Livonia Mall
Plans Tribute
To Mothers

Sixty working mothers—key women employees in Livonia city government and sales personnel in stores and services at Livonia Mall Shopping Center—will be honored guests at a Mother's Day Recognition luncheon at the shopping center on Friday (May 7).

The luncheon is being given by the Livonia Mall Merchants Association to honor mothers who work in the Mall's Community Auditorium from noon to 1 p.m.

Marion Young, president of the Merchants Association, said, "These women have been singled out because they play such a demanding role in our society today. Guiding families, raising children and at the same time, fulfilling key roles in government and commerce."

Twenty of the guests will represent different departments of City of Livonia government and the remaining ladies will each represent a different store or service located at Livonia Mall Shopping Center, Middlebelt and West Seven Mile Road.

The auditorium, located near the G lot entrance to the enclosed Mall, at Middlebelt and Seven Mile Road, will be available for daytime and evening rentals every day, according to Center General Manager Robert Poris.

The auditorium is fully heated and air-conditioned, said Poris, "and offers controlled lighting and a built-in public address system."

"In the near future," Poris said, "we propose to add a portable stage and a screen for showing motion pictures."

"Livonia," said Poris, "with its continuing, rapid development and the increasing pace of its cultural, civic and social activities is well able to take advantage of a facility such as this auditorium. We are already
