

Moonlight Cruise Planned By GOP

Republicans have announced plans for their fifth annual moonlight cruise to Bob-Lo on Thursday, August 12. The affair has been a smashing success every year, and this year the committee expects to outdo it all once again.

Co-Chairman Milton Kolarov of Wayne and Fred C. Adams of Highland Park, say the boat will leave the Bob-Lo pier at the foot of Woodward at 8:30 p.m., returning around midnight. The minimal $2 per person charge will give the pleasure-seeker free entertainment and dancing and a chance to rub elbows with leading Republicans from all over the State as well as rank-and-file workers from the tri-county area.

Co-chairmen Kolarov and Adams also announced that tickets for the cruise can be obtained from any of the following areas: Garden City, Nankin Township, Mrs. Bev Fortin 676-5855; or Billie Brown, 225-4520; North: Detroit (17th District); Mrs. Marjorie McDaniels, BR 2-4450; or Mrs. Margaret Van

MRS. ALLEN MICHAEL GREENSTEIN

Rader-Greenstein Ceremony July 8

Donna Cheryl Rader and Allen Michael Greenstein were married July 8 at a candlelight ceremony at Temple Israel.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Rader of Farmington, while parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Greenstein of Detroit.

Lynn Rader was her sister's maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Barbara Schvartz, Sue Abrams, Denise Klein, Shelley Klein and Rhodine Kamini.

The bride wore a white peau de soie gown with a sabrina neckline, fitted bodice and a cummerbund of tiny seed pearls. Her shoulder-length illusion veil was of white silk.

The bridesmaids wore white silk line floor length gowns with rounded necklines and fitted cummerbunds of emerald green.

They carried green flowers. The maid of honor wore the same gown, only in green, and carried white flowers.

Dr. Martin Schwartz served as best man. Emil Klein and Louis Klein were the head ushers. Seating the guests were: Ronald Rader, Richard Rader, James Green, Howard Nelzer and Howard Lawton.

Following a honeymoon in Mexico, the newlyweds will reside in Oak Park.

The Fabric Bazaar on Farmington Rd.

The Fabric Bazaar, a unique fabric shop, located in the Kenn Loomis Building, 23384 Farmington Road, opened this week and invites you to come in and get acquainted with the manager, Mr. Salesko and the unusual selection of fabrics he carries.

Aimed to capture the imagination of the discriminating seamstress, the Fabric Bazaar specializes in designer dress fabrics of woolsens, coatings, knits, brocades, formal and bridal fabrics and an assortment of one-of-a-kind designer strike-offs.

Salesko has a dramatic fashion sense drawn from a background of 15 years experience in fashions by the yard and will be glad to help and advise you with your selection.

The Fabric Bazaar is a cozy little shop that offers an intimate and relaxed atmosphere for browsing or buying.

Whether you are interested in the dramatic, comfortable, or outstandingly elegant, the Fabric Bazaar can fulfill your needs. Stop in and browse around — at least see what's new!

ROBERT OF PARIS demonstrates Fashion Tress Wigs on model Jerry Drouillard while model Joan Harmonis observes. Both are wearing wigs—exact duplicates of their own hair.

Instant Hairdos Shown By Parisian

J. Wendt French hair is the best for wigs. Avoid Oriental hair because it will not take a set.

"How much should you invest for a really good wig that will last?" Around $185 complete is the cost. However, properly cleaned and set, this wig should last for 10 years.

I know of at least one letter Santa Claus will get this year asking for one of those, oh, so chic, wigs to be left under the tree!

Wigs go back as far as 4000 B.C. Today they are reaching a new peak. Formerly for people in theatrical professions or for those whom illness had made lose of hair, an unsightly spectacle, today they are a "must" for everyone.

Time saving is the number one feature. With a wig at hand, milady can go straight from a day of shopping, meetings, or household chores to an evening on the town and appear perfectly groomed in seconds.

The models came out with their own hair first, then in wigs just like their own hair and denied detection, as which was their own hair-do.

After the show, during a perfectly elegant repast of champagne and appetizers, we decided to ask Robert the questions which we felt most people would ask.

Very young, tall, dark, and with a French accent, Robert was pleasant and affable to interview. We decided to use ourselves as an example. "What should an average housewife, on a limited budget (could there be a more perfect description of your reporter) buy, when she can afford only one wig-do?"

Robert replied promptly, "A wig as nearly like her own hair in style and color as possible." "This could be kept coiffed and she could put it on at a moment's notice and always be well groomed for any occasion."

"Did he think the average career girl or housewife needed a wig?"

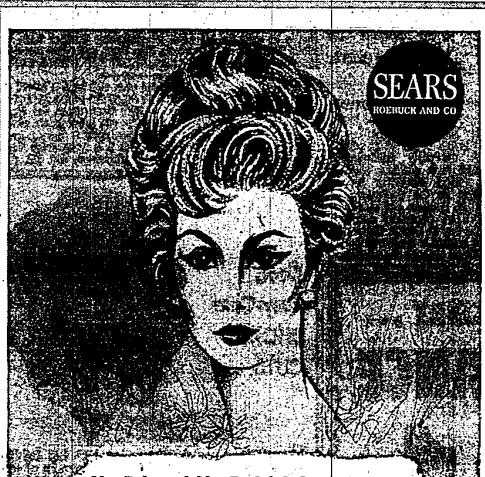

"Absolutely, no one has more demands made on her today than the American housewife or career girl."

Next question was where the buyer should go for her wig. Robert was very emphatic in this matter, "Your beauty parlor." "If you beauty parlor can style one for you in the mode most becoming. Robert went on to say that
