Primary Vote

The state legislature in the 64th district, incumbent house member Raymond L. Baker of Farmington won out by a one-sided margin over the three other candidates vying against him.

OFFICIAL counts from county municipalities outside of Farmington were not obtained, but Baker was the strong front runner in Farmington Township. Baker garnered 2,216 votes out of 923 for Allen P. Howell of Lahrup Village in Southfield and in the City of Farmington he received 638 votes to Boyell's 244.

John J. Bain was the one-sided choice of Democratic candidates in Farmington City and Township for the 64th District State House seat.

Voters in both Farmington City and Township favored James P. O'Neill of Livonia over Billy M. Peterson by good sized margins for the GOP U. S. Senate nomination but the margin here for O'Neill went for naught.

Mrs. Peterson won out handily over both O'Neill and Edward A. Meany, Jr., the third candidate, elsewhere in the state.

For the GOP nomination for the U.S. House seat in the 19th district, the contest was a close one.

For the County offices, Farmington City and Township voters casting GOP ballots gave the nod for the various offices as follows: Prosecuting Attorney, Robert L. Tompkins; Clerk-Register of Deeds, David R. Calhoun. There were no contests for drain commissioner, treasurer or sheriff on the GOP ticket.

Farmington Democratic voters' choices on county candidates were as follows: Prosecuting Attorney, S. Jerome Brown.
