Ball game Saturday.

Stanley Durham and wife of Pontiac were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Larkins last Sunday.

Upon examination before Judge Northrop last Friday Arthur Perry, the young man who was arrested in Detroit for the burglary of the Eber Burns barber shop, was bound over for trial in the circuit court. Bonds for $500 with two sureties were required and at last report the young man was in the county jail.

The evidence showed that he was in the village that night of the theft, in fact he admitted that much.

The conductor and motorman of the last car east at 11:12 testified that he rode down to the city with them and that they saw razor strops about his waist. The conductor was also shown a razor and was given a couple of packages of cigarettes, which it is supposed were part of the plunder taken from the shop.

A couple of barbers from Dix avenue in Detroit identified some of the property and the accused as the party who sold it to them.

A city detective also gave evidence of the arrest and of tracing the property and its recovery.

The accused had no attorney and put in no denial.

WILLING TO OBLIGE.

One night a tired traveler put up at a small country hotel. The next morning the proprietor of the house asked:

"Did you enjoy the cornet playing in the next room to you last night?"

"Enjoy it?" the guest remarked sarcastically. "I should say not. Why, I passed half of the night pounding on the wall to make the man stop."

"It must have been a misunderstanding," said the landlord mournfully. "The cornet player told me that the person in the next room applauded him so heartily that he went over every piece he knew three times."

THE BEGINNING.

Mary—I've just found out what was the origin of the harp.

John (looking up from newspaper)—Yes?

Mary—It was in the Garden of Eden. Eve ate the apple—and men have been harping about it ever since.—Judge.

THE DIFFERENCE.

Bud—What is the difference between an ordinary ood and a college widow?

Witser—One stays four years and the other stays for years.—Siren.

EXEMPT.

The Hermit—No, mum. I ain't never married; but I served through the civil war—was wounded twice and spent a year in Libby prison.—Life.
