TO HELP THE BLIND HELP THEMSELVES Bell System scientists have introduced a new kind of telephone switchboard which can be operated by a blind operator. This opens up a new job opportunity for the blind. The new device converts the light signals of the conventional switchboard to sound signals. Other recent Bell System devices to aid the handicapped include a volume-control handset for the hard of hearing, and an electronic larynx for those who have lost the power of speech.

WELCOME A PRINCESS
Into your life! A Princess telephone, of course... the littlest and loveliest of them all. Any room is the room for your Princess phone. Where it's dark, the dial lights up. Where space is scarce, its compact size fits beautifully. And there's a color to catch or complement any decor. To welcome a Princess phone into your life, just call our Business Office—or ask your Telephone Man.

ASLEEP ON THE JOB!
Ordinarily there's no more tireless friend or servant than your family telephone. It works around the clock, year in and year out. One of the few exceptions is when you make it "go to sleep on the job"—by failing to hang up the receiver properly. When that happens, friends can't reach you on the phone. So whenever you hear a buzzing sound coming from your phone, click it at once. Someone must have forgotten to put the receiver back on the "cradle," where it belongs.

Our world travelers, Clair and Theresa McKay, are back from another of their trips to this time to Africa. They left here Jan. 15 and flew to London where they stayed three days—partly in hopes that a clair's suitcase would catch up to them—it didn't.

Clair travels light anyway but not quite as light as this time.

From London they flew to Cairo where they joined a tour. After visiting the pyramids and sightseeing in Egypt they went to Adis Ababa, then to Kenya where Nairobi is the safari capital of the world.

Zanzibar they had to bypass due to the trouble there, so Dar Es Salaam, capital of Tanganyika was the next stop. Then on to South Africa where they spent three weeks. At Pretoria they saw them cutting diamonds, they visited a Bantu township, and ten other cities.

They saw never before, and found more friendly people anywhere in the world. Trans Kei to territory was most interesting for that is where the Bantus are running their own government.

A 1,200 MILE trip in 8 days took them from Cape Town to Durban on the coast of the Indian Ocean. In Rhodesia they visited the capital, Bulawayo.

Wood Creek Farms Village

played in the Kruger National Park, and saw Victoria Falls. Uganda they found the greenest place in Africa and one they enjoyed very much. Here they visited Queen Elizabeth Park and Murchison Falls Park. They stayed at the capital, Entebbe, on Lake Victoria.

They then flew to the Island of Maldives, where they stayed four days before returning home. They were back in Wood Creek on the 24th of March—another memorable trip to enjoy in retrospect.

ALGER AND ALICE Clark left here on the 3rd of February and drove to Dallas, Texas—they were south of that terrific snowstorm we were so afraid they might run into. From Dallas they went to Arizona where they have friends in both Tucson and Phoenix. They spent three weeks. At Phoenix they saw them cutting diamonds, they visited a Bantu township, and ten other cities.
