As we have said before, we think it's ridiculous that practicity for high school football teams is limited to just under three weeks in Michigan.

The press need much more time to get into shape—for football.

in that event as well. What makes Cawley run? According to Murphy, the reasons are two-fold. The one-time Peck's bad boy has matured, as Farmingtonics discovered in his return home in November, into a serious, socially conscious man. He believes that his participation in the State Department's cultural exchange program is a contribution to human understanding.
