Cleaning Tiles. Many times the tiles of a hearth will become so stained that water will not clean them. Never clean with water. Use turpentine on a piece of flannel and polish with a dry cloth and the tiles will look like new.

PAINFUL TRYING TIM'S

Housework is hard enough for a healthy woman. The wife who has a bad back, who is weak or tired all the time, finds her duties a heavy burden. Thousands of discouraged, sickly women have found relief through using Doan's Kidney Pills. (The painful, trying times of woman's life are much easier to bear if the kidneys are well.)

NEWS and GOSSIP OF WASHINGTON

"Canned" Indian Songs to Be Placed in Archives

WASHINGTON—Geoffrey O'Hara, recently appointed to the interior department at Washington to record the tribal songs and music of all American Indians, began his work in New York city the other day by taking as his first ethnographic record on Glacier National park. Mr. O'Hara on to New York from Washington to begin his laborious task with these Indians. Mr. O'Hara is having them sing into phonographs in this city to be put in the government archives, preserving for all time the music of the original Americans.

Defendants in Court "Demonstrate" Innocence

N. C. HARPER, clerk of the police court, reading charges of disorderly conduct to Harry Johnson and Charles O'Connor, knowing that the men were innocent and swearing was generally contained in such information, included these words: "How do you plead, guilty or not guilty?" Mr. Harper demanded. No answer. To facilitate the business of the court, Bailiff Hopkins went close to the men and asked them in a low tone whether they were guilty or not at the time mentioned in the paper. But he received no answer. "Are you guilty or not?" Mr. Harper asked, in a polite but somewhat louder tone than he had used before. Still no answer. After some confusion, Policeman Brennan, who arrested the men, was called, and explained to the court that the men were deaf and dumb. "How could these men be 'dumb' and swear if they can't talk?" the court demanded. "They aren't," Mr. Harper responded, "but in spite of that they sure were having a hot time up on Seventh street Saturday night."

Why Mrs. Townsend's Great Dane Was Lonesome

greater part of the forenoon, and again staying two or three hours in the evening. Finally he went back in the evening, and guests arriving for a dinner party at the house across from Mrs. Townsend's, found the great Dane at the steps. One guest, whose dog is a jainty, coquetish Chow, passed an awful moment when she had visions of never getting lost the great Dane, who seemed greater and greater as he stood above her, on the foremost step, across the carved walnut doors. When she finally accomplished it, with the help of the chauffeur and footman, she entered the drawing-room all but breathless. "Why doesn't that great Dane of Mrs. Townsend's stay at home? He has all of that large garden to wander about in, over there, and—" she stopped, because she was nervous. "Oh, that dog, he's simply lonesome," her hostess explained. "You see they only speak French and English to him over there, and he gets so homesick to hear his native tongue that he comes here to visit my Danish butler."

Daniels Gathers Eggs; Bryan Wants Division

SECRETARY of the Navy Daniels the other day disclosed the fact that he keeps at his country place near Washington some ninety chickens, that yield him every day twenty eggs, and he thereby put himself in line for a lot of trouble. For when Secretary of State Bryan, who keeps a riding horse at the name of Rex, but who owns no chickens, heard about his colleague's wealth, he made the proposal that Mr. Daniels ought to divide those fresh eggs among the other members of the cabinet. Mr. Daniels has not yet been freed from on the proposal, but the general opinion is that if the secretary of state wants any of the eggs from the Daniels, he must come out in the morning before daybreak and ride out and get them himself. Secretary Daniels said incidentally to the members of the cabinet that he, as secretary of the government departments, reports, as it is called, because it would necessitate his making his morning rounds to gather eggs at an hour earlier each day. Mr. Daniels allows himself to be an hour later than the clerks of his department, but makes

DESIGNED HER OWN ROOM

How One Girl Carried Out Idea as to the Furnishing and Coloring.

Her room study was the name a girl gave to a little room she had made into a snugger of her own, where she could read and work and have cozy chats with her friends. It was the brown study because brown was the prevailing color, enlivened with yellow. This girl did most of the work herself, tinting the walls a soft yellow tan, with a picture molding painted cream color near the ceiling. The floor was stained a slightly darker shade than the walls, and on it were laid rag rugs of browns, tans and yellows. The girl had had these rugs from white material she had dyed herself so that they would be just the shades she wished.

So far it was all plain brown, cream and chart. Now for variety and color she had a flowered cretonne with a design of little yellow roses. With this she made a slip cover for a little low rocker, a valance for the top of her window with side curtains to the sill, a curtain ran on a brass rod instead of her cupboard door, which she had taken off, and a slip cover for her lounge. She preferred the slip covers for her chair and because they could be sent to the wash occasionally, so keeping her room fresh and bright. She framed an oblong mirror in the yellow rose cretonne, and painted a bureau in the kitchen table, and two kitchen chairs in cream colored paint. On the table she placed her blotter with its dull-brown corners and over the table hung her bookshelves, well filled. Then she felt she had a room to enjoy.

DANDRUFF COVERED SCALP

3002 Cass St., St. Louis, Mo.—"For five years I suffered with itching of my body and scalp. My trouble began with a rash on my lower limbs which was very annoying, and my scalp was literally covered with dandruff. My hair used to come out by the handful and the itching of my body and scalp was terrible. I had used almost all the skin remedies on the market with no results, when I wrote for a Little Cuticura Soap and Ointment and it gave me instant relief. Within one month's use of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, gently rubbing Cuticura Ointment on my scalp and scalp in my worst form. I also find the Cuticura Soap a benefit in shaving." (Signed) Charles J. Griffin, Dec. 8, 1911.

Cuticura: Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Sample of each free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. L, Boston."

There With the "Nerve" The conversation led to the beauty of having abundant nerve the other evening, when Senator Clapp of Minnesota told of a man who went into a fashionable restaurant, accompanied by a couple of children, and after ordering a lemon soup, asked the waiter to bring him three plates. This, according to Senator Clapp, the waiter did, but when he saw the man take some sandwiches from his pocket, put them on the plates, and pass them around to the kids, he reported the matter to the boss. "What are you doing?" indignantly cried the manager, rushing over to the sandwich party. "Don't you know that this isn't a free picnic ground, where you bring your own food?" "Is that so?" was the calm rejoinder of the man, passing along another sandwich. "Who are you?" "I am the manager," blustered the boss, with rising heat. "—Just the very person that I have been looking for," interjected the impertinent party. "Why isn't the orchestra playing?"
