

Plans Set for Memorial Parade

Livonia's 13th annual Memorial Day Parade on May 30 will be far from its unexcited. In fact, Nick Istrow, who is this year's Parade Marshal, predicted to The Observer this week that the 1965 parade will be the community's largest. The Plymouth Road route of the event will resound with music and be ablaze with color from more than half a dozen drum-and-bugle corps, high school bands, and colorful floats from community organizations. Billie S. Farnum, 18th District Congresswoman, will be the guest speaker at the parade, and city officials will occupy places of honor.

First Anniversary, Golden Age Club

Anyone who thinks the Golden Age Club is just a club in the past would have been in for a quick change of opinion if he had attended their first anniversary party Wednesday, May 5. It was a fun thing from the first moment the guests entered the beautiful Japanese motif home of the Wittwers on Peppermill. Mrs. Wittwer's mother, Mrs. Mabel Burgess was hostess of the day and had arranged for a buffet luncheon (pot luck) singing, and dancing and games for which prettily wrapped packages were awarded as prizes.

Auxiliary members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, who provide transportation to and from meetings for the members were the honored guests of the day. Corsages were presented to them, along with a vote of thanks from the members.

The Pioneer Golden Age Club of Farmington was organized May 10, 1964 with 10 charter members. Today they have a well-functioning club with both men and women members, and have been accepted into the National Council of Senior Citizens. Mrs. Eva Ross and Mrs. Mabel Burgess are the club delegates to the Convention of Senior Citizens in Washington and are eagerly looking forward to the event which will be given a kick-off with a breakfast at the Statler Hilton.

Members of the club were delighted to receive Governor Romney's congratulations to all

Scholar In Science

"Charlotte Yiu, Madonna College senior, has been awarded a teaching assistantship at Vassar College," announced Sister M. Joela, CSSF, chemistry professor at Madonna.

CHARLOTTE YIU

As a teaching assistant Charlotte will be granted a tuition-free opportunity to take courses toward her Master's degree in Science. In addition, she will be granted an annual stipend of $2,000. Her work will consist of taking courses, assisting in lab supervision, checking papers, and preparing some of the lab experiments for classes.

When Professor Richard W. Vassar notified Charlotte of the grant, she said that she was very happy in being given "this opportunity to become better prepared for the field of research."

Charlotte had arrived at Madonna four years ago from Hong Kong to take a full scholarship. She had previously completed her high school and college preparatory courses in the Maryknoll High School in Hong Kong. During her residence at Madonna she has maintained a high scholastic average. She has also been active in school extra and co-curricular activities, holding offices of vice-president of the Student Association, Sodality treasurer, and secretary of the Student Association.

Last summer Charlotte participated in a summer research program at Auburn University of Alabama. The program was given to selected students with the purpose of orienting them to the challenges of research.
