Girl Scout Notes

Three hundred and fifty adult Girl Scouts gathered at Pierce Junior High on Jan. 23, to help their annual Pot Luck Dinner. This is a fun and "get acquainted" night for those involved in girl scouting.

Guests included: Marjorie Manning, executive director of Metropolitan Detroit; Nettie Wilson, council president; Priscilla Hoehle, field supervisor; Mrs. Robert Keene, council treasurer; Mary Lou Shadle, district advisor; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rzepka and Irene Renshaw.

Theme for the evening was Western with many of those in attendance dressed as cowboys, pioneer women, old prospectors and Indians. The Indians from the Keder Neighborhood included Mr. and Mrs. Sid Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Don Stoddard.

Following the meal a period of community singing was led by Mrs. Stanley Hughes, Mrs. Ronald Tanguay, Virginia Cheney and Mrs. Ricky Sammit.

The Dry Gulch Players presented a pantomime "Dangers Dan McGrew." Those taking part were: Dan, Betty Johns; Lou, Mrs. William Harless; Stranger, Mrs. Robert Mandeville; Piano Player, Mrs. Frank Maier; Dancers, Mrs. Donald Dearth and Mrs. Joseph Valle; Bartender, Mrs. Earl Davis; Moderator, Sue Milano; Sound, Mrs. Dexter Beadle; Scenery and Light decorations, Mrs. Lewy Parish and her committee.

The Rzepkas taught and called square dances.

The Fisher Neighborhood, headed by Sue Milano, handled all arrangements.

PROUD PARENTS INDEED are Ed and Jean Eickhoff of Pearridge, West Franklin Estates. Daughter Anne will receive her wings on Wednesday, Feb. 3, Traveling to Chicago via United Air Lines for the BIG DAY will be the Eickhoffs. They are proud parents of a daughter who is a member of the O'Hare Field at the training school for stewardesses. Incidentally, Ed and Jean are Chicago residents for years before moving to this area. Fortunately for all their friends they prefer this locale.

SHANTY CREEK LODGE at Bell-Aire, Mich., was where Grace and Fred Bowman stayed for an enjoyable vacation of skiing, dancing, and other fun activities. Accompanying them on the skiing trip were Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Hooper of Bloomfield Hills.

A VALENTINE DANCE will be enjoyed by residents of Lincolnshire Subdivision on Feb. 12 at the Armenian Cultural Center at 9 Mile and Southfield.

HARRY KELCH, president of Lincolnshire Estates Civic Association announces that there will be a meeting of officers and trustees on Wednesday, Feb. 3 at 8:30 sharp at his home on Glencastle.

PUBLICITY CHAIRMAN Jane Clark for Lincolnshire Estates is really on the ball. Always has her copy in, in plenty of time. It is so helpful to editors if the chairman would do this and gives us more of a chance to get your notices in.

A WELCOME ADDITION to Farmington is St. Gerald's Parish on Farmington Road. Father James P. O'Fagan was formerly assistant at St. Joseph's in Trenton. Already the altar guild is humming with plans for future events. They met in the hall of the church the other evening for the first time. Their first party will be a George Washington and party. It will be Feb. 24; details later. Good luck to this new parish and all their new members.

IT'S JUNE IN JANUARY for those unquenchable garden lovers who are already looking ahead to summer days. Mid-Year District meeting of the Garden Clubbers was held on Wednesday at the Women's Club. Following luncheon there was a program entitled "How To" featuring the arrangements of the Ikenhoe School both traditional and modern by Mary C. Takahashi of New York City.

AMONG THE garden lovers attending were Mrs. W. P. Gabelle, Mrs. Robert Whiteford, Mrs. Edward Rosinski, Mrs. Kenneth Trember, Mrs. Richard Steiger, Mrs. Thomas Simmons, Mrs. Eldon Eicher, Mrs. Lester MacLean, Mrs. George Reimold, Mrs. John King.

A Busy Mother Takes Time Out To Write Book

Peggy McNamee, who is heading the Farmington League of Voters "Know Your Town" survey, comes to this task with excellent qualifications. A graduate of Northwestern University, she got her Master's Degree in Education from Wayne State University.

Peggy came here in 1961, after teaching high school in Colorado Springs, Colorado, and elementary school in Wyandotte.

Peggy says she has had excellent cooperation from others in the League, and from local officials as well.

But there have been headaches as well: "My two little boys think the typewriter and the stacks of type copy have been made just for them."

"We've had a few frantic moments when the baby has disappeared with an important piece of copy, and later we find it very carefully placed in the waste paper basket."

"So, I work at night or during baby's nap time. But this isn't always possible, because the people I want to work aren't always around when Steven is asleep."

"My committee members all know Steven. He's the one who nervously cries when I'm on the phone. One time I was talking to Helen Overhardt, and my two started fighting, and her two were having problems, too. So we ended up shouting over the phone."

Husband Vern is Peggy's "booster upper" when deadlines look impossible. He helps out with charts and drawings, and, most important, he tries to keep the boys quiet for a few hours when things are really stacked up.

The "Know Your Town" booklet will go on sale April 5, to coincide with the April election.

Vagnozzi Urges Parties Debate On Dem's Role

Farmington Democratic leader Aldo Vagnozzi has challenged his Republican counterpart or any one the Republican township officials may designate to debate the role and contributions the Democratic party has made to the Farmington community.

Vagnozzi said such a debate would clear up the many "false insinuations" contained in a statement issued last week by the Farmington township Republican leader.

Holdup Man Placed on Probation

On the afternoon of Sept. 21, Robert Prince, 31, of White Lake Township, entered the Farmington Township branch of the National Bank of Detroit—unarmed.

He handed the teller a note, demanding $10,000 in large bills. The teller said there were none. Prince ran out, and drove away.

Responding to an alert from the Farmington Township Police, the State Police stopped him. Prince convinced them he was on his way to the dentist.

They let him go.

But Prince's story did not hold together. When he gave himself up to the Oakland County Sheriff that night, he was already on the wanted list.

An FBI investigation revealed that Prince was not a hardened criminal type. His past record was good. Federal Judge Thaddeus MacLeane let him bond at a mere $2,000. After studying the circumstances Judge MacLeane has just sentenced him to two years probation.

CHRISTMAS IN MIAMI turned out to be a colorful affair, according to Mrs. Charlotte Waskowski and her daughter, Deborah, of Stamm Circle. Mother and daughter have just returned home from a trip they made to visit Mrs. Waskowski's parents over the holidays. Her parents were not well enough to make the trip up here so Mrs. Waskowski and Deborah decided to bring them some of the holiday cheer, flew to their home in a suburb of Miami, Fla. It seemed strange to see Christmas lights among palm trees, gardenias in full bloom, and to enjoy swimming on Christmas Day. The holiday dinner remained the same, though, the traditional turkey and all the trimmings!

SANDRA DENISE is the name of the new baby girl of the Robert Schmeiders of Tremont. Sandra has two brothers, Ricky, 2, and Jimmy, 3.

HOPING THE COLD weather will last are Steven and Monika Scheff of Stamm Acres. Steven and Monika have just begun their skating on Sunday, the 11th. Steven and his three children, Angela, Steven and Andrew, will visit the Loben Scheffs, after dinner, Steven and Monika are going to take their guests skating!

GOOD NEWS IS THAT the Pickering family who suffered a fire in their nice new home on Bentley are now ready to move back into their refurbished home within the next two weeks. Daughter Sandy Williams also has a new home at 14752 Norman in Livonia. Believe it or not, the family cat who was so overcome by smoke that she had to have her lungs pumped out with artificial respiration, is actually named Smoky.

RICHLY DESERVED is the honor bestowed on Farmington's librarian, Mildred Droegge. Anyone who has ever visited the library is impressed by her helpfulness and her prodigious memory. Readers are often surprised to find that she has sent away for a book not immediately available or ordered a new one by their favorite author.

FOLK SONGS were sung at the Jan. 29 luncheon for the Detroit Business Men's Club at the Masonic Auditorium at the Highland Park Branch. Cathy Crawford of Farmington will be the soloist, accompanying her on the guitar will be Adana Helgeline, also of Farmington.

The University of Detroit Placement Bureau places U. of D. students in full and part-time jobs throughout the year. The Bureau is helpful in finding positions for graduate students and alumni as well.
