

Tall Oaks Stop Sign to Stay

The Farmington City Council followed the recommendation of the City Manager John Dinan and Public Safety Department Director Maurice Polz Monday, June 1, in turning down a request from several residents in Tall Oaks Subdivision for the removal of a stop sign at Tall Oaks Street and Chestnut Lane.

It was noted in the City Manager's report that a letter had been received from William C. Platto, president of the Farmington Oaks Homeowners Association, stating that the matter had come to their attention through certain groups of their members.

PLATTO STATED in his letter that the City had the motion sign at Tall Oaks Street and Chestnut Lane had been dropped by the Association.

Both the City Manager and Chief Polz agreed after reviewing the situation that Tall Oaks Street, a long continuous block, needs the stop sign at Chestnut Lane in order to discourage excessive speeding.

It was further pointed out in Platto's letter to the City that the Tall Oaks Homeowners Association would request stop signs for other areas of their subdivision.

T. Davis Ranks 3rd Highest at Alma College

Torrence H. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal E. Davis, 33220 Oakland in Farmington, was graduated from Alma College on May 30.

He received his B.A. degree cum laude with a major in psychology. He ranked third scholastically in his class of 184 and was one of three finalists for the Barlow Cup, the college's highest honor.

Davis held an Alma Honor Scholarship and has been continuously on the dean's list. He was a member of Psi Chi, the national honor fraternity in psychology, Omicron Beta Kappa, Alma's men's honorary, and Psi Sigma Pi, the college's scholastic honor. In both his junior and senior years he was elected to "Who's Who" among students in American universities and colleges.

Davis was a member of the Alma debate team for two years. He served on the editorial staff of the college paper for three years and was active in the founding of a campus humor magazine. He served as paper chairman for the Chapel during his junior year and has been active in other college activities.

Since his freshman year, Davis has acted as a lab assistant, research assistant, and teaching assistant in the psychology department.

Davis has been awarded a Patterson Memorial Fellowship to attend Louisville Presbyterian Seminary in Kentucky. He will enter the seminary in the fall to begin a three-year program leading to ordination.

Sewer Problem

garden by digging a ditch from the back line of his property to the Rouge River branch which runs along the south boundary.

Smith proposed that the City correct the situation by installing ten-inch sewer pipe in place of the present eight-inch line. City Manager Dinan stated the cost of installing such a line for the necessary 1,000 feet would run between $7,000 and $8,000.

DINAN SUGGESTED that the City install a warning system to alert the Department of Public Works when the sewer was clogging up, rather than stand the cost of replacing the eight-inch pipe. He explained to the council how such a system would operate, an electrical alarm which would be triggered when the sewage reaches a critical level in the pipe, alerting the DPW which could then act in time to prevent an overflow.

The council agreed to have Dinan investigate the cost of installing such an alarm system and report back at their next regular meeting.

TRY A CLASSIFIED AD

All Found in Order on New Center Addition

A survey to determine for certain that the new store construction in progress at the downtown Farmington Center was not encroaching on right-of-ways was called for by the city council at its last regular meeting and a report on the engineering survey was made to the council Monday night of this week.

The written city engineer's report disclosed that both the north and south walls are just within the property lines and that there is over eight feet of space between the easterly building wall and the back of the curb along Grove Street.

It was emphasized that while the eight foot of space would allow ample room for a sidewalk along Grove Street on the west side it would be necessary to relocate some utility poles and a fire hydrant to get a clear span of continuous walk.

Councilman Henry Forrest stated that he had talked with the city engineer on Saturday and that it was his understanding from him that the west building wall was found to be four inches into the right-of-way. City Manager John Dinan stated that Forrest must have misunderstood the city engineer in general conversation with him since the written report stated clearly that this was not true.

The four other members of the council were satisfied with the city engineer's official written report and voted to discontinue any further discussion on this matter. Forrest remained unamenable on this matter, however.

Apt. Greenbelt

City Manager John Dinan stated the difficulties apparently stemmed from an "oversight" on the part of the City Building Department to check the parking lot plans for the apartment house against the agreed-upon terms regarding the greenbelt.

ROGERS STATED the greenbelt has now shrunk to 12 or 13 feet from the original 20-foot promised border. He asked the City to order the builder to correct the discrepancy, as much as present construction progress would allow, to protect the income of the residents on the lot.

The Council expressed the belief that the builder would cooperate with the residents to remedy the situation since the owner of the apartment house cannot be allowed until the City finally approves the construction.

City Manager John Dinan was authorized by the Council to inform the builders their parking lot could not be paved until the matter of the width of the greenbelt was settled to the satisfaction of the Slocum residents.

Dinan was also authorized to set an estimate of the landscaping the greenbelt area and having a cash bond put up by the builders to assure the work is carried out in a satisfactory manner.

City Police Holding Burglary Suspect

Farmington City police nabbed a Garden City cost at 2 a.m. on May 29 after the man had broken into the Farmington Dairy at 3820 Grand River Avenue in the City.

Officer William Berneing of the City police arrested Leonard P. Solary, 24, of 31735 Block Street in Garden City while he was still in the Dairy where he said he had gone to keep warm.

Solary pleaded not guilty at his arraignment before Municipal Judge Sylvester Phenoxy to charges of breaking and entering during the night time. He is being held in the City Jail under $1,000 bond and scheduled for examination in Municipal Court on June 5.

THE MEMORIAL DAY parade was attended by record crowds this year as the weatherman cooperated fully by providing sunny skies. Legionnaires from Farmington's Groves-Walker Post 346 led the marchers along the Grand River parade route to the Memorial services conducted at the Oakwood Cemetery. The American Legion Auxiliary laid a wreath on the war memorial at Farmington Road and Grand River as part of the observances commemorating those who gave their lives for their country. Five school bands and numerous other organizations and service groups participated in the impressive Memorial Day parade.

under consideration. The Council must finally act on any matters which are submitted by the planners.

ARCHITECT ALLEN, who has abstained from voting when one of his clients had submitted a request for rezoning last year, was the object of criticism from Forrest. The parcel of land in question, owned by Devere Fleming, was finally rezoned to permit an office building on a former classification of R-1 residential.

Fleming had first sought rezoning to permit apartments, but Allen had served as his architect. Councilman Forrest, a resident of Alta Loma Subdivision immediately to the north of Fleming's property on Freedom Rd., was bitterly opposed to the apartment house rezoning.
