

Two Area Youths Die in Auto Crash

Mark Nippa, 17, of 15450 Edington, Livonia, and Robert Chariot, 23, of 14008 Inkster, Redford Township, died Saturday morning, Jan. 30, as the result of an auto accident, that took place in Farmington Township, in the early hours of the morning.

Roger Redinger, 18, of 15575 Brookfield, Livonia, the driver of the car, was charged with involuntary manslaughter, by Farmington Justice of the Peace Allen Ingle, Monday. He stood mute. Redinger, and a fourth rider in the car, John Allen Frankiewicz, of 15950 Stanford, Livonia, received severe facial wounds.

Heading south on Farmington Rd., at 10 Mile Rd., the car apparently went out of control, just north of 10 Mile Rd., after failing to negotiate an "S Curve," crashed through the guard rail, and over the hill.

That particular curve has been especially dangerous in the past. But, according to Farmington Township Police, the Township made it considerably straighter and safer several years ago. It had to purchase some private property in order to do so.

Township Police were called to the scene at 2:27 a.m. Chariot was dead. A arrival at St. Joseph Hospital, in Farmington, Nippa died there at 7:30 a.m.

Counting the general run of auto fatalities, the two dead men were seated in the back seat.

The front of the car—a 1964 Chevrolet Sports Coupe — was practically undamaged (the front window pane was not even shattered). But the left side of the car, was severed off, and the left wheel was also dislocated.

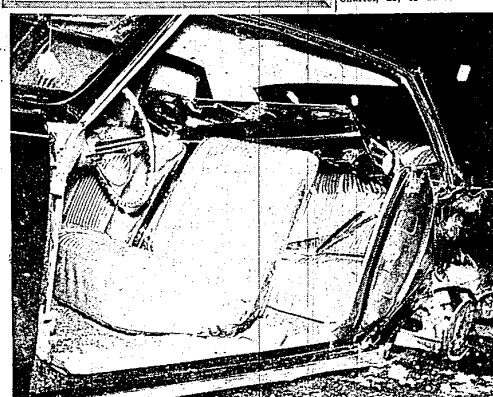

SERVICES FOR Mark, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Nippa, were conducted Wednesday in St. Maurice Catholic Church in charge of Rev. Fr. Kane. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

He was a student at Bentley High School and was born Nov. 19, 1947 in Detroit.

Surviving are: his parents; his grandmothers, Mrs. Sophia Goodrich and Mrs. Hilma Nippa; a brother, Patrick; and a sister, Marsha Ann, both at home.

Farmington Man Slain By Buddy

A friendship which turned sour, and ended in murder in Detroit, last week, had its beginning in the Livonia-Farmington area.

The confessed murderer, Charles Acker, is a former Livonia resident. Bruce Salow, from whom Acker was slain, is from Farmington. Both men have been living in Detroit, recently. Salow was 25, at the time of his death. Acker is also 25.

Farmington Police say they regarded the two young men as problems, when they lived in this area. One officer recalls that six or seven years ago Acker was in trouble for auto theft, and Salow for liquor violations.

According to the Detroit Police Dept., Acker shot Salow through the head with a .45 calibre bullet, apparently after the latter refused to let him use his car. Salow was murdered in his own apartment, at 361 Selden, at 3 p.m., on Jan. 25.

About an hour later, Acker called the homicide bureau, from a bar at 1934 Van Dyke, and admitted the shooting. Sgt. Alfred Pare came to the bar, and arrested him.

Acker lives at 19324 Havana, Detroit. A witness to the argument between him and Salow was Salow's room-mate, 38 year old John Ciesielski. The body was discovered by a maid, shortly after 3 p.m.

Officer William Berning, of the Farmington Police Dept., went to the home of Salow's parents, to get them to identify his body. But they were not home.

vanWestrenen Comptroller In Tecumseh

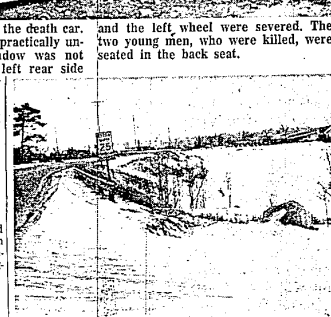

Appointment of Franz W. vanWestrenen as comptroller of the Fisher Body plant near Tecumseh, Mich., was announced by Thomas A. Cleveland, divisional comptroller of Fisher Body and assistant treasurer of General Motors.

vanWestrenen will be transferred to vanWestrenen the Tecumseh operation from the Fisher Body upholstery trim plant in Livonia, where he has been general supervisor of cost accounting since June 1963.

A graduate of South High School in Grand Rapids, vanWestrenen attended Grand Rapids Junior College where he studied Business Administration. He received over two years of specialized training in accounting at LaSalle Extension and the Davenport McLachlan Institute.

He started his Fisher Body career in 1957 as a payroll auditor at the Grand Rapids No. 1 plant. Promotions through senior clerk, cost accountant, assistant general supervisor, junior analyst and senior accountant led to his transfer in 1962 to the Grand Rapids No. 2 plant where he was appointed general supervisor of cost accounting.

The Grand Rapids No. 2 plant produces automobile body upholstery and its operations are similar to those to be performed at Tecumseh.

THE DEATH CAR — out of control — crashed through the guard rail at this point on Farmington Rd. and 10 Mile Rd. The skid marks are visible in this picture.

THIS SIGN STANDS twenty feet from the curve at Farmington Rd. and 10 Mile Rd. It is the only sign warning of the curve. Beyond it, the hill rises and the road curves.

Madonna, LIT Receive Gift Cars

Madonna College and Lawrence Institute of Technology were among 18 Michigan private colleges and universities to receive either a 1965 automobile or a compact truck from Chrysler Corporation.

The 18 vehicles were presented to the presidents of the colleges in a luncheon at Chrysler's general offices in Highland Park by F. W. Misch, Chrysler Corporation vice president-finance.

Fifteen of the colleges are members of the Michigan Colleges Foundation which is observing its 15th anniversary.

These included: Adrian, Albion, Alma, Aquinas, Calvin, Hillsdale, Hope, Kalamazoo, Madonna, Marygrove, Mercy, Nazareth, Olivet, Siena Heights and Andrews University.

With two major appearances slated for the second semester, Wayne Dunlap, Director of Music at Schoolcraft College, Monday urged all interested in the college's community chorus.

He pointed out that arrangements have been made for the chorus to perform the Faure Requiem on an Easter program and for an appearance with the Plymouth Symphony at its annual concert.

The chorus will sing either Brahms Liebeslieder Waltz or the Polovian Dance of Borodin.

However, Dunlap emphasized that programs of this nature require regular attendance at the weekly Wednesday rehearsals.

Registration for the community chorus may be accomplished by two ways: registering for Music 112, Choir, in the Administration Building at the College at a cost of $8 for the one hour credit and $10 for registration for a total of $18; however, those who do not elect to take the course for credit may participate by paying a fee of $4 which is levied to cover the cost of music used during the semester.

"We have the nucleus of a fine chorus," said Dunlap, "but we need more balance and dependability. We urge any residents of the college district who desire to participate in the chorus to enroll. This is a musical opportunity which may not present itself again."

Sees Community College In Every Area of State

A prediction that every county and every area in Michigan will have a community college within the next 10 years was made to the Michigan Council of Community College Administrators by Dr. Ferris Crawford, assistant superintendent of Public Instruction, at the annual meeting in Lansing.

Presidents and board chairman from each of the state's 22 community college districts attended the one-day session in the Jack Tar Hotel.

"The last year has seen 21 per cent of the enrollment in higher education in community colleges," said Dr. Crawford. "It saw the organization of four new colleges, making a total of 22 in the state."

"More than that there are two additional districts approved by voters and six more districts are studying proposals for community colleges."

"I predict that within another 10 years, we will see community colleges in every section of the state."

Dean James Browning, Council president from Port Huron Community College, told of the rise of the community colleges from one in 1914 in Grand Rapids to the 22 in operation today.

"We have a total of 47,503 students enrolled in our community colleges today," he said. "This total will climb to 60,000 in another year and the sky is the limit from then on since colleges are springing up in communities throughout the state."

"The community college gives all desiring a chance for higher education and more and more students are realizing this and taking steps to organize college districts."

"Our council is planning to ask the current state legislature for $12 million to match the amount now held by community colleges so that we can expand as rapidly as possible to take care of demands for more and more education."

Browning, told of the new eight-man community college board, created by the new State Constitution, which is expected to be named in the near future.

The highspot of the program was the presentation of a distinguished service award to Dr. Max Smith, of Michigan State University, who has been co-operating with community colleges throughout the state in helping solve problems.

The presentation was made by Stanley Van Lare, director of the Alpena Community College.

Schoolcraft College was represented by President Dr. Eric Bradner and Board Chairman

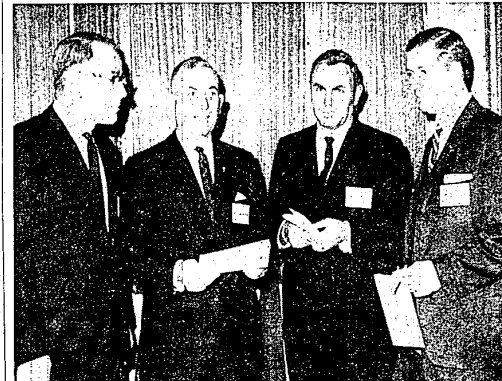

Harold Fischer. Oakland Community College, which has selected a site in Farmington Township for one of its three branches, was represented by President John Tirrell and Board Chairman George Mosher.

Members of the Michigan Council are: Jackson County Community College, Muskegon County Community College, Schoolcraft College, Port Huron Junior College, Monroe County Community College, Delta College, Flint Community Junior College, Grand Rapids Junior College, Ingham County Community College, Cass County Community College, Highland Park College, Lake Michigan College, Henry

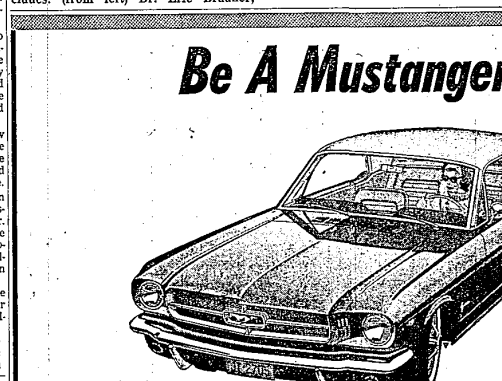

Ford Community College, Bay de Noc Community College, North Central Michigan College, Gogebic Community College, Northwestern Michigan College, Oakland Community College, Macomb County Community College, Alpena Community College, Kellogg Community College and Washtenaw Community College.

president of Schoolcraft College; Harold Fischer, chairman of the Schoolcraft Board of Trustees; George Mosher, chairman of the Oakland Community College Board; and John Tirrell, president of Oakland CC.
