The Men's Club of St. Edith's Parish in Livonia will serve a spaghetti dinner on Sunday, June 13. The dinner will be served in the Church Hall (Newburg and Five Mile Rds.) from 9 to 5 p.m.

MRS. JOHN LADD EADIE

Betsy Belle Stowe Weds John L. Eadie

Betsy Belle Stowe was married June 6 to John Ladd Eadie. The bride's father, the Rev. Clayton H. Stowe, performed the double ring ceremony at the Addison (Michigan) United Congregational Church.

The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Clayton H. Stowe of Addison, while the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Eadie of Livonia.

The new Mrs. Eadie wore a floor length dress of white silk organza over taffeta with a cathedral train. The bodice was trimmed with Venice lace and had a Peter Pan collar and elbow length sleeves. A hand woven mantilla covered the bride's head.

She carried a cascade arrangement of three white cymbidium orchids with stephanotis, ivy and streamers.

Mrs. Alan Drago, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were: Mrs. Lawrence Bechler; Katherine Ballard; and Joan Brown. They wore light blue, floor-length gowns and carried gladiolus bouquets. The bridesmaid carried pink flowers, while the bride carried a bouquet of carnations and yellow flowers.

R. Frank Eadie served as his bride's best man. Seated the guests were: Thomas Eadie; Peter Jones; and Leonard Weinstein.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlors.

Following a wedding trip to northern Michigan, the couple will reside in Ann Arbor.

The bride is a junior at the University of Michigan, while her husband is currently doing graduate work at the U. of M. He is a graduate of both Betsy High School and U. of M.

BY JERRY WENDT

One of the most remarkable women in Farmington is Mrs. Margaret Sifer-Lancaster. Founder of the Lancaster School of Speech in September, 1903, Mrs. Lancaster is still graduating classes at an age when most women would have been long retired.

Mrs. Lancaster celebrated her 84th birthday this Easter and on May 23 she graduated another class. With a long and distinguished background like hers, coupled with a genuine love of her work, it is easy to see, why to Mrs. Lancaster, retirement is simply a word in the dictionary.

Mrs. Lancaster began her studies at the age of 14. She was born at Bunker Hill, Illinois, and her first teacher was the Episcopal minister's wife who had taught in the schools of Los Angeles. At 16, she had a class of eight, and as the minister and his wife moved away, she studied under a State's attorney, who lived in her home town. He happened to be an avid fan of De Wolfe, forger who he considered to have the most perfect diction in America. He persuaded De Wolfe to make his famous recording of "Cissy at the Ball" which has been a bible for all speech students ever since. (Editors note—this recording is still played on Today—and is still used for speech study).

Mrs. Lancaster continued giving lessons, and public recitals, and helped earn money for her college education. She also attended a private military academy in her hometown where they accepted local day students. She had instruction from the president, who was a minister and public speaker. It was here she and the man who seven years later became her husband.

Next she attended Marion Normal College and School of Law and Expression at Marion, Ind., where she graduated and post-graduated. She was made assistant teacher of speech and orthography and received her Bachelor's Degree in Oratory at this college.

Since then she has taught in grade and high schools in Illinois and six years in Texas. Also, in the home of Ursuline Sisters, at St. Patrick's Parochial grade school at Alton, Illinois, where she had students from many surrounding towns.

The Lancasters moved to Farmington 21 years ago and during that time a goodly number of persons received lessons

Shopping Around ... by Penny Wyse

GREATEST THING since safety pins are a new little gimmick on the market called "ice balls." They are just as simple as their name.

They are round, colorful plastic balls filled with some kind of liquid-freeze liquid. They are to be kept in the freezer and used just as you would ice cubes.

The beauty of this "ice balls" however, is they will not dilute drinks, are reusable, and may even be used in milk—his love 'em.

Drinks are chilled in seconds and the "ice balls" may be used over and over. They last indefinitely.

Another happy thing about this item is they are being sold by a Boy Scout troop. The proceeds from their sale is going toward a trip this summer to Camp Wilderness.

To order these gay little party items "ice balls" call John Tripp, 427-8688, 8000 MacIntyre, Livonia. He will see a set of 12 or more is delivered promptly to you. The "ice balls" sell for one dollar per box and will make you the talk of your block with a feather in your hostess hat.

16 Baptized

Sixteen persons, from infant to teen age, were baptized last Sunday at the Lutheran Church of the Risen Christ. The special Baptismal Service was conducted at the 11 a.m. service at the church on Ann Arbor Trail.
