Local Jehovahs At Bible Meet
Jehovah's Witnesses from the Farmington Congregation have just returned from their three-day Bible meet held at Fordson High School where 1,908 heard J. W. Wilson, district minister, stating in his discourse that, "Our twentieth-century scientific world, plagued by wars, food shortages, disease, and death, is not going to be patched up successfully."
"But the Bible reveals its replacement is imminent by a scientific world created by Jehovah God. Science will not end-and will continue to acquire and rightly use knowledge obtained by a study of the creative works of God. The Great Scientist himself, Jehovah, will be the one who has created for the benefit and blessing of all obedient mankind."
At a baptismal ceremony Saturday afternoon 40 persons were baptized in water as a symbol of their dedication to do God's will. They are entering the refreshing fellowship of Jehovah's witnesses.
More than one million Jehovah's witnesses are active in 194 lands. The official journal, "The Watchtower," is published in 68 languages.
Over 1,900 delegates attended assembly from 17 congregations in southeastern Michigan; including Detroit, Dearborn, Farmington, Wayne, Inkster and surrounding areas.

Brownies Sing From Troop 527
Brownie Troop 527 of Farmington sang Christmas carols for the ladies at the Kendallville Christmas Home.
The mothers who drove the girls enjoyed the caroling party. They were Mrs. Russell Cleveland, Mrs. Robert Koss, Mrs. Walter Newman and Mrs. Russell Scott.
The Brownies sang "Silent Night," "Away in the Manger" and "The Twelve Days of Christmas" to open their program.
Mrs. AMY CHARLON read "Twelve Days of Christmas" and "The Night Before Christmas." Paula Charon and Kim Sloan also passed out wrapped packages topped with a candy cane. Apples and oranges were passed out by Donna Koss, Nadine Rabin, Janice Gail Cleveland, Janice Gail Cleveland, Janice Gail Cleveland.
The Brownies completed their program with "A Cake of Soap," "Mr. Duck," "Mr. Froggie," "12 Days of Christmas" and "We Wish You a Merry Christmas."

Rabbi Sherwin Wine To Discuss Freud
Rabbi Sherwin Wine will discuss "Moses and Freud" at the January 12 service of the Birmingham Temple. Services are being held at the Eagle School, Fourteen Mile Road and Middlebelt. They will begin at 8 p.m. Everyone is invited to attend.
Beginning in September there will be a complete program of Friday night and Saturday morning services. The Religion School has been organized and will begin in September also. Instruction in all grades will be under the direction of Rabbi Wine.
On January 21, the Adult Study Group will hold its bi-monthly discussion at the home of William and Margie Sandy, 1095 Springdale, Birmingham. The topic will be "Religion and Social Action." Everyone is invited to come and all questions will be answered.

To Start Rehearsals Jan. 19 For 9th Annual Easter Cantata
Rehearsals for the 9th Annual Easter Cantata conducted by William Feucht of the Farmington Public Schools, will commence Sunday, January 19, at 2 p.m. at the Farmington High School auditorium, Shilohville and Lauffer streets.
All interested singers in the Farmington area and its environs, are invited to attend and participate in the first rehearsal on January 19, and in the Sunday afternoon rehearsals to follow each week thereafter.
MRS. EDGAR MOSSHAMMER was elected this year's chairman of adult participation and will head up the efforts to acquire all interested singers in the community with the Cantata project and to insure that all interested singers will be able to attend the rehearsals. There is no charge for tuition. Director Feucht stated, although there will be a small charge for individually owned music copies.
Mr. Feucht praised the efforts of Mrs. George Ricker, his wife's chairman of the project, and referred to the masterful job she did last year. He hopes to see this year's Cantata chorus achieve a new high membership of 250 voices. One hundred of these will be students.
All church choir directors in the area will receive written invitations to bring their choir members to the first rehearsal on January 19. Those persons desiring more information can call Mrs. Mosshammer at GR. 4-5904.
Mr. Feucht emphasized this week that all interested persons are invited to attend the first rehearsal, and he stressed the hope that the first rehearsal will see all the faces of last year's chorus plus many, many new persons.
THE CANTATA, scheduled for Friday, April 10, this year, will be quite different from all the previous years. William Feucht is planning to do it with Franz Schubert, the Mass in G, along with a group of familiar but carefully selected secular and sacred songs. He stated that the project should be a thrilling experience for all.
This year's accompaniment will include a string ensemble from the University of Michigan and also selected students from the Farmington schools. Director Feucht, director of string music classes in the Farmington secondary schools, is helping with the orchestral accompaniment. Soloists from the University of Michigan, the University of Michigan, and Dan Carney, tenor. This will be Mr. Carney's eighth year of participation in the Farmington Cantatas.

5 FHS Science Students Hear Lecture Series
Five Farmington Senior High School students were privileged to be invited to a Holiday Science Lecture Series sponsored by the American Association for the Advancement of Science in collaboration with the Engineering Society of Detroit.
The students, Colin Campbell, Douglas Solin, John Mosely, Ray Barry and Douglas Boliere, heard five lectures presented by George Gamow of the University of Colorado in the main auditorium of the Horace H. Rackham Educational Memorial Building, Detroit, December 26, 27 and 28.
THE THREE-DAY lecture program was attended by 700 students from high schools in the Detroit area. The lectures were entitled, "World Eber vs. Einstein," "Can Space be Curved and Finite?" "The Quanta of Energy and the Atom," "Stellar Furnaces and the Future Use by Man" and "Blueprints of Living Beings."
MR. GAMOW HELD a question and answer period following each of his five lectures.
Throughout the year, several students from Farmington Senior High attend a "science seminar" class held on Monday evenings at Redford Union High School where they hear a lecture on scientific subjects given by top men in the field of science.
The Detroit Holiday Science Lecture Series was the first to be presented by the American Association for the Advancement of Science and the Engineering Society of Detroit.
