

Comparative Digestibility of Food

Made with different Baking Powders

From a Series of Elaborate Chemical Tests:

An equal quantity of bread (biscuit) was made with each of three different kinds of baking powder—cream of tartar, phosphate, and alum—and submitted separately to the action of the digestive fluid, each for the same length of time.

The relative percentage of the food digested is shown as follows:

Bread made with Royal Cream of Tartar Powder:

100 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with phosphate powder:

68 1/4 Per Cent. Digested

Bread made with alum powder:

67 1/2 Per Cent. Digested

These tests, which are absolutely reliable and unprejudiced, make plain a fact of great importance to everyone: Food raised with Royal, a cream of tartar Baking Powder is shown to be entirely digestible, while the alum and phosphate powders are found to largely retard the digestion of the food made from them.

Undigested food is not only wasted food, but it is the source of very many bodily ailments.

The trip proved too much for him and his limb, which was healed, broke out again so that he will now be several weeks longer in getting well and will suffer a delay in getting back to his work that he is anxious to commence again.

Mrs. Anna Dingman, whose death was mentioned in last week's paper, was the daughter of Wm. and Mary McDermott and was born in Southfield, Oakland county, Michigan, August 22, 1844.

She was a member of the Catholic faith from the earliest childhood and was well known and loved in the community where she was born, having taught school in different districts for a number of years.

In December, 1868, she was united in marriage to Ezekiel Dingman. To them were born two sons, William H. of Northville and Charles H. of Owosso, who with the bereaved husband and an adopted daughter, Julia, of Du Rand, are left to mourn the loss of a pure and faithful wife and loving mother. She also leaves three brothers, William and Frank of Farmington and Hugh of Redford, and two sisters, Mrs. E. M. McHugh of Featon and Mrs. V. G. Lockwood of Clarenceville.

To know Mrs. Dingman was to love and respect her and her loss is deeply felt in the neighborhood where she lived and heartfelt sympathy is extended to the family.

As a loyal member of the W. R. C. she was a staunch friend of all the old comrades. She had been a great sufferer for the past five years, but bore all with great patience and had a cheerful word and smile at all times for those around her and her blessed influence and words have given courage to more than one in times of trouble. Our loss is her gain for we feel assured that heaven's gates were opened wide to receive her pure soul to life eternal.

The funeral was held at her home in Northville, Rev. Dowdle of Milford officiating and her remains were laid to rest in North Farmington cemetery.

J. H. Conat, Photographer, will be in Farmington every Monday during May, June and July. Make appointments at J. R. Walters' cigar store.

COW NOT ALWAYS LADYLIKE

One Editor Who Will Not Follow the Wisconsin Dairyman's Advice.

"Treat the cow as a lady," is the advice of a distinguished Wisconsin dairyman, the Kansas City Star remarks. Elmer Peterson, editor of the Cinnaron Jacksonian, replies: "We own a cow, so this advice is very interesting. When we go to water her she lunges at the bucket and worries it all over the lot. When we bring her dainty ripart of corn chop and bran, it takes expert manipulation to get by and shove the feed into the manger, without being trampled to death or kicked through the side of her bonnet. When we milk in the summer she seems to have the idea that all the flies are on our face and obligingly tries to switch them off. In the winter, when there are no flies, she swats us in the eye from force of habit. Every once in a while she gracefully sidesteps and stands on our foot. If the gentleman from Wisconsin means people should not be cruel to the cow, we are with him, but we maintain that no true lady will act like a cow, and as long as our cow acts like she does we'll be blamed if we'll treat her like a lady."

SHERIFFS' ADJECTIVES.

The sheriff's office has accomplished much good. I cannot give you a resume of all the work it has done, but it is not a grasping, non-heeding, self-seeking, avaricious, despoiling, aggrandizing, Robin Hood, piratical crew, but a humanizing, whole-souled manhood of men whose red blood beats in unison to help mankind in general and bring about a government state of affairs as peace officers. Riotous proceedings are things of the past. Estopping anarchistic sentiments, incubating and inculcating American ideas, preventing seditious expressions, bottling up the nihilist, bomb throwers, explosive, hot-headed, sabotage clubbers, fire inflammers, self-feeding agitators, non-citizens of revolutionary tendencies, Bastilles, a conglomerate of misconceptions is a part of our daily work.—Sheriff Harburg of New York, in After-Dinner Address.

WILLING TO OBLIGE.

Lawyer—We want you to be willing to waive immunity in this case. Witness—All right; hand the old rag here. I'll waive anything to oblige you.

LIVED THROUGH IT.

"I gave you a big piece of cake only yesterday, and—"

"Don't apologize, ma'am; don't apologize; I don't hold no hard feelings."

For Sale—Yellow Dend Seed, Corn, 92 per cent germination, $1.00 per crate. Harry N. McCracken, 3017.

For Sale—35 yards of Wilton velvet carpet and pair of drapes, used only one year. Colors, brown and green. M. R. Wilber, 26W4P.

FOLEY'S ORINO LAXATIVE
FOR STOMACH TROUBLE AND CONSTIPATION

MOST RARE.

"What sort of fellow is Whistle?"

"He's the kind of man you can't help but admire."

"Well, give me some idea of his character."

"For instance, he can go to a theater with a friend to see a play he has already seen in New York, yet he never says how much better it was done by the same company in New York."

WHAT A CHANCE!

Eastern Senator—I see that Queenland is estimated to have 40,000,000 acres of forests as yet unexplored and unreserved.

Western Senator—Say, what's the matter with those politicians over there? Are they deaf, dumb and blind?

THE REASON.

"Pa, why are torrents raging?"

"I suppose, they are like people and are raging because somebody is trying to cross them."

ITS NATURAL CONDITION.

"The highest thing in the world has a streak of yellow in it."

"What is that?"

"The rainbow."

DID THE BEST HE COULD.

"All I demand for my client," demanded the prisoner's counsel in the voice of a man who was paid for it, "is justice."

"I am very sorry I can't accommodate you," replied the judge, "but the law won't allow me to give him more than fourteen years."—Str. Stories.

For Sale—Four tons of hay. Equine of Clarence Utley, Farmington. 30W2Y.

Studebaker

"That's the sixth Studebaker we've passed—the only kind to invest in"

"The only kind—because, as I always say, when a man puts money in a thing he wants to know that he's going to get the worth of it out again."

"That's plain business as I look at it."

"That's why I say the price doesn't tell you anything at all. There's only one thing that talks—except the wagon itself. That's the name of the maker."

"When you buy a Studebaker you're buying a vehicle that has behind it and in it sixty years of experience—sixty years of success—and sixty years of reputation for the square deal. That's why a Studebaker always looks good to me."

"My father used to say that Studebaker honor was as sure as a United States bank note. He was talking after having used Studebaker vehicles since he was a lad, and he told me his father before him said, 'Be sure—get a Studebaker.'"

"Vehicle builders can't hold that sort of reputation now-a-days without delivering the goods. A Studebaker wagon has the best in it. That's why a man gets the most out of it—why it's always an economy."

"Dealers may say to you something else is just as good." But when you buy a Studebaker, you're making a safe investment every time."
