Farmington Players To Open Comedy May 1

Tickets are now on sale for the Farmington Players' Spring Production, "The Warrior's Husband," by Julian Thompson, to premier May 1 and continue May 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31.
The play is a comedy in three acts. They're ruled by a system called matriarchy, where women are all powerful and will continue to be so as long as their Queen Hippolyta wears the Girdle of Diana.
Pomposia, most trusted confidant to the Queen, feels that this system of matriarchy is doomed to failure if the Amazons should ever become encompassed by civilizations of fighting men.
With this thought in mind, Pomposia proceeds to suggest to the Queen that she think about this new system the Greeks have called marriage, where the man and woman share both and become husband and wife.
Sapiens, Pomposia's son, is the pauper in this little game, for his Mother is quite ambitious for him and suggests to the Queen that she take Sapiens as her consort. Sapiens has not been raised in the feminine warlike fashion but is an excellent example of Amazon traditions and delicate masculine grace.
JULIAN THOMPSON has combined trickery, romance and adventure in a most unique fashion to make "The Warrior's Husband," one of the funniest shows you'll ever see. Queen Hippolyta is being portrayed by Joan Stone, Princess Antiope, her sister, Jan Sailsbury; Sapiens' husband to the Queen, Stuart Orman; Pomposia, Hope Nahaluk; Gnostica, Mary Ann Perry; Hecuba, Cecile Orman; and other Amazons are Marilyn Smallegan, Kathryn Kormessner, Bonnie Gamble, Nancy Harner, Carol Griffin and Melinda Schulkins.
Heading the Greek portion of the cast is Jim Bliviss as Theseus, the romantic lead; Dennis Broadhead as the Herald; and other Greeks are Bud Stone, Hugh Schulkins, Robert Shaw and Don Craig as Hercules.
"The Warrior's Husband" is being directed by Richard George Pedelina and produced by Ron Jackson.

Among greetings to Joan and Allen Bosworth, celebrating 9 years on April 23.

The recapitulating roster this week includes Marie Evans, home from sitting surgery after her April 16 surgery at Harper Hospital, and Irma Smith, who spent a recent week in Outter Drive Hospital for a sinus operation.

Home too is Ken Jamison, injured in a nautic accident in Pittsburgh on April 6. Ken entered Ford Hospital here last week and underwent further surgery on the multiple fractures in his ankle sustained in the accident. Ken's operation was April 14, and the following day wife Marjorie contacted messes! Several days later son David, 9, continued the Damsion jam by catching his mom's spots.

THE WELCOME MAT is extended for Joyce and Dale Smith of Westmeath, new neighbors as of March 15 in the home formerly owned by Ellen and Emma Jean Phillips. The Smith family includes Jimmy, 5, and a new baby due momentarily. Dale is with "Ynor" Highway House, a furniture company located in Ypsilanti.

The Long home on Dundalk has been sold and the family will be leaving Kimberley soon. However, the Johnsons just across the street will not be transferred as announced in this column some months ago, and so will remain Kimberleyites. The Johnsons are currently enjoying an extended visit
