Sailfish, Prize Of Vacationers

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McDowell of Baintree Rd. in Farmington Township took the long way home from their sojourn in Mexico. Their son, John McDowell III, married Deanna Durbin, daughter of the Jo Durbin of Dallas, Texas.

MRS. T. W. POSTEMA (left) of Traverse City admires the 8 1/2 lb. sailfish caught by (right) Mrs. J. G. McDowell of Farmington Township. Mr. and Mrs. McDowell recently returned from a vacation trip to Acapulco, Mexico.

On an impulse they flew to Mexico City, stayed there two days, then took a bus to the ancient city of Taxco, and entered another world. Taxco goes straight up nearly 200 miles of cobblestone road up a mountain. The city has remained unchanged for 300 years. There is no guard rail on the steep descent and they held their breath as they started out by bus for Acapulco, Mexico.

Las Hamacas was the name of their fabulous resort. With the climate at 85 they began to enjoy a tropical vacation of swimming, sight seeing, siestas during the afternoon and dinner at nine at night.

Mrs. McDowell caught a sailfish, 8 1/2 foot long, on her second day. Mr. McDowell granted her the laurels, was content with a dolphin he caught. There was a veritable shoppers paradise. It whatever you saw on the rack was not in your size, native seamstresses would have it sewed for you within a day. Hand-printed Mexican sports clothes, hand-carved chess sets, jewelry, plus an adorable hand-made Mexican dress for their grand-daughter were some of the mementoes of their trip.

It will be a long time, though before they forget an experience in Taxco. A native woman in the old village insisted they visit her home. It proved to be primitive in the extreme with only the rudiments of living, in two tiny rooms. She led them to an enclosure in the wall and proudly brought forth a basket. They held their breath while she showed them its contents. There, in a heap were scores of shot glasses.

Parents Without Partners To See Filmstrip Feb. 24

The Parents Without Partners group of Livonia will meet Feb. 24 at 8 p.m. at the Nativity Church for the regular monthly meeting.

A filmstrip "Members One of Another" will be shown. This filmstrip speaks to various aspects of personal relationships and seeks to explore a person's inner life. Its main emphasis is the importance of being honest with ourselves as well as with others, and of recognizing others as being persons.

Following the filmstrip a discussion will be led by The Rev. Thomas W. Estes, associate pastor of St. Paul Presbyterian Church of Livonia. The aim of the Parents without Partners Group is to provide an educational, social and cultural fellowship among persons who have similar problems, interests and needs in order to become more effective and mature parents in that dual role. Lectures are given by authorities in fields related to these problems, interests and needs. The lectures are complemented by group discussion, group therapy meetings and coordinated parent-child activities.

Fashion Capsule Seen At Elks Temple

The Elks of a Fashion Capsule on Thursday evening was really Key Murphy spoke to the group on easy to wear, easy to care clothing using a live model to demonstrate. Included in her talk, were tips on packing to avoid muss and fuss. A social hour followed the program. On Feb. 13th, the Annual Valentine party with smorgasbord supper and crowning of Girl Glamazon as King and Maxine Dethloff as Queen completed the gala evening. The club's new facilities have made room for larger groups and brought a relaxed atmosphere to the Vivians Social activities.
