to the Library to be used toward the purchase of new books on antiques and related subjects.
This tradition serves as a dual purpose, for these unusual books in antiques are not only available to the various Questers of our community, but also available to anyone with a quest for antiques and their historical background.
Among the Quester members and guests in attendance were Mrs. H. P. Adams, Mrs. Philip Day, Mrs. J. T. DeVries, Mrs. P. Devlin, Mrs. E. Freeman, Mrs. F. E. Harding, Mrs. C. M. Timmons, Mrs. R. J. Truesdell, Mrs. Wm. Conroy, Mrs. E. E. Tolson and Mrs. W. Zimmerman.
The Quakertown Chapter meets the last Wednesday of each month at noon. Anyone interested in antiques is welcome as a guest or prospective member. You may call Mrs. Newman at GR. 4-4383 or Mrs. J. T. DeVries at GR. 4-9265.

MARIE LONG
GR. 4-5111
Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Jills just returned from the 10th Eastern New England area where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Johnson in Salem, Mass. who formerly resided in the Birmingham area.
The trip was made primarily to check on the condition of Mrs. Jills' eyes. On their return trip, visits were made to several of the scenic spots of New Jersey. It is nice to have them home again. The children of the Plymouth State Home and Training School missed their work and visits during the past few weeks.

Old Homestead

Albert and Phyllis Borsd of Lyman Road have exciting news! They are grandparents! The exciting news is that they have a new son, named Robert Charles. He was born at St. Simi on February 16. Grandma reports he is behaving like a very good boy. She is helping out temporarily. When she is unavailable, James' own lucky little fellow has great grandparents on both sides.
Being a grandmother isn't the only thing Phyllis has been doing in the Pineapple Club member. She has been busy on February 25. First prize winner was Thelma Machecho of Padelford Lane.

Clarenceville School News

The Trojan varsity basketball team concluded its regular season of play Friday with a 60-50 record having posted eight victories against eight losses. The Trojans suffered their eighth loss last Friday, Feb. 28, when they lost to Clarkston, 65-44.
District tournaments are being played next week and the outcome of this activity will be announced next week.
On Friday of last week there was also a special assembly in the Junior High gymnasium with a program being put on by foreign exchange students from several schools in this area. Exchange students from Ireland, England, Uruguay, Spain, Egypt and many other countries discussed a wide variety of customs, their types of government, industries and the climate in their homelands.
Student Council President John Moran directed the discussion and a general question and answer period afterwards. There were 21 exchange students who participated in the program including Clarenceville's two exchange pupils. Throughout the school day they toured the school speaking to various classes.

In Michigan... after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and company scores. What better way to add to the fun than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—dining, skating or your own game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.
Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom—and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.
