Janis Skow, youngest daughter of the Kenneth Skows, Mayfield Ave., has now recovered from a throat infection which kept her indoors several days.

There was a good turnout of the local Hobby Club Thursday afternoon. However, it is understood they may recess until the Easter vacation season is over.

The friendly poison which lives in this neighborhood has decided that winter is over with and is making his rounds again. He does not depend on cereal for his food supply. Instead he regularly visits containers filled with food and put out for the cats and dogs. Cats do not seem to mind him in the least and have even been seen eating along with him.

Former FHS Trumpet Player Now Dixieland Band Leader

(Editor's Note: The following article appeared in the Dayton Beach Sunday News-Journal, February 23 edition, under the byline of Mort Paulson, Business Editor.)

A PLEASANT - LOOKING chap walked into the office the other day and introduced himself. "I'm King James," he exclaimed, brightly.

I started to say that's fine, I'm Lyndon Johnson, but the caller proceeded to explain the King bit. He is, it developed, a young type of King, except that his specialty is Dixieland.

King James is a transplant of horn player who sells furniture day and night. Thanks to him and four other jazzmen of the old, strait-from-the-heart school, Daytona Beach is hearing the exhilarating syncopation of the re-birth of Dixieland—live.

With the help of Munn Ware, trombonist extraordinary who has enchanted jazz lovers on Basin Street to Birdland, Frank Ward handles the skins, Bob Ward handles the piano and Fletcher is on piano.

All five are pros. The King, whose real name is Jim Martin, played in Detroit for years under the King James name.

Fletcher was with the Penn-Cann Jazz Band in New York City for seven years.

Ware has been a polyphonic maverick leader since the days of Dix.

"Now, we don't go in for that wild, free-for-all style," the King assured me. "There's too much of that stuff and it's hurt Dixieland."

"Our specialty is Dixieland you can dance to. There are a lot of good, pleasing, danceable sounds in Dixie. We play them."

The King and his men also supply sartorial flavor with their music—straw hats, blazing red vests and string ties.

The band has played several engagements but its big public debut will take place April 4 when it shares the stage with a conventional dance band at the annual Silver Slipper charity ball at the Armory.

"Do the people around here go for Dixieland?" I asked the King. "I'd have you done so far?"

"Oh, I'd say the reception has been fabulous," replied his majesty, modestly.

Nothing sounds like a good Dixieland band.

The smallest good dext is better than the grandest good intention.
