

Women Voters League Busy

In the November election, the voters will be called upon to make vital decisions on their choice of candidates.

As in the past, voters who wish to be fully informed before they step into the polling booth may turn to the League of Women Voters for guidance.

They will receive recommendations or propaganda, partisan or otherwise, from the league. Only cold facts, the pros and cons of every ballot issue, and straight, unbiased background information on every candidate.

What has the Provisional League of Women Voters of Farmington City and Township been doing lately?

Mrs. John D. Lyons, chairman of voters service for the League, and members distributed sample ballots, maps of new congressional districts, and state and county voters guides, prior to the primaries.

Madeline Damm found it necessary to resign as Local Items Chairman, due to family responsibilities.

Mrs. Verna McFancy has been appointed Local Items chairman and will continue the study on "Know Your Farmington." The committee hopes to complete this study and publish it in booklet form available to the public in the early part of the coming year.

LADIES STEP FORWARD

Mid Summer Pause Looking Ahead to Fall and Fashions

The colors are ripe in the vintage range of wine tones, from pale rose to deepest burgundy. Black, too, was never blacker nor more popular, particularly for late day in the "little nothing" discotheque dancing dresses.

Other color news is in the surprising combinations: camel with navy, pink with beige, camel with shocking pink, red with gray, purple with off-white. ... all fashionable chic.

For the Homemaker, a smartly casual coil is a neat beauty, from its one-side cheek wave and one-side cheek wisp to its pert semi-bang. Crown patterns are understated. The effect: short and ultra-smart!
