News From Briar Hill

JAN PATTERSON, 626-6283

Joan and Bob Babcock and their five children, David, Steven, Karen, Nancy, and Mark, have moved from Beantree. Awaiting the completion of their new home on Ravenscroft, they have rented a house on the far side of the woods for the duration.

Cub Scouts of Den 9, whose mother is Ruth Adams, took a tour of the township police station recently. The officers were very nice and even took the boys finger prints to demonstrate how it is done.

Shel and Mary Hedges met Bob and Marge Scott and Court and Peg Martilla in Clare, Michigan and they all went to Quilico National Park in Minnesota for a camping, canoeing, and fishing trip. After 11 days, they all returned home through northern Michigan and across the Mackinac Bridge.

THE HAININS had friends from Grand Rapids visiting the weekend of May 29-31. Tom Robertson has been a friend of Rod's since grade school days.

LOIS HOLMES, 626-9000

Tom, his wife "Stevie," and their four children also were able to visit with Tom's cousin, Gloria Douglas, who lives only two houses from the Hardins.

Bill Devlin's mother is home from the hospital.

Troop 430 had their court of awards. Those participating were Sally Martilla, Sandy McCormick, Cindy Kleinhaus, Barbara Palmer, and Debby Selter.

Gloria Douglas' mother, has come from Florida for a summer long visit.

Phyl Auman, Jim Gressle, and Jim Patterson have now joined the ranks of those who have had the measles.

Briar Hill's T-Ball team, the Spartans, lost their first game on June 3 against the Vikings, 2-4. They then came back to win last Saturday against the Zephers, 2-0.

There have been three birthdays since the beginning of June. Jeff Adams was 6 on June 6. His mother gave a luncheon and invited Scott Towne, Tom Uvich, Johnny Jajich, and Gary Schenkel. Later, his dad took them all to the movies. The next birthday was little Amy Schenkel who was two on June 7. The family went to a cousin's house to have the party. The last celebration was for Glen Reimer, who was 14 on June 9.

Lisa Schenkel, who is 4, had a tonsillotomy on Thursday, June 4, at Florence Crittenton Hospital.

The Hedges family paid their old neighbors a very welcome surprise visit this past weekend. Ellen, Mike, and Bobby stayed with various friends on Saturday night. On Sunday, Marge and Bob Scott had a bar-b-que for Mary and Shel so they could visit with their friends.

Players Set Open House

Farmington Players officials announced this week they are planning open house performances for Saturday evening, June 20, at 8 p.m. at the Players Barn on 12 Mile to better acquaint clubs and organizations with the talents and objectives of the group.

The program for the evening will be designed to show interested individuals and representatives of groups and clubs what the Players group can provide for them either at the Players Barn or away at meeting places for other community clubs or groups.

The evening's program will consist of ten minute scenes from four of the Players plays of the past including "Our Town," "Born Yesterday," "The Heiress," and "Strange Bedfellows."

A costume fashion show will also be given featuring clothing from the Players large collection.

The second portion of the program will be a stage adaptation of Throau's "Walden Pond."
