better maintenance of the ball park and permission to place a stand furnished by Pepsi Cola at the Park.

The meeting between the Council and the Baseball people was very amicable. Klueferschmidt, while urging the Council to act on their suggestions, conceded that the request was somewhat belated. And the Council for its part assured him that it would seriously study the suggestions, and do its best to meet the needs.

Mrs. Klueferschmidt described the Park, at night, as a banquet for vandals. These vandals are, of course, great difficulty with respect to any of the planned improvements. City Manager John Dinan stated that his proposed re-zoning of the park will help to correct this.

In a related matter, the Council received a letter from the Farmington Junior Chamber of Commerce, indicating its intention of donating three bleacher sections to be erected at the ball field.

WILBUR V. BROTHERTON (left) national sales manager for Simca, is congratulated on his election as the new mayor of Farmington, by A. R. Marzelli, Director of Simca Sales, Chrysler Motors Corporation. Detroit Simca staff executives presented Mayor Brotherton with a plaque commemorating his five-year term of office at a luncheon meeting. A member of the Farmington City Council for 7 years, he lives with his wife and two children at 23622 Beacon Drive. Besides his official duties, Mr. Brotherton also is active in community affairs.

PTA Council Hold Meeting

The Farmington Area PTA will hold its last meeting of the year at Farmington Junior High, on May 19. It will be an important one. New officers will be installed and the winners of our scholarships will be announced.

The new officers, to be installed at this meeting, are: Mrs. L. F. McGros, Cloverdale School; Vice President, Robert Johnson, Farmington Junior High School; Corresponding Secretary, William Hult, Eagle School; Treasurer, William Rupp, Woodale School; Historian, Sam Bogdan, Oak Hill School.

A report on the annual Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers is also on the agenda. Council President Aldo Vajnozzi is urging Council members, and the general public, to attend the annual District Workshop, at Bentley High School, 2325 Catalpa Drive, on May 20, at 7:30 p.m.

McGaw Works On Viet Forum

Rich McGaw, a junior at Albion College, is one of 16 students working on arrangements for the College's 14th annual Freedom Forum, which will be held on the campus on May 26. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alistair McGaw, of 38700 Glenview, in Farmington.

The subject of this year's forum will be "Vietnam: Where Are We Headed?" Two United States Senators—Gale McGee (Dem.) of Wyoming and Ernest Gruening (Dem.) of Alaska—will participate.

Former Mayor

pressed such interest during the campaign.

Lindbert did comment, though, that amercement must come under a slowly progressive program. "It must be easier to get that way with a more aggressive, two ambitious plan," he said.

He had high praise for certain public officials and Farmington Jaycees, and said: "I hope and pray that you can keep men like Dinan (City Manager), Dinech (Mayor) and Maurice Foltz (Director of Public Safety)."

"Foltz is probably the greatest thing that has ever happened to the Public Safety Department," he said.

He also mentioned the Jaycees for 10 years, praised the organization's "tremendous contributions to the community and to the kids."

He remembers last fall's Rex Cawley celebrations with enthusiasm. "It was a wonderful example of a program that could bring the city and township together, for both the city and the township are proud of Rex. That day was a tremendous impact on the community; it left a good image of Farmington."

He praised the efforts of outgoing Councilman Henry Forrest in coordinating the various aspects of the fair at the New York World's Fair, and it will feature many soloists and instrumentalists in addition to the other choirs.

The following Wednesday, May 12, at 8 p.m., the Cadet and Concert bands will present their spring concert. The program will feature a novelty number, "The Peck-Horn's Revenge," with the entire French horn section soloists.

Robert Lindbert is a man of great urbanity. His gentlemanly conduct carried over into his position as mayor of Farmington. "I never harassed a man in public, although I did have many violent disagreements with many public officials," he recalls.

A solidly built man of 48, he is an avid sportsman. He is a member of the Detroit Tigers, Farmington Little League baseball sponsor; a hunter (every spare minute), a fisherman (at Big Bear Lake in Lewistown, Michigan); and this year is president of the Huron River Hunting and Fishing Club, which he knows near as the "Hunt 'n' Grunt" Club.

While he belittles his skiing ability—"I'll never become a professional skier," he says—he does have quite a talent for playing the saxophone. Today, he is the musical director of the orchestra at his Osego Ski Club, with Pat Flowers at Farmington's Danish Inn, or with the group at Porcupine Mountain.

Lindbert lives at 23701 Wilmarth in Farmington, and has two married children residing in Farmington: Tom, 26 years old, and Judy, 24. His youngest daughter, Bobby Jean, is 16 years old and still in school.

He is a Michigan citizen and enjoys extra dry martinis before dinner.

He assured this reporter that he would be "down to the council meetings—like an old horse always running to the fire."

Cub Scouts Get Awards at Bond

Cubmaster, Bob Murray, opened the monthly meeting of Pack 46 at Bond School by calling on Den 7 to present the flag ceremony. Following this, a number of awards were presented.

Webelos badges went to William Scheffer, Bob Murray, Allan Ackwyd, Frank Mitchell, Eugene Dohlgren, and Heck, and Denner stripes to Dave and Rick Sandquist. Dave Schauer received his 1 year pin, and Terry Suetterlin the Bob Cat pin.

Chris Breneman, a Wolf badge and gold arrow for Wolf; William Rogers, a silver arrow for Wolf; Doug Wilbur, 2 silver arrows for Wolf; Bill Clyde, a Wolf badge and gold and silver arrow for Wolf; Bob Warner, Wolf badge and gold and silver arrow for Wolf; Jim Agello, silver arrow for Wolf; Mike Majewski, 2 silver arrows for Wolf and Denner stripe; Dave Kargels, Wolf badge and gold arrow for Wolf and Asst. Denner stripe.

Randy and Roger Newlin, Jeff Leighton and Charles Kaperanos all received a silver arrow for Wolf. Mark Vanden and Steve Kalman got their Denner stripe, and Mark Reynolds his Asst. Denner stripe. Den 8 entertained with its skit depicting the theme of "green thumb."

Treasurer, Dick Suetterlin, discussed the plans and rules for the Pinewood Derby which is to take place in May. The highlight of the evening was the fashioning of Easter bunnies by the cubs, and a number of their mothers wearing their "originals."

I might add that for the absent mothers, some of the daddies made lovely models! Den 1 closed the meeting with a campfire singing of taps.

Students Give OK to Officials At Kiwanis Club

The Kiwanis Club of Farmington hosted the city's governmental officials and their organizational counterparts at the organization's recent meeting.

In the course of the meeting, the students expressed approval with the way the city government is being run.

Author Wins WSU Award

Lawrence Auerheide of 2705 M 140 d l e b e l t, in Farmington Township, graduate student at Wayne State University, is one of eight Wayne students to be named winners of the 1965 WSU Frank G. Tompkins Award for Creative Writing. Auerheide was awarded $25 for his story, "And This Our Life."

Other winners of the contest were Joyce Carol Oates, a novelist on the faculty of the University of Detroit; Mrs. Sheila Fritch and poet; and Seymour Riklin, coordinator of special projects at the University Center for Adult Education.

The primary purpose of the study, said County Superintendent William J. Emerson, are to provide information from which a plan can be developed for technical-orientation of education in the Oakland area and the implementation of the plan.

"In order to meet the intent and purpose of state and federal programs, the programs and facilities must be based on one, two, or three-acre sites.

Inspectors

Information available to us, the salaries we pay compare favorably with those paid by like municipalities.

"We don't attempt to compete with Detroit and other large municipalities, in salaries. But if our inspectors can substantiate that they are underpaid, I'm sure the Board will consider raising them into a competitive position."

Farmington Explorer Goes to Great Lakes

Brad Brogren, a student at North Farmington High School, is one of seven local Explorers from the Clinton Valley Council Boy Scouts of America, elected as delegates to the Region Eleven Explorer Delegates Conference. The Conference, a biennial affair, was held April 30 through May 2, at Great Lakes Naval Training Station.

The seven are part of a group that totals a little less than 1,500 from 80 Councils in Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin, as well as Michigan.

The purpose of the Conference is to coordinate programs and events on a regional basis. At the same time it offers a training experience for Explorers in new techniques and programs.

upon present and future needs of these persons and the total community rather than upon existing district lines, school organization or presently existing facilities and programs."

Surveys also will be made to determine the current and projected employment needs of area business and industries.

In addition to Soule, the study group which will analyze the information by the end of July will consist of one or more staff members from each school district and citizen committees to be nominated by school superintendents.
