

Elias' Are Navy Rooters Now; New Coach Is Their Brother

Although few residents in Plymouth and Livonia realize it, the recent appointment of William Elias as head football coach at the U.S. Naval Academy was great news for Mrs. A. Elias, 1108 Beech St., Plymouth and sons, Jim and Sam—who are partners in the operation of the Elias Bros. Supermarket, 30805 Plymouth Road in Livonia.

Bill is a son and brother of the Elias' and all were amazed when he signed for the new post.

Bill has visited Plymouth and Livonia on numerous occasions, especially when he was a student and star quarterback for the University of Maryland during 1946-48.

Matter of fact, he is one of five sons. All but one were outstanding footballers at Martins Ferry (O.) High School prior to World War II when all but one was called into service.

John was a tackle; Bill, a quarterback; Jim, a quarterback; and Lated, an end.

The family owned a store in Martins Ferry for years but had to give it up during the war years.

However, when the brothers returned from service, they decided to start another store—and inasmuch as they had friends in the Livonia area, they decided to locate there.

During this time, Bill was performing for Jim Tatum at Maryland when the Terps were rated among the standout teams in the land.

While Jim and Sam went into the grocery business, John shifted to Memphis and later to Pittsburgh. Bill decided to turn his attention to coaching.

He started in high school ranks in Richmond, Ind., where he was twice acclaimed coach of the year for his outstanding teams.

Then he took a job as an assistant to then Football Coach Stu Holcomb at Purdue. When Holcomb left a few years later to become Director of Athletics at Northwestern, Bill decided to look around for a head coaching post at some college.

He finally signed a contract at George Washington U. in Washington, D.C. where he was tagged coach of the year for his work. After one year, he was lured by the University of Virginia to rebuild the lagging football fortunes there. Bill succeeded admirably and won more games in the first year than the Cavaliers had in the five previous seasons. Twice he was rated coach of the year in that area for his brilliant

And now he's been tapped as the successor to Wayne Hardin at the Naval Academy and already there's talk that he'll have the Middles flying higher than ever in another year or two.

Small wonder his mother and two brothers are so proud of their son and brother.

State Employees Win Religious Holiday Leaves

The Michigan Civil Service Commission has issued a ruling permitting Jewish employees to take time off for their holy days rather than following the Christian holiday schedule.

This change came after Dr. Reuven Bar-Lev, a psychiatrist at Livonia's Hawthorne Center and Northville State Hospital, and Dr. Sidney Goldstein, of the Northville State Hospital staff, contacted Governor George Romney claiming the commission policy discriminated against Jews.

Under the new policy, Jews will be permitted to work on a Christian holiday such as Christmas and take off a Jewish holiday such as Yom Kippur, whenever it does "not seriously impair" an agency.
