

AAUW of Farmington Grants Scholarships

The Farmington Branch of the American Association of University Women has sent a gift of $500 to its Fellowship Fund for International Awards. These awards are made to women of other countries to provide the advanced training for women of outstanding ability who may be expected to give constructive leadership in their home countries.

Fellowships Chairman, Mrs. Ozker, also announced that besides the gift of $500 to the Fellowship Fund for international awards, $250.00 has been given to the Fellowship Fund as undesignated funds, and a check for $24.50 has been given to the Farmington Library.

In making the announcement, the Fellowship Chairman, Mrs. M. Sacid Ozker (2881 Woodbrook, Farmington), said the award this year was named for Gwendolyn Constable Granger as a tribute to her interest in the Farmington Branch since its inception. Mrs. R. M. Granger (28810 Halsted Road, Farmington), a charter member is the past president of the Farmington Branch and the Farmington Branch of the AAUW.

Ask Hana (Questions on Hairstyles And Beauty)

(Questions on hair style and beauty will be answered through this column by addressing your letters to this newspaper. Letters do not have to be identified.)

One can scarcely believe that only a few short months ago mountains of snow enveloped and plagued us. And this too has passed; now summer is here in full splendor. The beauty of the sun's rays penetrating the foliage and blossoms are breathtaking. But in spite of its glories, this season has its shortcomings too.

As the greens need moisture and care to keep up their wondrous beauty — so do women need special attention to avoid the season's malaises such as dry skin, scalp and sun-streaked hair. Questions come to me every day concerning these common problems:

Today's woman can skillfully manage a household and an office or anything else she puts her mind to. She is capable of being a leader in the event of family or financial crisis, and of performing many tasks too numerous to mention — all in a day's work. She appears a true goddess in her walk — but she doesn't know why her hair is dry or why her nails are broken and brittle or why her skin is flaking.

If you are exposed to the sun for prolonged periods, try wearing a snappy hat that they're being made so attractive these days. If the damage is already done, there are several good hair conditioners available. But above all — do avoid further exposure.

As for your skin? Does it feel tight, itchy and dry? Then you must use a moisturizing lotion and not an oil. This will be soothing and relieve dryness, and generally makes you feel good all over.

It is obvious that summer, though it is much less obvious, but equally true — that the season's heat presents problems for your skin as well. Exposure to heat may arouse allergies in some sensitive individuals. If you have tried all of the available products, but have found them ineffective, then do consider a possible allergy. The Allergy Foundation estimates that over 50 million Americans suffer from some kind of food, drug, biological or chemical allergy. And believe it or not, brittle nails are many times indicative of an existing allergy.
